Brotherhood they find is coast-to-coast

By Tyler Cox

Since the day Alpha Sigma Phi was founded, brotherhood has meant different things to different people.

At the 1980 National Convention, The Tomahawk asked two delegates from opposite ends of the country to discuss what brotherhood means to them. Wayne Murphy, a brother at Presbyterian College, Clinton, S.C., shared his views with Ron Maple, a brother at Oregon State, Corvallis, Oregon.

During the informal discussion, both menagreed that brotherhood unites Alpha Sigs whether it's at a small, private college in the South like Presbyterian or a large, statesupported school on the northwest coast like Oregon State.

"I never met Wayne before in my life," said Maple, a junior and IFC representative at Oregon State. "We came from different parts of the country, but the minute I met him it

Alpha Sigma Phi is growing. Welcome back, University of Missouri. Welcome back, Marshall University. Welcome, Radford University. Welcome, Longwood College. And there's exciting news at University of Miami, FL... Otterbein of Ohio... Francis Marion College, South Carolina... and Newark Institute of Technology. Stay tuned! was total friendship because we have the common Fraternity ritual.

"To really understand what brotherhood's about, you need to come to a Convention like this. When I tell somebody about brotherhood, I try to stress the camaraderie. I think you need to share the common experiences."

Murphy, a pre-med senior and house chairman at Presbyterian, said that pledges at his Chapter are required to keep a "brotherhood list" which must be signed three times by brothers. He said that it takes about one semester for a new brother to understand what brotherhood's about.

"Brotherhood is the joining of men in consultation together," said Murphy. "It's caring for each other. I do promote brotherhood. I use it as a crutch to get me through the rough spots in college.

"We are in a very small town. There's nothing to do in Clinton, S.C. A fraternity gives you a social background—something to do when you don't go home every weekend."

According to Murphy, Presbyterian College has approximately 950 students. In contrast, Oregon State's student body is close to 17,000.

"We have a very large house and a diverse membership at Oregon State," said Maple. "It's much like a cross-section of society. You learn to cope with brothers who can't cope with other people. Understanding what those people are about is good.

"I see brotherhood stemming from some common experience," he added. "It's an understanding of traditions. Brotherhood has taught me a lot that I didn't know before I pledged."

THE TOMAHAWK

National Convention prepares "Old Gal" for bright future

"135 years of brotherhood."

That was the theme of the 1980 National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi. The biennial gathering of the Fraternity did indeed mark that milestone. But the emphasis was on the future, not celebrating the past.

The supreme legislative body of the Fraternity gathered at Nashville, Indiana's Brown County Inn in a hard-working mood. Committees often gave up the little free time provided (a day had been cut from the Convention in order to save money) to develop long-ranging recommendations for the Convention floor.

While celebrating Alpha Sigma Phi's greatest growth in decades, the delegates seemed intent on preparing the "Old Gal" for its continued fight with inflation, the impending decrease in college enrollments and other challenges that will face the Society during the next two years.

Highlights of Convention action included: • A resounding defeat of a proposal for co-ed membership.

• Election of a new Grand Council and national officers that continued a trend in recent years of seeking leaders who will be actively involved in the operations of the Fraternity.

• An increase in dues and fees beyond current needs as undergraduates sought to prepare for on-going inflation.

• An undergraduate-inspired call for increased alumni involvement.

• A strong endorsement of an on-going expansion program to develop new Chapters and reactivate others.

• Recommendation of a constitutional amendment that would allow The Tomahawk to switch from a lifetime free distribution basis to a subscription plan.

Membership proposal

Tau Chapter, Stanford University, had proposed a constitutional amendment that would allow females to be initiated into Alpha Sigma Phi on a local option basis. Tau, which has experimented successfully with a co-ed living situation, brought the proposal to Convention in a mature, reasoned fashion. Delegates responded with serious, nonemotional discussion. The final vote was 43 no, two yes and five abstentions. The Convention determined that local option was impossible—that what one Chapter does impacts upon the entire Fraternity. And it reflected a determination by the delegates (continued on next page)

Fees increased

The Convention increased initiation fees from $90 to $95. Annual undergraduate fees were increased from $7 a year to $11 a year and the $30 pledge fee was changed to $35.

The annual Chapter fee which underwrites the cost of the Convention and delegate travel was increased from $150 to $190, the first increase in many years.

Delegates reflected that despite increases, Alpha Sigma Phi remains considerably below or competitive with the charges of other national fraternities.

Delegates also instructed the Grand Council to be stern in its actions concerning Chapters not remitting fees. The Convention voted a fine of up to $500 for non-reporting and backed that with the request that Council revoke or suspend charters where necessarv

The Alumni Affairs committee outlined activities for each Chapter to undertake. It recommended the creation of an undergraduate Alumni Director in each Chapter. It urged Chapters to utilize the newsletter services of the Headquarters. (This service provides printing, distribution and counsel for newsletters well below cost and considerably below what Chapters can buy through commercial firms.)

The Committee on Alcohol Abuse recommended that the Headquarters increase its efforts to make Chapters aware of their legal responsibilities and liabilities regarding alcohol. (The Fraternity's staff has received special training in this area. All Chapters have been provided with a special booklet on their various legal liabilities.)

Awards established

The Awards Committee recommended that Chapters present annually a Community Development Award (to the alumnus who has been outstanding in community service); a professional man of the year award; an outstanding undergraduate award; an outstanding alumnus award plus "Friends of the Chapter" citations to those who have been helpful to the Chapter.

The group also recommended the establishment of a national award for the undergraduate who has made a significant contribution to the Fraternity beyond his own Chapter. An award of that nature has been under the direction of the Bay Area Alumni Council, honoring Frank Foli Hargear, former Grand Marshal. The Convention recommended that the award become a

Alpha Sigma Phi's innovative Career Development program received a strong vote of confidence. The Convention urged Chapters to establish career nights, asked that Career Development be a part of Province programs and asked that a career packet be developed that would supplement the work of campus placement offices.

Expansion program expanded

The expansion committee detailed an incentive plan for Chapters that wish to actively work in starting another group and also outlined a sister Chapter plan for those who wish to assist on a near-by campus.

The Convention asked for the funding of five $1000 assistantships for brothers who might go to a campus where Alpha Sigma Phi wishes to expand. They directed that these assistantships begin during the 1981-82 year.

Also passed was a resolution urging a receptivity to merger possibilities. The Convention directed that a volunteer Director of Housing be appointed to assist new groups in solving their needs.

Addressing the hazing question, the Convention directed that an on-going Committee composed of one Grand Council member, one staff member and five undergraduates be empowered to examine all Chapters to determine if hazing exists in any manner. If problems exist, the committee would recommend action to either the Convention or the delegates to the National Educational Conference.

Robert A. Sandercox, Bethany '51, is newly elected to the Grand Council. He is Vice President and Director of Development of Bethany College. He was interim president during the 79-80 academic year. Before his Bethany positions, Sandercox was on the staff of the Park Avenue Christian Church in New York City. He holds a divinity degree from Yale Divinity School.

A Committee on Public Relations and Community Service gained approval for a recommendation that the Council seek a national service project and that activities directed toward that project be concentrated during one month each year throughout the national Fraternity.

Constitutional amendment

In publications, the Convention endorsed a mail vote for a constitutional amendment that would end the promise of a lifetime subscription to The Tomahawk. All members would receive the publication for seven years and after that would subscribe at a rate determined by the Council. This move would_ not, however, be retroactive, so those who entered the Fraternity under the lifetime promise would be given the option to continue receiving The Tomahawk for free.

This vote is currently before the Chapters and chartered alumni groups.

Official delegates were almost matched in number by undergraduates who paid their own way to the Convention to take part in that national expression of brotherhood. They found the experience well worth every penny. And they found plenty to keep them busy.

There was an address by Brad G. Corbett, Wagner '58, nationally recognized industrialist and former president of the Texas Rangers. (Corbett was later presented with the Distinguished Merit Award recognizing his achievements in business.)

There were mixers, an awards dinner, a formal banquet plus a lot of informal gatherings by the pool and all around the hotel throughout the evenings.

Music for Convention '80 was lively under the direction of Mark Huber, Westminster '76. Brother Huber is a graduate student at the University of Georgia. There was banjo music by Dave Lewis of the Marshall University colony. There was a ritual exemplification under the direction of Grand Marshal Evin Varner assisted by Purdue's Alpha Pi Chapter.

A highlight of the final banquet was the presentation of two Distinguished Service Awards—the Fraternity's highest accolades.

Executive Secretary Emeritus Ralph F. Burns was called forward. And thus became only the second man in the history of the Fraternity to receive both the Distinguished Service and the Distinguished Merit Award.

And right there at the podium was a surprised Richard A. Dexter, retiring Grand Senior President, presented with the service award for his dedication and leadership during a remarkable growth period for the Fraternity.

A member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity was introduced next, a senior at Oklahoma University. Russell Gibbs had flown in from his own fraternity's national convention to be on hand to see his father become Grand Senior President of Alpha Sigma Phi. He spoke of his father's support, dedication and leadership.

Coming to the podium, Richard R. Gibbs, declared that the next two years would be milestones for Alpha Sigma Phi as he declared that it will be a period to "Take Time to Serve." He challenged every brother—undergraduate and alumnus—to prepare "to take time to serve" because the principles of Alpha Sigma Phi have never been more needed ... because of the impact those principles are having on so many lives.

The new Grand Council

Delegates to Convention '80 choose a new group of leaders for Alpha Sigma Phi for the next two years. Members of the Grand Council serve without compensation in a position that requires many hours of travel and work in the active management of the Fraternity. The Council Serves as a board of directors and runs the Fraternity between Conventions, carrying out the plan of work outlined by the undergraduate delegates.

Richard R. Gibbs, Oklahoma '51, Tulsa, OK is the new Grand Senior President. He serves until Convention '82. Gibbs, completing his second term on the Council, heads his own manufacturer's representative firm. He has previously been Grand Junior President and Grand Treasurer. Prior to his Council work he served in the province program of the Fraternity.

Richard S. Sanders, Missouri Valley '62, Cleveland, OH, was elected Grand Junior President. An executive with Merrill Lynch, Sanders was previously Grand Treasurer. He is serving his second term on the Council.

Chosen as Grand Secretary was Evin C. Varner, Presbyterian '58, Washington, D.C. advertising executive. Varner, volunteer editor of The Tomahawk, was previously Grand Marshal.

New Grand Treasurer of the Fraternity is Stan Miller, Purdue '64, Lafayette, IN. Miller, an insurance executive, was instrumental in the formation of Gamma Chi Chapter, Indiana University. He had been named to the Council earlier to fill an unexpired term. His rush presentations at various national meetings are always a highlight for undergraduates.

Tears of joy greet the announcement that Delta Epsilon, Rio Grande College, is the winner of the Grand Senior President's Award for best chapter on a smaller campus. Receiving (and celebrating) the award are left, Mark Williams and right Kurt Lillemon, both of Rio Grande. The University of Washington, Mu chapter, received the award for larger campuses.

Peter Tourtellot, American '57, president of Sedgefield Sportswear, Greensboro, N.C., was elected Grand Marshal. he had just completed two years as a Grand Councilor. Tourtellot has been active in the Fraternity's expansion program.

New to the Council is Grand Councilor Donald R. Morgan, Purdue '57, Toledo, OH. Morgan, who has been serving as chairman of the Fraternity's national awards committee, is a market/communications supervisor with Owens/Corning.

Also elected to his first term on the Fraternity's board is Grand Councilor Robert A. Sandercox, Bethany '51, Bethany, WV. He is vice president and director of development at Bethany College. He was earlier active as a Province Chief with the Fraternity.

Council members are elected to four year terms and may serve only two such terms in succession. The officers of the Council are elected to two year terms.

Awards presented

The most-sought award for Chapters is the Grand Senior President's Award. Based on performance in every aspect of Chapter operation, it recognizes the outstanding Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi for the year on both a large campus and a smaller campus.

Retiring Grand Senior President Richard Dexter presented the awards to the University of Washington's Mu Chapter and to Rio Grande College's Delta Epsilon Chapter.

The Alpha Gamma Upsilon Award commemorates the merger of that fraternity with Alpha Sigma Phi and recognizes outstanding progress in Chapter management, membership and service. This year it went to Beta Psi Chapter, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

The award for outstanding campus and community service was presented to Gamma Chi Chapter, Indiana University. Beta Mu Chapter, Wake Forest University, claimed the national province leadership award. Tri State University's Beta Omicron alumni group was recognized with the Outstanding Chapter Alumni Association Award.

Phi Chapter, lowa State took home a trophy for having the best newsletter. For contributions to The Tomahawk, that award went to Beta Mu Chapter, Wake Forest. And for contributions to the "Old Gal Gazette" newsletter, recognition went to Alpha Sigma Chapter, Wagner College.

Sixteen scholarships were presented at the Convention.

Gary E. Smith, Stevens '78, was named scholar of the year by the Alpha Sigma Phi Memorial Fund. The Friends of Alpha Gamma Award recognizes outstanding scholarship in science for an undergraduate who has completed six semesters of study. Jeffrey Heintz, Westminster '79, claimed that scholarship. Peter Rukavina, Purdue '79, claimed that scholarship. The Friends of Rho award salutes three years of scholarship in the liberal arts. Jeffrey Heintz,

Westminster '79, was the winner. Other scholarships included:

Scholar of the Year in Science-Robert Coll, Ohio Northern '78; Scholar of the Year in Liberal Arts, Howard Pressman, Widener '78; Scholar of the Year in Technology-James McMahon, Illinois Tech '78 and Jose Encisco, Wagner '78.

Memorial Fund scholarships were presented to Alan Stone, Tulane '79; Jeff Schafer, Rio Grande '79; Bruce Cohen, Cornell '79; David Picozzi, University of North Carolina at Charlotte '79; Tim Sounders, Rio Grande '78; Thomas Oliva, Missouri Colony; Barry Johnson, Oregon State '79 and Scott Chapman, Wake Forest University '78.

The Frank Hargear Award was presented by Robert Kutz, California '67, on behalf of the Bay Area Alumni Council. Named winner was Thomas Leuther, Missouri Valley. Leuther transferred to the University of Missouri and has played a significant role in the creation of a new colony there.

Also recognized was the 1980 National

One of the warmest rounds of applause at Convention came at the announcement that Alpha Sigma Chapter, Wagner College was no longer on suspension. The Chapter, which had fallen below Alpha Sigma Phi's stated minimum standards, was recognized for a dramatic come-back. Suspension is a period of supervision of a Chapter by volunteers and staff as its operation and membership is rebuilt.

Sweetheart of Alpha Sigma Phi. Candidates are submitted by undergraduate Chapters who in turn vote for the finalists.

Sharon Stanek, nominee of Ohio Northern's Gamma Alpha, was there to receive a dozen roses, a plaque and hear the Sweetheart Song sung by the assembled brothers. Second runner-up was Jane Bruce, nominee of the Longwood College colony and first runner-up was Lorene Washburn, candidate of Alpha Sigma Chapter, Wagner College.

Saluted for his years of service to Alpha Sigma Phi was retiring Grand Council member, Grand Secretary Louis DeLuca, Wagner '58.

Province Presidents elected

Delegates at Convention '80 elected Province Presidents for the coming year. Those undergraduates are charged with the responsibility of co-ordinating a regional Fraternity meeting during their tenure as well as encouraging interaction of the Chapters within their district.

Chosen for this top leadership position were:

Province I (Washington, Oregon State, Stanford): Tim O'Hara, Mu. Province II (Iowa State, Coe, Oklahoma, Missouri Valley, Missouri, Tulane): Tom Leuther, Alpha Theta.

Province III (Illinois, Illinois Tech, Indiana, Loyola, Purdue): Paul Lindemulder, Alpha Xi. Province IV (Eastern Michigan, Lawrence Tech, Michigan, Northern Michigan, Toldeo, Tri-State): San Angell, Theta.

Province V: (Baldwin-Wallace, Bowling Green, Cincinnati, Findlay, Ohio Northern, Ohio State): Mark Burton, Gamma Alpha. Province VI (Bethany, Charleston, Davis & Elkins, Marietta, Marshall, Slippery Rock, Rio Grande, Westminster): Mark Williams, Delta Epsilon.

Stronger provinces, stronger chapters are goals of GSP Gibbs

By Tyler Cox

During his term as Alpha Sigma Phi's new Grand Senior President, Richard R. Gibbs says that his main goals will be to strengthen Chapters and the province system.

"I'd like to see Alpha Sigma Phi continue to grow not only by adding Chapters, but more importantly by strengthening the present Chapters," says Gibbs. "We cannot stand still, so the choice is either to grow and enlarge the number of Chapters and initiates or to get smaller and eventually cease to exist."

According to Gibbs, strengthening the present Chapters will mean at least as many (if not more) Chapter visits by consultants and other national staff members. Chapters and province conclaves, he says, need programs such as value reinforcement seminars, talks by alumni on how to succeed after college, help with career guidance and placement, and the like.

"The greatest need of Alpha Sigma Phi today is an adequately-funded endowment fund," he feels. "The fund would enable us to continue and expand not only the services that we give to each Chapter, but also the services we give to alumni. Most importantly, it would strengthen our printed communication with alumni, The Tomahawk."

Gibbs, who was initiated at the University of Oklahoma's Alpha Alpha Chapter in 1951, holds a degree in mechanical engineering. After serving two years in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, he bought his father's manufacturer's representative firm, Automatic Engineering, Inc. of Tulsa, where he works today.

Over the years, he has served the "Old Gal" on the Grand Council as Grand Councilor, Grand Treasurer and Grand Junior President. He also was a Chapter advisor and province chief and is a member of the Alpha Alpha Housing Corp.

The new president urges alumni who have been out of touch with a Chapter to become re-involved. He suggests two ways to do that.

"One, they can drop a letter to Headquarters and say they'd like to help and tell us where they live and what they might be willing to do," suggests Gibbs.

"Obviously, where we're starting new Chapters we need strong alumni support to help a Chapter succeed. We need Grand Chapter Advisors for existing Chapters. We also need province chiefs and program directors for programs on the national level."

Another way he suggests for an alumnus to become re-involved is to host a rush party at his house or lake property or other place. An alumnus also could offer to help a Chapter print an alumni newsletter to get alumni in closer touch with the chapter.

"The most important thing," says Gibbs, "is that he has to volunteer his services because not many people are going to come searching him out. He probably is going to have to volunteer his services several times before he gets taken up on the offer.

"Any of us who have been involved with organizations, particularly the larger ones, realize that quite often the first time you volunteer you're not taken up on it. Sometimes you have to volunteer several times before you are put to work. Once you start working for an organization, it becomes more important to you, and you enjoy being a member more."

Gibbs says he has enjoyed serving on the Grand Council because it gave him an opportunity to perpetuate Alpha Sigma Phi. "I believe the values that we teach are worthwhile teaching to future generations," notes the quiet Oklahoman. "Therefore, I think it's important to continue Alpha Sigma Phi so that it will be there to teach future generations. Also, like many things worth doing, serving on the Grand Council has been a lot of fun."

Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity presents Anniversary Awards to 50-year brothers

A golden anniversary is a special event. And when it marks 50 years of membership in a special organization like Alpha Sigma Phi, why that's special indeed.

Here are the brothers who are celebrating the half century mark of being an Alpha Sig. Along with the salute of the entire brotherhood, these men receive a handsome certificate commemorating the anniversary. The Golden Anniversary Award was created by the 1958 Convention.

Hardly had the 1980 Honor Roll for contributors to the Alpha Sigma Phi Loyalty Fund been published than a check arrived for the 1981 campaign. It was signed by Russell W. Young, Ohio State '22, Seattle, WA

Russell W. Young Ohio State '22

Why does Brother Young give to the "Old Gal?" The Tomahawk decided to ask. Young replied by quoting Ralph Waldo Emerson: "What lies behind us and what lies ahead of us are tiny matters to what lies within us.

Then he explains: "It lies within me to give thanks for what the 'Old Gal' has done for me and to provide a few bucks for the threading through the future for Alpha Sigma Phi. Plus there is a tremendous inward feeling when a fellow gives-either of his bucks or his time."

Well said, Brother Young

If you haven't sent in your check for the 1981 Loyalty Fund, now's the time to write one to Alpha Sigma Phi and mail it to 24 W. William Street, Delaware, Ohio 43015.

Alpha Sigma Phi-like museums, libraries and universities-is a non-profit institution for education and development. And like those other institutions cannot operate on fees alone. So your contributions are vital.

Your check makes possible The Tomahawk, scholarships, educational conferences, the expansion of the brotherhood and much more. And every check of any size is needed because Alpha Sigma Phi has been hit by inflation like everyone else. Your contribution can help make sure the Fraternity continues to "thread through the future."

There are two funds of Alpha Sigma Phi that are worthy of your support.

The Loyalty Fund is the annual giving program of all members. It makes possible the day-today operations of the Fraternity.

But you might want to consider sending in a check to The Memorial Fund, a public foundation that underwrites the educational and leadership work of Alpha Sigma Phi. Gifts to The Memorial Fund are tax deductible.

Russell W. Young, by the way, had a distinguished career in newspapers. He retired in 1972 after 25 years as advertising manager of The Seattle Times where he headed seven departments and 120 people. He was honored at the 100th anniversary of Ohio State with one of its 100 honor awards (out of 142,000 graduates!)

From 1892-1902, one third of the justices of the Supreme Court were Alpha Sigs, points out Robert Kutz. California '67. They were David J. Brewer, Yale '50 and Henry B. Brown, Yale '53. They were followed to the Court by George Shiras Jr., Yale '50. Those Alpha Sig justices wrote some major opinions, according to Brother Kutz, that continue to have impact upon us to this day. (Shiras and Brewer's vote on one case delayed the imposition of a federal income tax for 19 years!)

Information being gathered for first national directory

By now every Alpha Sig should have received—and hopefully returned—a special postcard questionnaire. (If you didn't get one, please let Headquarters know. If you did and haven't returned it, please do so at once.)

The questionnaire is the first step in gathering information for the first national directory of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Bernard C. Harris Publishing, White Plains, NY has been selected as the publisher. The project is undertaken at virtually no cost to the Fraternity.

Members will be given the opportunity during telephone verification of information to purchase a copy of the directory. Such purchases will underwrite the cost of the project and only enough copies will be produced to fill advance orders. Release of the directory has been set for Summer, 1981.

Alpha Sigma Phi will not benefit financially from the directory sales (purchases should not be considered as a contribution), but will benefit from updated records.

The book will have an alphabetical listing of all alumni with home addresses and professional information. There will be a listing by Chapter and a geographical index as well.

Copies of the directory will be made available only to members of the Fraternity. The Harris organization is the oldest and largest alumni directory publisher in the world. It has worked with almost all major universities and fraternal organizations in the U.S. \Box George C. Lord, Ohio Wesleyan '61, Delaware, Ohio has been chosen as president of the State Controling Board and State Emergency Board. He was named by Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes. Lord is former Grand Senior President of the Fraternity and at one time served Alpha Sigma Phi as a Chapter Consultant. Zeta

Richard Waltz, Ohio State '22, was recently saluted by a Toledo newspaper as the "elder statesman of Delta, Ohio." He returned to his hometown, giving up a budding career in advertising in Detroit and St. Louis. He became editor of the Delta newspaper, manager of the local telephone company and president of a savings and loan association. The article saluted his civic contributions as well as his professional achievements. (The clipping was passed on by C. T. Calway, Ohio State '19.) Brother Waltz relates that he still proudly displays trophies of his Alpha Sigma Phi undergraduate days.

Eric Jacobson, Michigan '74, Quincy, IL, has been named Associate Editor of The Broadcaster, publication of Harris Corporation—Broadcast Products Division. His work as a merchandising specialist with the firm involves publicity and advertising. Special story assignments have taken him across the U.S. and into South America. Jacobson has for several years served as a volunteer for Alpha Sigma Phi's publications program.

Steven M. Gnewkowski, Michigan '67, Stanton, MI, has been elected president of the Ionia and Montcalm County Bar Association. He has been engaged in the general practice of law in Stanton for six years. He is with the firm of Miel, Miel & Gnewkowski.

Charles L. Hampton, California '13,

Piedmont, CA, a charter member of the Chapter, is over 90. History buffs seek him out to hear of his friendship with famed Luther Burbank and the pageant Hampton created in Burbank's honor. The pageant raised funds for a goal of Hampton's: The Luther Burbank memorial complex that has been a prominent attraction for plant scientists and tourists for years.

Lloyd S. Cochran Pennsylvania '20

Lloyd See Cochran, Pennsylvania '20, Lockport, NY, former Grand Senior President of Alpha Sigma Phi died in January, 1981.

Cochran was elected Grand Treasurer of the Fraternity in 1929 and served to 1932. Following a major reorganization of Alpha Sigma Phi in 1937, he was elected to the Grand Council and served until 1958. He served as Grand Junior President from 1946 to 1948 and as Grand Senior President from 1948 to 1952.

He went on to serve as president of the National Interfraternity Conference in 1953-54.

Brother Cochran was granted the Delta Beta Xi Award in 1938 for his service in the Fraternity. And in 1961, the "Old Gal" gave him its highest award: the Distinguished Service Award.

Cochran was vice president Lockport Mills and later headed his own firm of Lloyd Cochran Associates, sales consultants and manufacturers' representatives. He was nationally recognized in his industry and served as president of the National Association of Batting Maufacturers.

A lay minister in the Baptist church, Cochran was acclaimed for his work within the Masonic Order. He was Grand Master for the State of New York, 1972-73-74. He held national office with the American National Red Cross.

Dr. Owen H. Wagensteen, Minnesota '17, Minneapolis, MN. For 37 years, he was chief of surgery at the University of Minnesota. Medical students from all over the world were attracted there because of his strong emphasis on research. Dr. Christaan Bernard of Capetown, South Africa and Dr. Norman E. Shumway of Stanford, who performed the first human heart transplants, are among his former students as are professors of surgery at more than 30 institutions in the U.S. and abroad. Under his leadership, Minnesota surgeons played leading roles in pioneering open-heart surgery.

Dr. Wagensteen made important contributions to cancer surgery and to the understanding of appendicitis. In the 1930's to combat intestinal obstructions he developed a suction tube technique named for him and used in hospitals around the world.

A leading national magazine in the late 60's said: "the Wagensteen approach is leading to miracles of surgery." He retired in 1967 but continued to be active. In 1972 he helped establish the university's Wagensteen Historical Library of Biology and Medicine, which includes more than 25,000 volumes. some dating back to the 15th century. In 1979 he published (with medical historian wife Sarah) "The Rise of Surgery, from Empiric Craft to Scientific Discipline." It has been praised as good reading as well as a major reference book. He held honors from England, France and Norway in addition to the distinguished service award of the American Medical Association. In 1962 he was presented with Alpha Sigma Phi's Distinguished Merit Award.
