NEW PHOENIX MARK POPPING UP ALL OVER

"The Phoenix Takes Flight" mark, introduced at Convention '78, is being utilized by Chapters all over . . . and in a lot of different ways. The mark is showing up on programs and in publications. The Colony at UNC-Charlotte had its own t-shirts produced, for example. The men of Alpha Nu, Westminster, have probably topped them all with the Phoenix going onto their house! And it is spotlighted, too, so that Alpha Sig spirit shows both day and night. Sue Kuhn, president of the Sigma Sweethearts (Little Sisters) of Alpha Nu climbed up for the photo. If your Chapter has used the mark, we'd like to know about it. If you have some ideas of how to utilize it, share them, too.

AUGUST 23 — 26, 1979 ARE NEC DATES

National Staff

And its time to start planning on a big delegation for the big Educational Conference. Gamma Chi, Indiana University, will play host and they are already at work making plans. The program will be under the direction of "Skip" Parks, former Chapter Consultant and now advisor to Greeks at Memphis State University. The Conference will be under the supervision of Grand Secretary Lou DeLuca.

EXPANSION PROGRAM PICKING UP STEAM

There is a new and hard-working pledge class in action at Tulane University, New Orleans as efforts get underway to reactivate Gamma Omicron Chapter there. Those guys must be doing something right — they have started a Little Sisters program that has double the number of members that the pledge class has! Gamma Omicron alumni are working hard to make the effort a success. The Grand Council has extended official recognition to a Colony at East Carolina University, Greenville, N. C. That group got underway when Ben Ball, a Wake Forest brother, transferred to ECU. If you know of any brother planning on transferring or entering graduate school, please let Headquarters know. Such moves open up opportunities for new Chapters. On some campuses alumni have established funds that can benefit a brother who works on expansion.

LOYALTY FUND DRIVE GETS UNDERWAY

Alumni contributions provide the backbone for the operation of Alpha Sigma Phi. This year's Loyalty Fund Drive is now underway and at last count more than 500 alumni had contributed over $8,000.00. Be sure to mention the campaign in your Chapter newsletter and encourage your alumni to take part.

INSURANCE INFORMATION BEING SOUGHT

Robert McDowell, a Gamma Chi alumnus, has been heading an effort to obtain information on a possible group insurance program for Alpha Sigma Phi that would provide coverage on houses and lodges at reduced costs. Questionnaires have gone to all Chapters. In order to determine if such a program is possible, every Chapter must respond. If you haven't filled out the questionnaire and provided the other information requested, do so right away. If you've misplaced the request, ask for another copy from headquarters.

HISTORICAL MATERIALS DISCOVERED

Grand Historian Dr. Frank Krebs reports that he has found the Civil War diary of Louis Manigault in the library of the University of North Carolina and has located correspondence from Manigault to his parents dating to our founder's pre-Yale days.

A PLUS POINT IN TALKING WITH PROSPECTS

Research results recently released show that 75% of the members of fraternities graduate on schedule which is significantly higher than for non-Greeks (about 40%). The three-year study, under the direction of the Texas College of Arts and Industries, involved 60 national fraternities.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE SENIORS OF ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Congratulations! You're on the home stretch of your college career. As you move into your senior year, there are some thoughts we'd like to share with you. This is an important time in your life, and we want to see you make the most of it.

Perhaps foremost in your mind is getting a good job. You may already be well into the business of writing your resume, contacting employers and taking interviews. We wish you all possible luck in this concern. Be sure to mention in your resume your experience as a Chapter member. Being part of an organized, self-governing group is generally seen as a plus by an interviewer. If you've been an officer, make special mention of that. Leadership and success will stack a lot in your favor.

To help you with your job search, Alpha Sigma Phi has for the past two years been creating a program of career development and placement. Brother Al Sternbergh, director of the program, has prepared a good handbook on how to prepare for, and deal with, moving from college to employment. You can receive a free copy by writing to the Headquarters and requesting it. The handbook gives guidance on selecting your career interests, preparing your resume, being interviewed, and more that relates to getting that first job or moving up to something better. Also available free upon request is the booklet "So You're Looking for a Job?". This is a professionally produced booklet that lets you practice some self-analysis, so you'll know more about yourself before you start explaining yourself to job interviewers.

The other thoughts we'd like to share have to do with the impact you have on your Chapter during your last undergraduate year. Seniors carry a lot of weight in the eyes of the underclassmen. The attitude you display will be a model for them. By being active this year with offices, committees and other Chapter activities, you can set the standard that will keep your Chapter growing and developing.

There have been occasions at some Chapters when "Senior Slump" did real damage to morale and operations; so, we felt a word of encouragement would be in order.

These are good times for our Fraternity. Have a good year. Enjoy it! Let us know if you'd like a copy of the Career Development Handbook or "So You're Looking for a Job?". And keep doing your part to uphold the tradition of quality that runs in Alpha Sigma Phi, please.

Best Wishes and Fraternal Regards,

Kevin J. Garvey
Executive Director

Richard A. Dexter
Grand Senior President

GRAND COUNCIL REPORTS ON ACTIVITIES

The A-S-P Corporation has new directors. They are GSP Rick Dexter, GJP Richard Gibbs and past GJP Alfred B. Wise . . . GT Richard Sanders is researching new fund-raising techniques for the Fraternity . . . GM Evin Varner represented the Fraternity at a special Wake Forest alumni event and is working on the reactivation effort at Tulane . . . The Council has voted to suspend the Charters of Tufts, Cincinnati and Wagner since these Chapters were not reaching minimum standards. Suspension allows the Chapters to continue to operate for two years to reach those standards. They do not, however, have a vote in Fraternity business during that period . . . The Council approved loans to the alumni corporations of Tri-State and Illinois . . . GSP Dexter attended a meeting of Tulane alumni and has been actively working to increase volunteer alumni involvement throughout the Fraternity. GC Peter Tourtellot continues to direct the expansion program of the Fraternity.

HELPFUL MATERIALS AVAILABLE

Just published for Chapter Advisors is a helpful handbook. Check with your advisors to see if they have received a copy. Check also to make sure your Pledge Educator has a copy of the teaching guide that goes along with To Better The Man. The guide is most useful in planning and carrying out a meaningful education program. Both the guide and the manual have received praise from other fraternities.

IRAC BULLETIN QUOTES TOMAHAWK

The publication of the Interfraternity Research and Advisory Council recently condensed the article on singing that appeared in a recent Tomahawk. IRAC is made up of the NIC, National PanHel and the National Professional Fraternity Association.

NAASP LOGO DESIGN CAN WIN $100

The Newsletter Association of Alpha Sigma Phi (NAASP), a self-help organization of Chapter newsletters, is seeking a logo design. Camera-ready art should be submitted by January 1, 1979 to: NAASP, 21800 Morley at Oakwood Blvd., Suite 207, Dearborn, Michigan 48124. The winning entry will earn the individual or Chapter a $100 prize. For more information, write to the same address.

POINTERS ON PRODUCING A RUSH PUBLICATION — by Tyler Cox, Wake Forest

You may ask, "Why a rush booklet?" The purpose of a rush booklet is to introduce a rushee to the men of your chapter and their activities. Booklet form is good because it gives the rushee something to read that he can keep and show to others.

Another advantage is the fact that the "power of the printed word" is convincing. Also, with a miniature composite inside, a rushee can learn the names of Brothers he meets.

Grand Council

Publications

At Wake Forest we found that delivering a rush booklet helps to "break the ice" between the rushee and the Brother. In other words, it gives you a chance to stop by a rushee's room, to get to know him better, to answer his questions, etc.

You're probably wondering about cost. Since cost will vary from printer to printer, check around and get several estimates if possible. A fourteen page booklet that is not professionally typeset with pages  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$  in size should cost about \$150 for 300 copies. A little fancier booklet that is typeset with 20 pages, each  $8\frac{1}{2} \times 11$  in size, should cost about \$350.

How do you construct a rush booklet? After you choose the number of pages you want, you need to write down what you want to say in the booklet. You should include a description of your social life, sports, traditions, history, service projects, and the like. You may want to include sections on academics, an open letter to rushees from the rush chairman, and a section on pledging and pledge education. The idea is to tell the reader in a few pages what it's like to be an Alpha Sig fraternity man. These are categories our chapter chose for our booklet — feel free to add or delete your own.

The next step is to illustrate what you've written. You'll need pictures. Pictures of parties, intramurals, dinners, the trip to the beach, car washes, beer blasts, your sweetheart, etc. Look through your scrapbook and find pictures of Alpha Sigs having fun. And if you can't find enough, try to "stage" some pictures for whatever you need. Glossy black and white pictures are best for reproduction, but color shots with good contrast can also be used.

When you have written your copy and have collected enough pictures, you lay out the booklet in a logical order of thinking. In other words, decide what goes on each page and in what sequence. Your printer should be able to help with this.

If you can afford typesetting, give the written copy to your printer. If not, type your copy on white paper, preferably on an IBM typewriter with a carbon ribbon. Show the printer where each picture goes and whether enlargement or reduction work will be necessary.

You may save some money if some of your Brothers offer to help the printer assemble, staple, package, etc. You have the manpower, so use it.

It should be stressed that a rush booklet alone is not a substitute for dedicated rush work on the part of every Brother in your chapter. But when added to a total rush effort, it should help you tremendously in getting quality pledges.

This has been a quick look at how to produce a rush booklet. If you have questions, please write either Evin Varner or me at Box 6538, Winston-Salem, N. C. 27109.

REPORTS FROM THE CHAPTERS

The Chapters

Beta Psi — With 39 live-in brothers (in two houses) Beta Psi has expanded its dining facilities; purchased a new furnace and added fire escapes. A committee is at work on the possibility of expansion or relocation. New at Beta Psi are theme parties which draws attention to the event and gets everyone to take part. One was a hat party with prizes for various categories. A "World Series Get Together" was a relaxed rush function.

Delta Beta — Has set its 10th anniversary celebration for April 7, 1979. With a new house, activity has increased and a large pledge class is the result. Delta Beta is once again Bantam Tug Champs.

Alpha Psi — Reports a 23-man pledge class. The Chapter is continuing its 50th anniversary celebration during the year.

Delta Epsilon — Parking cars at a local festival brought in $1400 for the Chapter. But it was 3 days of hard work! The Chapter plans to repeat its giant teeter-totter for the March of Dimes that raised $1000 last year. The brothers are volunteers for a local school for the deaf and mentally disturbed, taking students swimming at Rio Grande College two days a week. A car wash also enriched the Chapter's treasury.

Alpha Xi — is sending out engraved invitations to its annual Black and White Dinner Dance and Founder's Day celebration December 2 at the Oakbrook Hyatt House.

Beta Omicron — Talk about alumni support, alumni of Beta Omicron, with a lot of hi-jinks and the help of undergrads, threw $1300 into the hat in a single day. It's reported in "The Alumni Connection", the publication of the Chapter's Alumni Association.

Alpha Nu — A banquet recently marked the 40th anniversary of Alpha Nu, the home of Executive Directors. Alpha Nu continues to sponsor the Sig Olympics which pits women's teams in a variety of events — obstacle course, bicycle race, wheelbarrow relay, reased pole, pie eating, egg throwing, balloon bust, wagon race and a tug of war. Sororities and freshmen dorms fielded teams with Alpha Sigs serving as coaches and scorekeepers. The campus-wide event ended with the trophy presentation (to the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority) and a huge party at the Alpha Sig house. The Sig Olympics is a project worth holding on your campus. Write Alpha Nu for details.

Gamma Alpha — Alumni have just issued their first newsletter.

Bay Area Alumni Council — Is about to break records with a membership of 200!

Gamma Xi — Has started an escort service on the Widener campus, available for all women on the campus from 7 p.m. until 2 a.m., seven days a week. A fund raiser is collecting coupons from newspapers which are redeemed by a food broker. (The escort service, by the way, has resulted in some excellent publicity for the fraternity.)

THINGS THAT YOU CAN DO

Odds&Ends

Nominate an outstanding alumnus for Delta Beta Xi . . . write Headquarters for information concerning applications for staff positions as traveling Chapter Consultants . . . Be sure that your October report has been submitted, it's important for a lot of reasons, including making sure your correct treasurer is bonded and you're being considered for various awards . . . request information concerning scholarships and grants offered by the Memorial Fund of the Fraternity . . . Check to see that annual dues have been paid as well as the annual Chapter fee . . . nominate someone for the Frank F. Hargear Award (get details from Headquarters) . . . Point out to your prospective members that, even with the increase in annual dues by Convention '78, Alpha Sigma Phi is still holding its membership costs below average . . . Be sure that computer print-outs or labels of your alumni are ordered well in advance so costs are kept down. Check all addresses against those at your university's alumni department and send corrections to Headquarters . . . share an idea with your sister Chapters through The Gazette.

HAZING CONTINUES TO MAKE NEWS

"Dead Souls of Hell Week" is the title of a major article in Human Behavior magazine (October 1978 issue) that is well worth reading. Alpha Sigma Phi has constantly taken a strong stand against any kind of hazing. But we cannot drop our guard. Those fraternities that have had to face the horror of death or injury in thier membership thought they were having some harmless fun, teaching a member to "respect" the fraternity, building "unity". There are excellent materials available free for the asking on how to build a meaningful, righ and full pledge education program that needs no abusive activity. Ask for the materials and use them. Alpha Sigma Phi deplores hazing and will act swiftly and strongly should evidence of such practices appear.

The Old Gal Gazette is the Chapter publication of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. You are invited to share ideas, news and how-to suggestions with your sister Chapters through the Gazette. The publication is designed to be kept in a binder for future reference. The Gazette is compiled and edited by Evin C. Varner, Alpha Sigma Phi, Box 4351, Charlotte, N.C. 28204
