Moving Toward the Next 150 Years

Alpha Sigma Phi has been on a roll recently. The number of chapters, average chapter size, programs, and volunteerism have all been increasing, which bucks a national trend. However, the Fraternity will soon be on a roll literally.

The Fraternity's Grand Council and Educational Foundation Board of Trustees unanimously voted to move the National Headquarters of Alpha Sigma Phi to Indianapolis, IN.

The move to Indianapolis will help the Fraternity achieve the following objectives:

- implement more low cost/high value programming
- improve chapter and brotherhood development
- expansion of the Fraternity's membership
- increase in volunteerism
- shifting expenses from personnel and overhead to direct chapter services

Indianapolis offers many opportunities to non-profit organizations, such as the Fraternity and Educational Foundation. Relocating to Indianapolis will allow Alpha Sigma Phi to:

- reduce travel and meeting costs
- not pay sales or property taxes
- take advantage of the tax breaks by planning conferences near the Fraternity Headquarters in Indianapolis
- network with the headquarters of 23 other national fraternities and sororities and the various national organizations that support the Greek community

"We are very excited about this opportunity to place the Fraternity in a position to provide better services and even higher quality programs to the undergraduates," said Grand Senior President Stan Thurston, Iowa State '66. "This move will allow Alpha Sigma Phi to continue its tradition of being America's Premier Fraternity."

Executive Vice President Steve Zizzo, Illinois '84, reports that the move will not affect the day-to-day operations of Headquarters. "The move will take place sometime between July 1 and September 15, and that allows us a great deal of time to properly plan the move so that once we are in Indy, we will hit the ground running."

If you should have any questions in the meantime, do not hesitate to contact Steve Zizzo at Headquarters.

Staff Opportunities

The Headquarters' move from Delaware, Ohio to Indianapolis will also include a restructuring of the Headquarters staff and creates the following position openings:

Director of Finance: Well organized individual who is detail oriented and has a financial background. The position maintains the financial books and records for Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, Inc. and the Alpha Sigma Phi Educational Foundation. Additionally, the position handles accounts payable, accounts receivable, payroll, chapter pledge/initiation payments, liability insurance matters, and other duties related to the fiscal health of the organization. Limited travel required to work with chapters on finance and budgeting procedures. This is an outstanding opportunity for a brother interested in financial management to begin his professional career. A finance or accounting degree is required for this position. The Director of Finance will receive a competitive salary, travel reimbursement, and a full benefits package.

Director of Expansion: Enthusiastic, self-starting, organized, and outgoing brother needed to represent Alpha Sigma Phi in expanding to new campuses across the United States. The Director of Expansion oversees all expansion activities of the Fraternity as they relate to new interest groups and colonies and the overall growth of the Fraternity. The Director of Expansion also participates in other programs and services of the Fraternity. Candidates should have strong analytical skills and the ability to make quick, accurate decisions. Strong written and verbal communication skills are a must. The Director of Expansion enjoys a competitive salary, travel reimbursement, full benefits package, and housing assistance.

Chapter Leadership Consultants: Chapter Leadership Consultants play an integral role in the success of Alpha Sigma Phi by working directly with undergraduate chapters on an ongoing basis. Ideal candidates will be very outgoing, have a variety of leadership experiences, and solid chapter operational and brotherhood development skills. Additionally, candidates should have strong analytical skills and the ability to make quick, accurate decisions. Strong written and verbal communication skills are a must. Chapter Leadership Consultants enjoy a competitive salary, travel reimbursement, full benefits package, and housing assistance.

Protecting Alpha Sigma Phi

If you see a product with Alpha Sigma Phi letters, there is a possibility that the manufacturer is violating our copyright. That's why the Fraternity teamed up with other Greeks to form Greek Properties, a consortium dedicated to protecting our trademarks.

For years, retailers sold sportswear and other items with Greek insignia without permission. Not only have those businesses profited without paying any compensation, but they have often used our letters on items that are offensive or in poor taste. All vendors must now register through Greek Properties before using our insignia, and products must be pre-approved. You can obtain a list of licensed vendors through the Fraternity Headquarters. Vendors can join Greek Properties by calling Susan Schmitt at 1-800-484-8610.

So Is It An Event?

Oftentimes, Headquarters receives many calls wondering if a particular social gathering is considered a chapter event. A clarification of the policy was sent to HSPs, HEs, Risk Management Chairmen, and Grand Chapter Advisors recently. If you should have any questions, do not hesitate to contact Glen Olson, Director of Chapter Services, at Headquarters.

Middle Tennessee State Colony

- submitted by Brian Hopper, Editor

The MTSU Colony will soon be submitting a chartering petition to the Grand Council, with the hope of chartering in the spring. Area alumni and families of colony members will be invited to attend, along with representatives of the Grand Council and Fraternity Headquarters.

The colony threw a Christmas party for a needy Murfreesboro family. Members pitched in and bought toys and clothes for the family, and every colony member attended the event. Over $70 was raised for this family.

All correspondence to the MTSU Colony may be sent to the following address:
