

The

TOMAHAWK

DECEMBER

NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY FIVE

The TOMAHAWK

CHARLES A. MITCHELL, Editor

VOLUME XXIII

DECEMBER, 1925

NUMBER 1

CONTENTS

TWELFTH NATIONAL CONVENTION DRAWS MANY TO WASHINGTON	3
SEVENTEENTH INTERFRATERNITY CONFERENCE HELD IN NEW YORK	13
ZETA MAN SCORES BIG SUCCESS ON BROADWAY AS AUTHOR	17
FORMER GRAND OFFICERS ARE AUTHORS OF IMPORTANT BOOKS	19
FOUR ALUMNI COUNCILS CHOOSE NEW OFFICERS	21
TOMAHAWK LIFE SUBSCRIPTION FUND MOUNTING STEADILY	22
BROKEN OARS OR HOW I BEAT HARVARD BACK IN UMPY-TWO Edmund B. Shotwell, Yale '22, Alpha '20	24
EDITORIALS	26
TOMMY TALK	28
AMONG OURSELVES	31
Charles E. McPherran Represents all Oklahoma College Fraternities in Important Tax Case; Ulbrickson, Mu, Hailed as Best Crew Stroke; Many Campus Offices Held by Pi's H. S. P.; Glos of Eta is Editor, Scholar, Office Worker; Alpha Delta '25 Seniors All Varsity Letter Men; Owen F. Aldis, Yale '74, Dies at His Paris Home; Jones Takes Laurels in Musical Activities; Zeta Man's Plant First to Use "Wired Wireless"; Widenor's Musical Gifts Add to Upsilon's Prestige; Sigma's H. S. P. Engages in Seven Fields of Activity; Professor W. S. Hertzog Sets Broadcast Record; Kappa Pays Tribute to a Loyal Alumnus; Delta Men in Majority on Three Marietta Teams; Alpha Man Oldest Living Ex-Member of Congress; Hahn, Chi, Manages Popular Orchestra; Bayley, Tau '21, on Circuit as "Radio Troubadour"; Omicron Has Able Men in Eaton and Axley.
COLLEGIATE	45
HELLENICA	50
ALUMNI PERSONALS	55
TOMMY SQUAWKS	74
DIRECTORY AND ADVERTISEMENTS	75

Published four times a year during December, February, May, and August.

Subscriptions: Two Dollars per year, payable in advance. Life subscriptions, Fifteen Dollars. Make remittances payable to THE TOMAHAWK.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Menasha, Wis., February 27, 1924.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage, provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized on July 3, 1918.

[ PRINTED IN U.S.A. ]

INDEX
to
VOLUME XXIII
of
THE TOMAHAWK

---

December 1925
February 1926
May 1926
August 1926

	Page
Airships, Roland G. Mayer , Lieutenant (CC) U. S. Navy, Mu '14 Part I, 171, Part II, .....	279
Aldis, Owen F., Yale '14, Dies at His Paris Home .....	35
Alpha Alpha Begins Year of Success in New Home .....	114
Alpha Alpha Completes Another Successful Year ..	299
Alpha Delta '25 Seniors All Varsity Letter Men .....	35
Alpha Delta Men Prominent on Campus, Many .....	304
Alpha Zeta Chapter Installed at University of California Southern Branch	267
Alpha Man Oldest Living Ex-member of Congress .....	40
Alumni of Twelve Chapters at Washington "Bust" .....	100
Alumni Personals .....	55
Altvater, Frank R., Heads Pittsburgh Alumni .....	187
Among Ourselves .....	31, 113, 203, 293
Archibald, Omicron '24, New Executive Secretary .....	295
Athletics and Writers in Majority at Penn .....	229
At Home in Java, C. Porter Kuykendahl , Lambda '14, Columbia '28....	97
Backus, Beta's A Student, Makes Staff of Crimson .....	211
Bayley, Tau '21, On Circuit As Radio "Troubadour" .....	42
Beecher Edits Most Original Cornell Widow ; Avery, Bliss, Schwingel Also Active at Cornell.....	225
Biggs, Alpha Epsilon, Is Captain of 1926 Track Team .....	125
Bowen's Story Included in "Best College Stories" .....	120
Broken Oars or How I Beat Harvard Back in Umpty-two, Edmund B. Shotwell , Yale '22, Alpha '20.....	24
Burgess, Pi '24, Sets New Record Debating .....	300
Burr is Star Player on O. A. C. Quintette .....	223
Busy Lambda Men Hold Many Jobs at Columbia .....	221
Collegiate .....	45, 126, 235, 311
Chenoweth, Epsilon '13, Heads Alumni Council .....	287

	Page
Crapo, W. W., Yale '52, Dies at the Age of 95.....	211
Cutts, Beta '25, Helps Win Championship .....	307
Delta Men In Majority On Three Marietta Teams .....	40
Delta Chapter Has Twenty-four Letter Men .....	293
Directory and Advertisements 75, 163, 259, 338
Dramatic Laurels Won By Trinkhaus and Others .....	220
Drum Chosen Delegate to Y. M. C. A. Convention .....	231
Editorials .....	26, 108, 198
Eight Men Of Tau Chapter Take Degrees .....	301
Extensive Landscape Work On O. A. C. Campus To Be Done By Albert D. Taylor of Gamma.....	191
Famous Radio Engineer Is An Alpha Sigma Phi .....	219
Feuchter, Alpha Epsilon, and Fiancee Killed in Auto Accident.....	217
Fleming, Epsilon Orator, To Be In State Contest .....	230
Former Grand Officers Are Authors Of Important Books .....	19
Former Grand Treasurer Married....	293
Four Alumni Councils Choose New Officers .....	21
Fraternity Honors Ten Men By Electing Them Grand Officers.....	83
Fraternity Initiations, Edwin S. Puller , Delta '88, Marietta '89.....	101
Glos Of Eta Is Editor, Scholar, Office Worker .....	33
Greene of Eta Valued For His Versatility .....	216
Hagan, Prof., Iota, Is In Europe on Leave .....	122
Hahn, Chi, Manages Popular Orchestra	42
Hellenica .....	50, 131, 239
Hertzog, Prof. W. S., Sets Broadcast Record .....	35
Hinkel, Chi '21, Killed When Car Hits Pole .....	210
History of Tau Nu Lambda.....	274
History of University of California, Southern Branch .....	276
Hogan Is Strong Leader In Athletics At Cornell .....	119

	Page		Page
Honorary Societies Elect Four Omicron Men .....	296	Oehlert, AB, Prominent In Activities at Iowa .....	197
Holt, Henry, Author and Publisher, Dies of Bronchitis .....	189	Omicron Has Able Men In Eaton and Axley .....	44
Houghton, Lieutenant, Gamma '13, Killed In Shenandoah Crash.....	177	Oosterbaan, Theta, On Every All-American Team; Flora Also Among Michigan Football Stars.....	113
Interfraternity Game Won By Men of Sigma .....	300	Oosterbaan Wins 3 "Ms", Grinnell Also Prominent .....	306
Jones Takes Laurels In Musical Activities .....	36	Pearson Made President At Midwest Conference .....	122
Kappa Chapter Initiates Hans Troye, National Class B Ski-jumping Champion .....	203	Professional Baseball Calls Lang From College .....	214
Kappa's New Home Copy of English Manor House .....	195	Prominent Delta Alumnus Dies After Long Illness .....	209
Kappa Pays Tribute to a Loyal Alumnus .....	39	Ramsey, Pi '25, Elected H. S. P.....	302
Klevenow Made Coach of Middlebury Varsity .....	121	Rockledge Home of Iota Chapter Is Unsurpassed In Beauty and Splendor .....	181
Lambda Men Make Phi Beta Kappa, Three .....	298	Scheick Made President of Middlebury Seniors .....	308
Letter Men Get Sweaters Thanks To Cook, Delta .....	208	Skold, Xi '22, Elected to Innocents, Otto .....	308
Linder, Beta '19, on Expedition to Liberia .....	286	Senior Blazer Committee Is Headed By Bloser, Zeta .....	123
Lindsey Gets Medal For Work In Animal Nutrition .....	215	Seventeenth Interfraternity Conference Held In New York.....	13
Logan Stars on Varsity In First Year at O. A. C. ....	117	Sigma's H. S. P. Engages In Seven Fields of Activity .....	38
Major Sport Captains at Middlebury Are Versatile .....	223	Tait, Dr. John, Alpha, Dies In Washington, Age 98 .....	229
Maloney, Gamma, Studies French Social Conditions .....	122	The Mystic Circle .....	136, 243, 319
Many Campus Offices Held by Pi's H. S. P. ....	32	TOMAHAWK Life Subscription Fund Mounting Steadily .....	22
McConnell, Chi '20, Made Baseball Captain .....	303	Tommy Talks .....	28, 110, 200
McPherrren, Charles L., Represents All Oklahoma College Fraternities In Important Tax Case.....	31	Tommy Squawks .....	74, 258, 337
Merrill Chosen Annually To Head Kappa's Alumni .....	117	Twice All-Coast Center Is Record of Higgins, Mu .....	217
Methods For Raising Money From Alumni and Alumni Support, Wm. L. Phillips , Grand Secretary Sigma Phi Epsilon .....	103	Two Alpha Alpha Men Run on Oklahoma Track Team .....	228
Miller Only Colorado Man Who Wears Three Keys .....	124	Two Sig Wrestlers Battle For Same Varsity Position .....	232
Murphy, Chi '23, Goes To Sea, Ships as Ordinary Seaman .....	193	Ulbrickson, Mu, Hailed As Best Crew Stroke .....	32
Numerous Honors Won By Hitz of Chi Chapter .....	118	Wadsworth, Nu '17, Awarded Fellowship .....	287
		Warren, Xi '23, Colonel of Pershing Rifles .....	295
		Widenor's Musical Gifts Add To Upsilon Prestige .....	37
		Young's Football Record Unequaled

	Page
At California .....	125
Zelt Directs Safety of Pittsburgh
Yellow Cabs .....	117
Zeta Active In Athletics .....	305

	Page
Zeta Breaks 2 Records, Wins Intra- mural Festival .....	214
Zeta Man's Plant First To Be "Wired Wireless" .....	36

Illustrations

December 1925

Alpha Delta Seniors, 34; Axley and Eaton, 44; Barnes, Laurence A., 9; Bayley, Arnold, 43; Charles, C. M. 38; Crapo, William W., 41; Fisher, Martin T. 11; Foos, Irvin D., 4; Hahn, William, 42; Kearney, Patrick, 16; Lattin, Clarence L., 7; McComas, Earl W. 6; McPherron, Charles E. 30; Puller, Edwin E. 2; Radio Rabot, The, 43; Rodlum, Troy M. 5; Strang, Herbert L. P. 32; Widenor, Russell, 37; Worthington, George E. 20; Young, B. F. 21.

February 1926

Alpha Alpha Chapter House, 115; Babcock, Frederick L. 88; Bloser, Parker Z., 123; Bowen, A. Vernon, 120; Clarke, Benjamin, 85; Darrah, G. Blaine, 93; Elliott, Hon. Charles Burke, 82; Flora, William R., 112; Hagan, Prof. W. A. 122; Hintz, Gifford, 118; Hogan, Daniel W. Jr. 119; Holden, W. H. T. 94; Jagoeki, Robert L. 95; Klevenow, Marshall M., 121; Kuykendahl, C. Porter, 99; Logan, John, 116; McDonald, George H. 91; Miller, Orville M. 124; Mitchell, Charles E. 92; Oosterbaan, Ben G. 112; Pearson, Clarence N. 123; Rice, Cleaveland J. 90; Scheib, Donald D. 87; Sights in Batavia and Egypt, Some Interesting, 96; Young, John A. 125.

May 1926

Active Members of Iota Chapter, 186; After Portion of U. S. S. Shenandoah as she lay on the Morning of September 3, 1925; Avery, Hobart R., 226; Backus, Dana C. 211; Bailey, Horrell, 228; Bliss, George E. 226; Bucher, W. Stewart, 226; Burr, William A., 223; Cook, Clayton R., 209; Crapo, William W. 213; Dining Hall, Kappa's New Home, 195; Dining Hall of Iota Chapter, 183; Drum, R. Steward, 231; Flemming, Arthur S. 230; Feuchter, William N., 217; Forward Part of U. S. S. Shenandoah, 170; Greene, Joseph W. 216; Higgins, William D. 218; Holt, Henry, 188; Houghton, Lt. Arthur R. 170; Interior View of U. S. S. Shenandoah showing arrangement of fuel and oil tanks, 175; Lang, Beryl, 215; Leak, Lloyd E. 232; Lower Lounge of Iota Chapter, 182; Lower Lounge of Iota with View towards the Gorge, 185; Mayer, Lt. Roland G. 170; Murphy, Ralph M. 193; Novotny, Joseph C. 224; Oehlert, Lewis H. 197; Psi Chapter Track Team, Champion, 233; Rockledge, Home of Iota Chapter, 180; Schwingel, Vincent J. 226; Stephens, Boothe, 228; Trinkaus, G. Belden 221; Troye, Hans, 202; Troye in Action, 205; Upsilon Boxing Team, 206; Upper Lounge, Iota Chapter, 185; U. S. S. Shenandoah Ready for Mooring 173; Vassar J. A. 232; Wiley, Gordon E. 224.

August 1926

Alpha Zeta Chapter, 266; Alpha Zeta Chapter House, 269; Archibald, Richard M. 295; Armstrong, Elmer C. 296; Burgess, T. M. 301; Campbell, L. Roy, 294; Cutts, Frank, 307; Dunn, J. Stannard, 298; Eberlin, Walter C. 298; Graham, Grayson, 274; Installation Banquet of Alpha Zeta Chapter, 273; Letter Men of Delta, 292; Linder, David H. 287; McConnell, Albert B. 303; McDowell, Jack J. 297; Mueller, Charles H. 299; Ramsey, Thomas E. 302; Scene of Installation of Alpha Zeta, 275; Scheick, William H. 309; Skold, Otto, 308; Snyder, Steven T. 297; Southern California, Views at, 277, 278; Tremper, Carlton O. 296; Zeta's Intra Mural Track Team, 305; Zeta's Intra Mural Relay Team, 306.

The
VOLUME TWENTY-THREE TOMAHAWK NUMBER ONE

---

Official Publication of ALPHA SIGMA PHI

---

DECEMBER
Nineteen Hundred Twenty Five

---

CHARLES A. MITCHELL . . . . . Editor

---

Published under the direction of the Grand Prudential Committee of Alpha Sigma Phi

Office of THE TOMAHAWK . . . . . 331 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

EDWIN S. PULLER

President of the Washington Alumni Council and General Chairman of the Twelfth National Convention

The
TOMAHAWK
Alpha Sigma Phi

---

DECEMBER NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY FIVE

---

Twelfth National Convention Draws Many Enthusiastic Alpha Sigs to Washington

Committee entertains delegates with splendid programs

ONE hundred active and alumni delegates representing the twenty-eight active chapters and twenty-two alumni councils of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity assembled in Washington September 8, 9, 10, and 11, 1925, at the Hotel Mayflower for the Twelfth Biennial Convention of the "Old Gal".

And what a convention it was! Work from morning until night and then more work. Everything was fine except the heat and it was terrific. However, to offset the lack of cool air, the enthusiastic Washington Alumni Council under the able direction of Edwin S. Puller, had arranged one of the most extensive programs that a fraternity convention could expect.

The scene of action was the Chinese Room of the Hotel Mayflower. That is, the business sessions and the convention ball were held there. There was plenty of action outside of the hotel. In the publicity campaign the Washington Alumni Council made glowing promises as to the beauty of Washington, the sights that could be seen and the good time that could be had by all. It wasn't exaggerated in the least and they even left out a few of the things that some of the more ambitious members included in their itinerary.

The members of the fraternity who stayed at the Hotel Mayflower, the convention headquarters, were loud in their praise for the service and conveniences that were extended by the hotel to the fraternity. Washington is an unusual city and the Hotel Mayflower is in keeping with the beauty and hospitality of the city. As H. C. Witwer would say, "It is a pretty classy little drum".

IRVIN D. FOOS

Chairman Publicity Committee

The Delegates Arrive

The advance guard consisting of G. Blaine Darrah, Chairman of the Grand Prudential Committee, Charles

A. Mitchell, Executive Secretary, and Otto Skold, official delegate from Xi chapter, arrived Sunday evening and found one or two other members of the fraternity waiting for the convention to open.

By Monday evening, practically all of the delegates were on hand and Monday and Monday night were spent in long discussions of the various issues to come up in the convention. In the meantime a few of the Grand Officers had arrived on the scene and things began to take on a real business like appearance.

Those on the inside claim that the convention issues were settled Monday night in some of the discussions that took place in the various rooms; whether they were or not is of little importance since the presiding officer, Benjamin Clarke, Grand Junior President, was not present, nor was Brother Musgrave, Grand Junior President Emeritus, who, according to Hoyle, was to be the final judge of all legislation.

The First Day

Tuesday morning, September 8, was scheduled to find the convention going at full speed. As usual, with fraternity conventions, a few minor details had to be taken care of and then everything was set for the call to order. The morning was taken up with the renewing of friendships and discussing various problems that were to come before the convention. Brothers Clarke, McDonald, Sullivan, Stinson, Ibenfelt, and a few others had arrived from Chicago and immediately plunged into the discussions that were going on among the various groups in the convention room.

Chairman Martin T. Fisher of the Finance Committee registered everyone during the morning and when luncheon was announced, one hundred men had signed the register and had procured their "strip" tickets for the convention. In the meantime, Brother Darrah had volunteered to act as chairman of the credentials committee and this position was taken care of very faithfully by him. It is reported from authentic sources that he had quite a time making some of the delegates eliminate some things from their expense accounts but nevertheless, he had them all in when the gong sounded in the dining room.

The luncheons were very excellent and as much a part of the convention as was Brother Puller's address of welcome, which followed very soon after the delegates had satisfied their appetites and were ready for the more serious work of the convention.

The Convention Opens

Benjamin Clarke, G. J. P., in the absence of Hon. John H. Snodgrass, Grand Senior President, presided at the convention and called the delegates to order promptly at 1:46 P.M., Tuesday, September 8, 1925. After a few preliminary remarks, he introduced George Summers of the Washington Alumni Council, who gave a short address of welcome and in turn introduced Edwin S. Puller, General Chairman of the Convention and President of the Washington Alumni Council, who gave the official address of welcome to the delegates on behalf of the Washington Alumni Council and the city of Washington since there does not seem to be a mayor located there. For the benefit of our readers it will be stated here that Brother Puller is an attorney in Washington, a member of Delta chapter, and a graduate of Marietta in the class of '89.

TROY M. RODLUM
Convention Executive Committee

He outlined the work of the Government at Washington and the educational and cultural features of the city. Those present learned that Washington has six institutions of collegiate grade as well as seven law schools, and that the Department of Agriculture has enough men in it to furnish a complete faculty for the Universities of Harvard, Cornell, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Chicago. The Bureau of Standards has a large the chief distinction being that it is a city of small size while the others are the centers of population. In closing he again welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Washington Alumni Council and outlined the program for the four day session, and in addition made an announcement relative to the dance that was to be confirmed later.

Ben Clarke thanked Brother Puller for his welcome and told him that every man present appreciated the amount of work that a convention committee had to do to make a convention a success and he was certain that everyone appreciated their efforts.

Cleaveland J. Rice of Alpha was called on for the invocation, after which the executive secretary was elected permanent secretary of the convention and the delegates rose and sang "Brotherhood Imperial".

When the roll had been called, it was found that one delegate, Joseph Full of Zeta had not arrived. Ralph Ibenfelt of Eta was appointed as assistant secretary of the convention by the chair and the official delegate from each chapter arose and gave the names of the men attending the convention from his particular chapter.

The matter of appointing the various committees was taken up and discussed by the Chairman and the delegates. It was finally decided that suggestions should be made as to the personnel of the committees and the committees would be definitely determined a little later.

EARL W. MCCOMAS
Chairman Reception Committee

staff of scientists and the Departments of State and Justice are well equipped with lawyers.

In addition he told of the large number of men of keen intellects in government work in Washington and the difference between Washington as the capitol of the United States and the capitols of other countries,

Cleaveland Rice then introduced a document he had been working on for approximately four years. It developed that he had gone through the minutes of all the conventions and picked out all the legislation that had been passed and found that considerable of it overlapped some of the legislation that had been passed at other conventions.

He asked for a committee to be appointed to go over this matter with him carefully and get it in shape to present to the convention rather than present the whole thing. After some discussion the motion was passed.

The method of handling the constitution was discussed and Brother Musgrave thought it should be taken care of by turning the convention into a committee of the whole while others thought it should be taken care of by a specific committee. The final decision was for a Ways and Means Committee to be appointed to take care of deciding how the constitution should be placed before the convention.

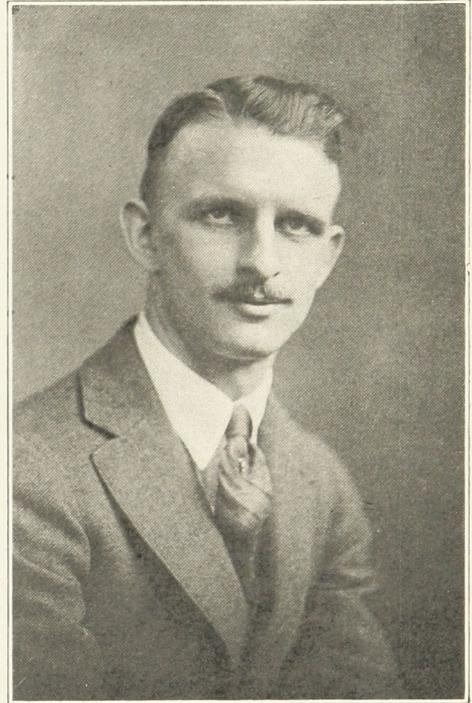

There were suggestions for the nominations committee, resolutions and auditing committee and the matter of the fraternity history was left to Brother Musgrave to make his report.

The matter of having the minutes of the 1923 Convention read was dispensed with and the reports of the Grand Officers were called for.

Grand Officers' Reports

No report had been received from Grand Senior President John H.

Snodgrass but it was stated that he would read a report at the banquet. Chairman Clarke called on Brother Wayne M. Musgrave for a report as Grand Junior President Emeritus, which was given orally. This report was very brief and merely outlined the work Brother Musgrave had turned over to Brother Clarke when he became the Grand Junior President. He also stated that he had served in an advisory capacity during the past two years.

CLARENCE L. LATTIN
Chairman Banquet Committee

Benjamin Clarke read a report as Grand Junior President giving in detail the work that he had carried on during the past two years as expansion officer of the fraternity. He told of the installations that had taken place during the two years and of the pending petitions as well as colleges in which he was investigating the possibilities of getting petitions.

Gillespie Blaine Darrah, Chairman of the Grand Prudential Committee, read the report of that committee outlining the activities for the past two years. He outlined the changes in personnel since the convention in 1923, told how the date and place for holding the convention was determined, that a directory of the fraternity had been published as an issue of THE TOMAHAWK, and in addition he took up such matters as chapter visitation, THE TOMAHAWK finances, chapter reports, co-operation with the Grand Junior President, the Constitution, appointment of delegates and alternates to the Interfraternity Conference, and the Organization of National Headquarters.

The Editor of THE TOMAHAWK, Charles A. Mitchell, read a report that outlined the finances of THE TOMAHAWK in detail and explained how the revenue derived from THE TOMAHAWK Life Subscription Fund was being used to pay part of the production cost of THE TOMAHAWK and that in time the interest from this fund would entirely take care of the financing of THE TOMAHAWK. He explained how all the work was carried on in the Central Office of the fraternity.

Following the report of the Editor of THE TOMAHAWK, Wayne M. Musgrave gave his report as chairman of the standing committee on the history of the fraternity. He reported that the history was almost complete and that he was ready to go ahead with the production work as soon as the funds were available.

He reviewed the sources of his material, the length of time he has spent in writing the history and the authorities he had to back up his statements. He said that he expected to write a short history of each chapter in connection with the history itself, bringing these chapters right up to date. He reviewed some of the accomplishments of the alumni that he had discovered and went into detail about the index which he wishes to make very copious.

He outlined the financial plan that he was formulating to produce the history; that is, five or six hundred members are to loan twenty dollars each on the certificate plan and this is to be repaid when the books sold.

The Song Book

The matter of having a song book published was next discussed. Brother Hall's report as chairman had not been received and it was decided that the committee should be discharged with thanks and the matter turned over to the Grand Prudential Committee. Financing the song book has been a problem that has confronted every committee that has ever tried to issue one and the members of the Grand Prudential Committee in attendance at the convention wanted to know about how much they could spend on a song book. After some discussion this was referred to the resolutions committee to draw up a proper resolution.

A report from L. Roy Campbell, Grand Treasurer, was read in which he recommended that a published report be sent to the chapters and alumni councils showing the condition of the fraternity's finances every six months.

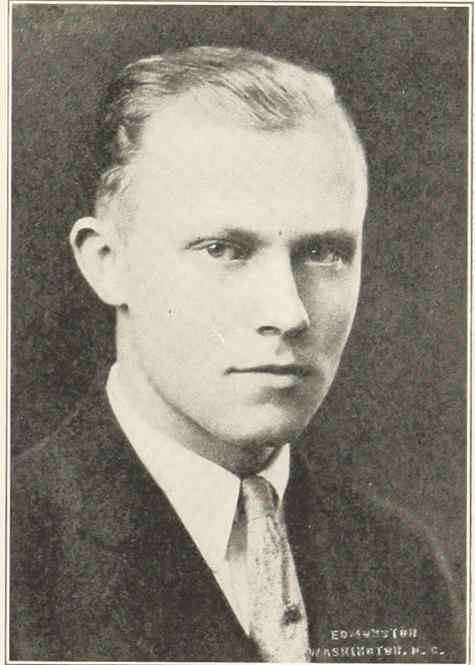

The active delegates were given a chance to deliver their reports following the officers' reports. Several active men failed to have their reports written and delivered them from memory. Others had complete written reports. This was carried on until the adjourning hour, which had been decided as five o'clock.

Following dinner, the delegates gathered to discuss the matter of expansion. Every man present expressed the opinion of his chapter relative to this important subject and it gave Brother Clarke an excellent opportunity to find out how each of the chapters felt relative to expansion. This evening session was one of the most profitable of the convention. As a result, most of the chapters favored a conservative expansion with the fraternity seeking to establish chapters in some of the more desirable southern colleges and western colleges.

A number of delegates talked for some of the locals that are already petitioning Alpha Sigma Phi, giving their various strong points and in a general way outlining the benefit to be derived from having a chapter at that particular institution.

Wednesday, September 9

Active delegates continued to deliver their reports on their chapters until it was decided that the convention should be turned into a committee of the whole for work on the constitution. Following this announcement the proper motions were made and the work of going through the constitution started.

LAURENCE A. BARNES
Chairman Sightseeing Committee

Brother Musgrave read each section of the proposed constitution and the changes were made as the work went along. The chapters were unanimous in their disapproval of the Senate plan for voting on petitions and voted to have all that taken out.

The work on the constitution took up all of Wednesday morning and a few hours were devoted to it Wednesday evening before the Grand Ball. Wednesday afternoon was turned over to sightseeing Washington. It was a great trip and enjoyed by everyone. Every place of interest was visited and inspected carefully.

The Convention Ball was a great success. The music was superb and the partners that had been furnished by the Washington Alumni Council and Convention Dance Committee were even better. The party lasted well into the night and everyone voted it the best they had ever attended. Eddie Schissel, official delegate from Omicron, demonstrated how the "Charleston" should be danced, jigged and shuffled and was awarded loud applause for his efforts.

Thursday, September 10

The business session was continued and it was decided that the Constitution should be turned over to a committee composed of Brothers Musgrave, Snodgrass, Holden, and McDonald for revision, rewording and rearrangement. They were instructed to leave out everything dealing with the Senate. Brother Musgrave promised that this would be done and that he would endeavor to have the Constitution in the hands of the chapters sometime during the academic year, 1925-26.

A few more of the delegates were called on for their reports and when this had been taken care of, it was adjourning time. Following the luncheon, the trip to Mt. Vernon was announced and everyone went to the station where an electric train took the entire convention to Alexandria, Virginia. Here a number of points of interest were visited, after which the trip was continued to Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington.

Mt. Vernon is undoubtedly one of the beauty spots of the United States and well worth visiting. It is very interesting from a historical viewpoint and is located on a beautiful site above the Potomac.

The return trip to Washington was made by boat and enjoyed by everyone. Thursday evening the banquet was held at the Hotel Mayflower. The speakers included Hon. John H. Snodgrass, Grand Senior President, Hon. Albert B. White, former Grand Senior President and the former Governor of West Virginia, Dr. Lewis, president of George Washington University, and Edwin S. Puller, who acted as toastmaster.

Following the banquet, a short business session was held in the banquet room.

Friday, September 11

The various committees reported at this time and the resolutions committee introduced all of their resolutions which were as follows:

Resolved:

1. That this convention shall be known as the Twelfth National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity.

2. That the Twelfth Convention hereby extends a vote of thanks to the Hotel Mayflower for the courteous treatment and convenient facilities accorded the Fraternity during the period of the Convention.

3. That the Twelfth National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity hereby renders its most hearty thanks to the Washington Alumni Council and the General Convention Committee for their excellent work and discriminating judgment in providing such an unusually fine series of entertainments and such extraordinarily convenient facilities.

4. That the Twelfth National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity does hereby express its sincere appreciation for the invaluable work of Brother Cleaveland J. Rice in the compilation and codification of the resolutions, rules, and regulations of our National order.

5. That the Twelfth National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity does hereby extend a vote of heartfelt thanks to Brother Wayne M. Musgrave, Grand Junior President Emeritus, for his persistent efforts in the revision of the present constitution, and does congratulate him upon his inspiring and enduring interest in our fraternity.

6. That the Twelfth National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity does hereby tender its hearty thanks to the jewelry firms of Burr, Patterson and Co., and the L. G. Balfour Co., for the souvenir charms they have given us.

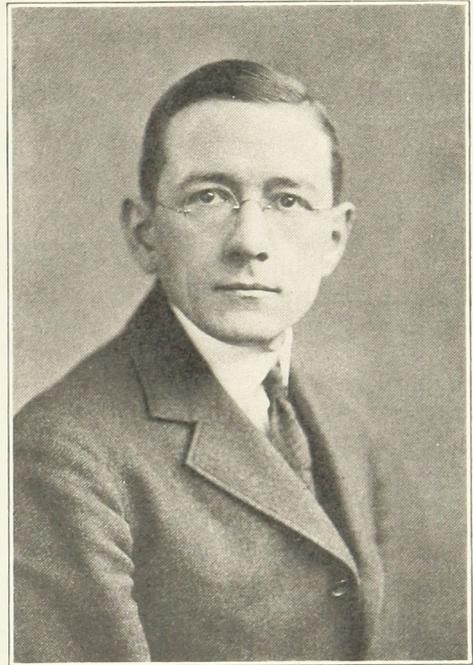

7. That the Standing Committee on the constitution and by-laws appointed prior to this convention shall be discharged with thanks.

8. That the Grand Prudential Committee is authorized and directed to appropriate and pay over to the Grand Junior President on his order from the general funds of the fraternity a sum:

(a) not exceeding $300.00 per annum for office expense incurred by the Grand Junior President in his work as expansion officer, and,

(b) not exceeding $300.00 per annum for traveling and investigation expenses for which he cannot be otherwise reimbursed.

MARTIN T. FISHER
Chairman Finance Committee

9. That the Grand Prudential Committee shall cause a fraternity song book to be published and distributed in such manner as it shall deem to be in accordance with the best interests of the fraternity and the exigencies of its finances, and is empowered to spend not exceeding $200.00 from the general funds for preliminary expenses; but the general plan of financing shall be submitted to the chapters for a referendum majority vote before being put into effect.

10. That it be hereby called to the attention of the chapters that the full names of titles of the chapter officers and Grand Officers shall never be spoken except within the walls of this fraternity and shall not be written under any circumstances; and that everything pertaining to the Mystic Circle and also the song, "Farewell Ye Walls," are strictly secret.

11. That each chapter be assessed fifteen dollars per year, the money from which assessment shall comprise a fund to be used in defraying the expenses of the convention.

12. That the Grand Prudential Committee shall, where the finances of the fraternity will permit, arrange to have the Executive Secretary or one of its members visit each chapter during the period between conventions; that such expenditures shall be made from the general fund of the Fraternity; that the Grand Prudential Committee shall instruct such person as to the nature of his visit.

13. That Brother Wayne M. Musgrave be and he hereby is authorized to form a publication syndicate within the fraternity to raise the funds to issue the History of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity.

The auditing committee reported and recommended that printed reports of the auditor's report be sent to all chapters and alumni councils. They also recommended that the auditor's suggestions relative to keeping the accounts be accepted and acted upon.

It was announced that the President was waiting to receive the delegates so the convention was adjourned and everyone went to the Executive Offices where each delegate had a chance to shake President Coolidge's hand. A photograph was taken at the Executive Offices.

After luncheon the business of the convention continued until the reports of all the committees were in. The nominating committee was the last to report, nominating the Grand Officers for the two year period. The list of their nominations follow:

Grand Senior President, Charles Burke Elliot, Delta.

Grand Junior President, Benjamin Clarke, Theta.

Grand Secretary, Donald D. Scheib, Eta.

Grand Corresponding Secretary, Frederick L. Babcock, Xi.

Grand Treasurer, Cleaveland J. Rice, Alpha.

Grand Marshall, George H. McDonald, Chi.

Editor of THE TOMAHAWK, Charles A. Mitchell, Xi.

All of these men were elected to their respective offices. The Prudential Committee was re-elected, and is as follows:

G. Blaine Darrah, Delta.

W. H. T. Holden, Alpha.

Robert L. Jagocki, Omicron.

Mrs. Edwin S. Puller gave a reception to the visiting ladies at the Chevy Chase Club on Friday afternoon. After all the delegates had been paid, Brother Clarke called for further business and it was decided to adjourn the convention until 1927 when the Thirteenth National Convention of Alpha Sigma Phi should be called.

Seventeenth Annual Interfraternity Conference Held In New York, November 27 and 28, 1925

Two hundred and fifty delegates attend annual gathering

DR. WALTER H. CONLEY,  $\Phi \Sigma \kappa$ , rapped sharply on his table in the small ball room of the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, at 12 o'clock noon, Friday, November 27, 1925, and called the seventeenth annual session of the Interfraternity Conference to order. Two hundred and fifty delegates representing fifty-five fraternities were in attendance and in addition there were representatives of the local interfraternity organizations from colleges all over the United States.

Following the roll call of members, the reading of the Minutes of the 16th Conference was disposed of and the nominations committee appointed. On this committee were Philip J. Ross,  $\Sigma \Phi$ , Louis Rouillion,  $\Delta \Phi$ , O. H. Cheney,  $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$ , George H. Bruce,  $B \Phi \Pi$ , and John R. Perez,  $\Pi \kappa \Lambda$ . Chairman Conley read his report and was followed by Secretary H. Sheridan Baketel,  $B \Phi \Pi$ . Judge William R. Bayes,  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ , Treasurer of the Conference, reported there was a balance of \$4,950.00 on hand.

The committee reports were read by the various chairmen and commented on by the delegates. Oswald C. Hering,  $\Delta \kappa \epsilon$ , Chairman of the Committee on Chapter House Architecture, presented a report that brought forth a great deal of discussion. Mr.

Hering's committee found that the average fraternity chapter house should be erected at a cost of approximately $3,000.00 per man. This amount would insure a chapter of a fire proof house and a permanent piece of property that would not deteriorate in a short time. This amount was considered too high by a number of delegates and was defended by the members of the committee.

Dean Thomas Arkle Clarke,  $A T \Omega$ , reported that Theta Nu Epsilon was progressing with their work of cleaning house and he seemed to think that this organization would eventually outgrow the reputation that it had for a number of years.

Friday evening was turned over to the Visitation Officers under the direction of Colonel Alexander A. Sharp of Sigma Chi. Following the dinner the evening was taken up with a discussion of the visitation officers' problems and how they could best be solved.

After a great deal of discussion on the part of those attending, it developed that the older visitation officers favored the idea that fraternities should not send young men into the field to inspect the chapters but should send the older men who have had more experience and know the problems with which the chapters are confronted and how these problems may be taken care of. Since the older men outnumbered the younger men and the hour was late, the younger visitation officers had very little opportunity to defend their side of the question. However, it was unanimously decided that chapter visitation is one thing that really benefits the chapter of any fraternity and it should be carried out in a way that will give the national officers a clear understanding of their various chapters.

Saturday morning was devoted entirely to talks. Francis W. Shepardson, B @ II, Past Chairman of the Conference, gave a splendid address on the aims and purposes of the Interfraternity Conference and how the spirit of the conference could be translated into the undergraduate life of the colleges. He cited an example of how his fraternity was at swords' points with another group at Denison during his college days and how he felt that he would always hold a personal grudge against the members of that fraternity, but he had learned to know other men in that particular group and became very closely related with them in the work of the conference. His former animosity was completely lost in the work of the conference and he stated that was the manner in which every fraternity man who attended the conference would find matters.

Mr. W. L. Phillips of Sigma Phi Epsilon, a charter member of their Alpha Chapter and their chief executive officer, addressed the Conference on the methods of raising money from Alumni, Alumni support and co-operation. The editor hopes to print this report in full in the next issue of THE TOMAHAWK as it is very interesting and solves a problem that a large number of fraternities are confronted with. Chapter Finance and Accounting was ably discussed by Mr. A. B. Wellar of Ithaca, New York. Mr. Wellar has taken care of the books of the fraternities at Cornell for many years and is well qualified to discuss this subject. He told of the accounting systems used, the methods used, the methods of purchasing, auditing and the contact with the tradesmen. This is another report that will probably be reprinted in a future issue of THE TOMAHAWK.

Old Fraternities for New Ones was a subject that William C. Levere, Σ A E and president of the College Editors Association, discussed humorously and otherwise as only he could. Mr. Levere is a real authority on fraternities and his talk, while of a somewhat humorous nature, was full of ideas that gave those attending something to think about.

Fraternity Scholarship came in for the usual amount of discussion and Alvan E. Duerr, President of Delta Tau Delta, explained the system his fraternity uses and the success that it has attained in the chapters. John Allen Blair addressed the Conference on the subject of the Fraternity as a National Asset. He showed where the fraternities are helping the young men in all the colleges and are as much a part of a college education as some of the required courses that are given today.

The nominations committee reported on the election of officers and Henry R. Johnson,  $\Delta K E$ , was elected to succeed Dr. Walter H. Conley as Chairman, Dr. H. Sheridan Baketel was elected to the position of Vice-chairman and Robert H. Neilson,  $\Delta \Phi$ , was elected Secretary.

Alpha Sigma Phi was represented at the Conference by Hon. John H. Snodgrass, former Grand Senior President, Wayne M. Musgrave, Grand Junior President Emeritus, Benjamin Clarke, Grand Junior President, G. Blaine Darrah, W. H. T. Holden, Robert L. Jagoeki, all of the Grand Prudential Committee, Charles A. Mitchell, Executive Secretary and Editor of THE TOMAHAWK, and Charles E. Hall, former Executive Secretary and Editor of THE TOMAHAWK.

Following the Conference on Friday evening, a dinner was held at the Columbia Club which was attended by members of the Grand Prudential Committee, former Grand Officers and a few of the present Grand Officers and former members of the Grand Prudential Committee and the National Advisory Committee.

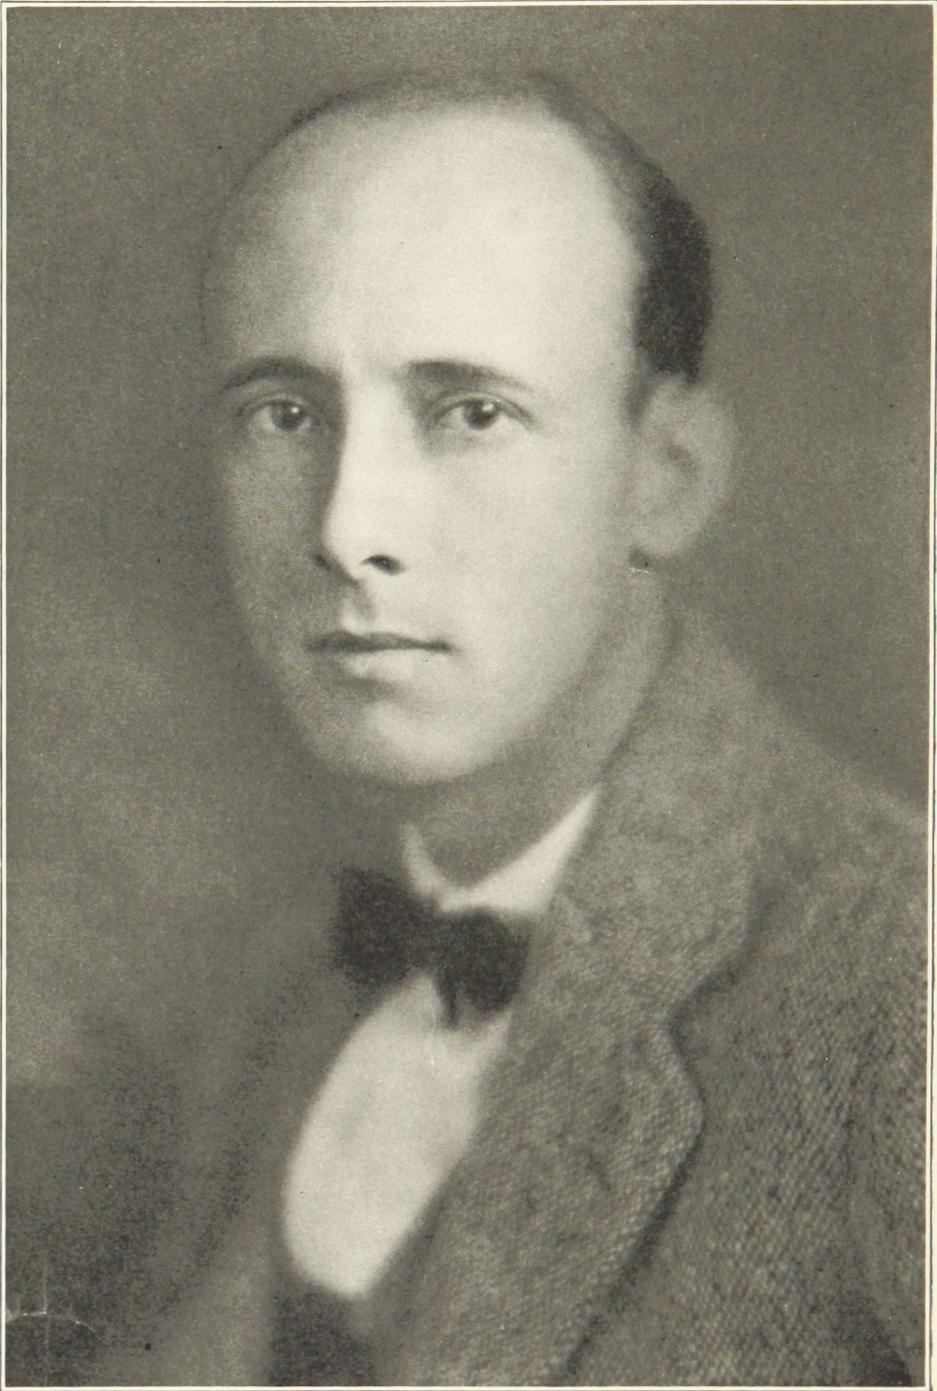

The annual dinner of the College Fraternity Editors' Association was held at the Hotel Pennsylvania, Saturday evening, November 28, 1925, and was well attended. Following a hearty meal, Colonel Levere, president of the association and editor of The Record of  $\Sigma A E$ , called the meeting to order and Chester W. Cleveland, Secretary and Editor of the  $\Sigma X$  Quarterly, called the roll.

The chief topic for discussion was the matter of national advertising for the fraternity publications. Lauren Upson, business manager of the  $\Delta K E$  Quarterly, put forth a plan whereby the fraternities should organize a company, each fraternity contributing \$500.00 to begin with, and this money be used in research and getting the plan started. The fraternities were to receive this \$500.00 back and the profits to the venture as they came in. This matter was turned over to the Executive Committee.

Election of officers was held and Chester W. Cleveland was elected president to succeed William C. Levere. Cecil J. Wilkinson, editor of the  $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$  magazine was re-elected vice-president and Harrold P. Flint, business manager of the  $T K E$  Quarterly, was elected Secretary, President Cleveland appointed an Executive Committee consisting of Frank C. Ferguson, editor of the Caduceus of  $K \Sigma$ , Harold J. Johnson, editor of The Shield and Diamond of  $\Pi K A$  and Charles A. Mitchell, editor of THE TOMAHAWK of  $A \Sigma \Phi$ .

After the official meeting had adjourned, editors of the various publications gathered around in an informal discussion of the many problems the fraternity editor is up against and at a late hour declared the Seventeenth Interfraternity Conference officially adjourned.

PATRICK KEARNEY
Zeta '13, Ohio State '15

Zeta Alpha Sig Scores Big Success On Broadway as Author of "A Man's Man"

Dramatic critics and newspapers high in their praise for
Patrick Kearney

ON THE evening of October 13 there opened at the Fifty-second Street Theater in New York, a play called "A Man's Man", by one Patrick Kearney. The play was sponsored by The Stagers, a dramatic group which opened its second successful subscription season with this play. Patrick Kearney was initiated into Zeta chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi on October 4, 1913, and served for a year as H.C.S.

Kearney began his writing career during his three years at Ohio State University. He wrote for all the magazines, but chiefly for the Sundial, the humorous publication of the college. When he left in 1915 he was editor-elect of this magazine for the following year.

His decision to leave college was made, he insists, when he sold a joke to Puck for two dollars, and was thereby convinced that New York needed him. But he did not sell any more jokes to Puck. New York produced an acting job instead, and for six months he received seventeen dollars a week for "walking down a flight of stairs" in "Common Clay", in which Jane Cowl was starring.

Shortly thereafter he became editor of "The Motion Picture Mail", a weekly magazine sponsored by the daily newspaper, The New York

Evening Mail. In this capacity he had the honor of seeing his name on the cover of the publication, and of receiving a weekly salary of twelve dollars—which was just three dollars less than they paid his secretary!

His work on the Mail developed his interest in and knowledge of the motion picture field, and he became an extra with the Famous Players. Later he joined the advertising department of that company, and finally was put in charge of the publicity of the Famous Players chain of theaters throughout the country. From this position he went to that of advertising manager of William Randolph Hearst's Cosmopolitan Film Company, handling Marion Davies's picture, "Little Old New York" and other productions.

He returned to the legitimate theater, leaving New York to become executive director of a Milwaukee stock company known as the Players Guild, where he remained for two seasons. His next job was the one he now holds, that of business manager of The Stagers. His play, "A Man's Man", is his first three-act play to be produced, and its success has been so marked that it is moving to the Forty-ninth Street Theater, which has a much larger seating capacity than the small, artistic house on Fifty-second Street.

During his year of apprenticeship, and of late when he has climbed steadily higher in his chosen work, Kearney contributed articles on a wide variety of subjects to the leading periodicals of the day, among them Vanity Fair, The Dial, The American Mercury, Smart Set, and The Freeman.

Kearney's life, from his early days to the present, is sketched with his whimsical humor in the following autobiographical note, which appears on the first page of the program of "A Man's Man":

"Theatrical producers are unreasonable. Not satisfied with getting a play out of me, The Stagers have demanded an autobiography for their program as well. Fortunately there is little to tell. My name, I am told, leads many people to think I was born in Ireland. But my grandfathers left there some seventy years ago, enabling me to be born in Ohio. This was in 1893, and some years later I entered Ohio State University. After I had spent three years there I felt it was time for me to set about getting an education. So I came to New York. . . .

"About eight years ago I wandered into the office of the Washington Square Players with a one-act play—my first. It was received with pleasant words by Edward Goodman, who insisted that I should write more plays. He has since, by means of tricks, insults, bribes, threats, aid, advice, flattery, scorn, and physical violence kept me at it in odd moments and has been indirectly responsible for half a dozen or so short plays and sketches which little theatres occasionally produce.

"During the course of his constant annoyance of me, I happened to remark once that in most American plays the hero jumps from rags to riches in three acts, whereas in most American life he struggles upward in the course of three generations—with the middle generation squeezed hard between. We are apt to pass by this middle generation with a laugh or a shudder, as absurd and unimportant in itself, not stopping to feel the ridiculous pity of it or to realize its essential place in the ladder-scheme of our American life. When I had mentioned this, Goodman redoubled his persecutions. 'A Man's Man' is the result."

The theatrical and the lay world have not been slow to recognize his ability as a playwright. The play is to be published by Brentano in book form, in time for the Christmas sale. The press called the play keen and penetrating, a marvel of realism, unusually well written—even "the best play by a contemporary author seen in many a year". Patrick Kearley, together with Sidney Howard, George Kelly, and Eugene O'Neill, is to be a guest of honor at the Drama League dinner. This mark of distinction justified the judgment of the dramatic critic of Vogue, who said, "With 'A Man's Man' The Stagers jump to an important position, and Patrick Kearney takes his place among the upper group of American Dramatists."

Former Grand Officers Are Authors of Two Important Books in Their Respective Fields

IT IS quite frequent that members of the fraternity break into print in one way or another but when it comes to writing books, that is another matter. However, two members of the fraternity have found time during the past year or so to publish books that are considered very authentic in their respective fields.

Both of these men being former Grand Officers of the fraternity, it is only fitting and proper that their books should be reviewed together. The two men who are responsible for the books are George Edmunde Worthington, Kappa, '09, Wisconsin, '10, Grand Corresponding Secretary from 1923 to 1925, and Benjamin Franklin Young, Epsilon, '13, Ohio Wesleyan, '13, Chairman of the Grand Prudential Committee from 1921 to 1924 when he resigned due to the pressure of business interests.

The latest publication of Brother Worthington comes under the title of "Specialized Courts Dealing with Sex Delinquency." He is a joint author of the book. This book is in the family of publications of the Bureau of Social Hygiene of the American Social Hygiene Association, New York City, of which he is the Acting Director of the Department of Legal Measures. In addition, he is attorney for the National Probation Association and a special consultant of the United States Interdepartment Board.

This book deals with a study of the procedure of the courts dealing with sex delinquency in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and New York. It has been divided into six chapters, the first four chapters being devoted to a report of the investigations of the courts in each of the cities previously named. The fifth chapter gives a comparative study of the organization and methods of the four courts, while the sixth and final chapter details the recommendations of the authors for the establishment and standardization of these courts in other cities.

There are many valuable tables inserted after every chapter in the book, showing statistics relative to the courts and cases in each of the cities. Before publication, the book was submitted to numerous specialists in this type of work for criticism and suggestions. In some instances the original view has been modified.

It is considered one of the most important investigations conducted by the Bureau and it is expected to be of great value to students of social work as well as to such municipalities as may be planning to establish special courts to deal with sex delinquents.

Brother Worthington is also the author of "Developments in Social Hygiene Legislation" and is a joint author of "A Study of Morals Courts in Four Large Cities."

"Statistics as Applied in Business," is the title of Brother Young's product. It is a large book, divided into five distinct parts with an introduction and appendix. The book contains 625 pages, allotted to forty-seven chapters.

GEORGE E. WORTHINGTON

This book deals entirely with the subject of "Statistics." Brother Young is well qualified to write on this subject, having been an instructor in statistics in the New York University School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance and now acting as Assistant Chief Accountant of the New York Telephone Company, New York City.

Following the introduction is Part One, which contains twenty-two chapters dealing with the facts required in a program of statistics. Some of these facts relate to personnel, finance, operations, sources of the facts and the collecting of data.

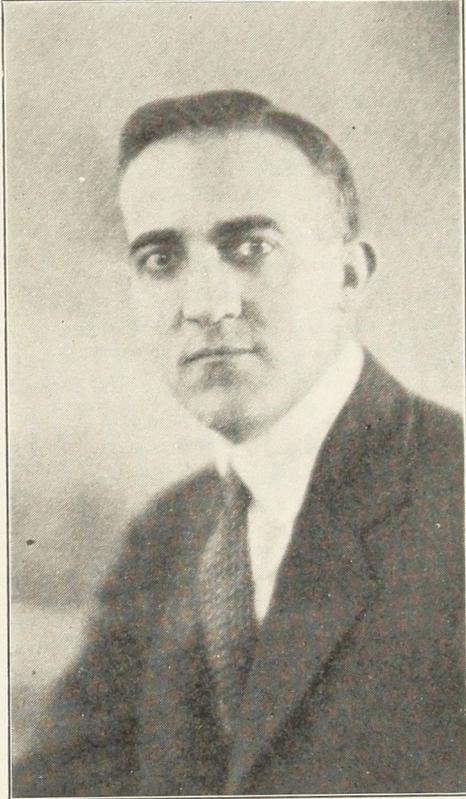

Part Two is devoted to the organization of the basic records. It is a small part, having only two chapters, which deal with the editing of the primary basic records and the different types of basic records.

Part Three is composed of ten chapters relating to the presentation of the statistical data. There is one general chapter on the presenting of this type of data while the other chapters deal with the textual method, tabular method, the construction of a statistical table, the graphic method with its variations, such as the bar, curve, and the logarithmic or ratio graph. The final chapter takes up maps, circles, areas, volumes and pictures as used in statistical work.

The last two parts, four and five, are devoted to the analysis and interpretation of statistical data and three miscellaneous chapters that deal with mechanical aids in statistical work, statistics and accounting and the organization of a program of statistics.

The appendix is divided into six divisions which deal with statistical terms, reports and statements, logarithms, problems, some pertinent facts relative to a selected group of American Index Numbers and a chapter on the short method of computing the arithmetic average.

In addition there are one hundred and forty-seven illustrations in the book. These are classified as follows: personnel, financial and operations records, general statistical graphs, frequency graphs, index, correlation and time series, mechanical aids, organization charts and statistical reports and statements.

B. F. YOUNG

Four Alumni Councils Choose New Officers

The Cleveland Council was the most forehanded in the matter of choosing officers. It held a combined business meeting and picnic, on June 27, and a good time as well as some worth-while business was achieved. The following were selected to head the Council for the year 1925-26: C. W. Auer, 842 East 79 Street, Cleveland, president; E. S. Kern, 9731 Logan Court, Cleveland, vice-president; and R. P. Peters, 615 Caxton Building, Cleveland, secretary-treasurer. At present the group does not hold regular luncheons.

The Seattle Council held its first meeting of the Fall on September 2 at a luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce Building. It was decided to hold weekly noon meetings in place of the monthly evening gatherings held in the past. Irving D. Winslow was elected president, E. Allen Peyser, vice president, David E. Baldwin, secretary, Frank Turnbull, treasurer, and Charles Tyler, sergeant at arms.

Chicago Council, on Tuesday, October 13, chose for its president C. William Cleworth, 7 North Dearborn Street, Chicago; for secretary Ralph W. Ibenfeldt, 1401, 10 South La Salle Street, Chicago; and for treasurer R. E. Newhall, 121 North Jefferson Street, Chicago.

The Oklahoma City Council's main object this year is to help along the Alpha Alpha chapter at the University of Oklahoma in Norman. Its first Fall meeting was held on October 2, 1925 at the home of Dr. Ralph E. Myers, 1309 East 13 Street. Charles E. McPherrren was elected president for the year; Doctor Myers was chosen as vice president and Scott P. Squyres as secretary-treasurer.

Tomahawk Life Subscription Fund Is Mounting Steadily as Alumni and Active Men Subscribe

THE TOMAHAWK Life Subscription Fund is growing steadily, receiving help from both the alumni and active men. A year ago 40 alumni had paid their $15.00 for a life subscription and there were approximately 600 active men who had paid $10.00 for a life subscription.

At the present time, 101 alumni have contributed $15.00 for the privilege of receiving THE TOMAHAWK for life while two have paid $25.00 each. The two who paid the $25.00 were life subscribers before the present law was in effect. The men who are life subscribers under the active law, or $10.00 rule, number approximately 1500. This number will increase approximately 600 each year with the present number of chapters, and more in proportion when the number of chapters increases.

The Life Subscription Fund showed a balance of $16,035.00 on November 1, 1925. Of this amount, $550.00 was due the fraternity from two chapters. The method of investing this money has not been definitely determined. A committee appointed by the Grand Prudential Committee is working on the matter and expects to have some definite legislation for the chapters to pass on in a short time.

Until an investing program can be arranged, the money is being placed in savings banks as fast as it accumulates. The income from the fund this year will be approximately $750.00.

The fund should reach a total of $22,500.00 by July 31, 1925, the close of the present fiscal year.

As a matter of record, the names of the $15.00 and the two $25.00 life subscribers are printed in this issue. The men are listed according to chapters.

Alpha

Oliver F. Bishop
George T. Elliot
Clarence L. Lattin
Harris F. MacNeish
Lloyd O. Mayer
Wayne M. Musgrave
Nicholas F. Rago
Cleaveland J. Rice
Guy M. Russell
William E. Schultz
Joseph A. Wakeman
Russell G. Warner

Beta

Austin C. Alden
Dwight E. Campbell
Carl E. Croson
Henry W. Drucker
Thomas Worcester

Gamma

Joel E. Goldthwait
Howard L. Knight
James R. O'Grady
Henry F. Staples

Delta

William E. Byers
G. Blaine Darrah
Arthur W. Hutchison
Charles A. Ludey
Kenner McConnell
Frank R. McGrew
Charles F. Roeser
John H. Snodgrass
Arthur J. Warner

Epsilon

Thomas G. Hoffman
Henry H. Yoder
Benjamin F. Young

Zeta

Clifford R. Athy
Daniel L. Evans
George W. Oakes
Paul J. Roberts

Eta

Myron D. Downs
Donald F. Glos

Theta

William J. Alexander, Jr.
Charles H. Brady
Benjamin Clarke
Herbert L. Dunham
Bernard G. Krause
William C. Mullendorfer
Vernon H. Pfaender
Daniel C. Walsler
Edward F. Walsh, Jr.

Iota

George W. Griffiths
Morris A. Sloecom
Dean C. Wiggins

Kappa

Clarence H. Beglinger
George B. Sippel
Frank A. Tuhscherer
Clifton W. Windfelder

Lambda

William D. Ahearn
Philip Bliss
Walter G. Crump, Jr.
Bernard A. Cruse
Ralph C. Hawkins
Leonard S. Henry
Raymond H. Kenyon
C. Porter Kuykendall
Robert C. Murray
Albert D. Trenor

Mu

Carl B. Anderson

Nu

Paul L. Fussell
Frederick Gibson
Frank F. Hargear
Albert B. Smith
Frederick E. Wesson

Omicron

L. Roy Campbell
Christian Heurich, Jr.
Robert L. Jagocki
Charles W. Perry
Fred S. Van Woert
William H. Wilkinson

Pi

John P. Commons

Rho

Adam C. Brown
Anders J. Carlson
Lawrence S. Clark
Thomas F. Gallagher
Clarence J. Iverson
Ivan C. Lawrence
Carl E. Lebeck
Clarence E. Olson
Troy M. Rodlun
George A. Schurr
Frank J. Tupa

Tau

Robert J. Clendenin
William C. Fundenberg
Grayson B. Graham*
Wesley M. Heine
Harold J. Lewis
Frank R. Miller

Upsilon

Harold M. Lehman
William R. Lubold

Phi

Aaron H. Groth
Edward Thayer

Chi

Chester A. Hammill*
Henry G. Hulbert
William J. G. Land
George H. McDonald

*$25.00 subscriptions

Broken Oars

or

How I Beat Harvard Back in Umpty-two

EDMUND B. SHOTWELL, Alpha '20

WELL, so you noticed the two broken oars I have hanging on the wall! I don't wonder you stop and look. One doesn't see such decorations every day. Yes, they are Harvard oars and I am a Yale man. How we got together seems a mystery, but it is really quite simple.

Being rather light when an undergraduate, I could get no better position in the Varsity crew than number one. Despite my weight and tender years, however, I was a particularly fine oarsman. There were times when only five of us would row: I would row starboard and the other four would row port. This was a great relief to the coxswain, who then had only five men to swear at instead of eight. Of course you must realize that the invective he heaped on me in my turn was not due to any defect in my style, but to my habit of forgetting the limited strength of my shipmates, and letting out my own superior power, which pulled the boat quite out of its course.

But about the oars. In the annual classic on the Thames River in my Sophomore year, I was stroking the Yale crew against Harvard. (Number eight had a mirror so arranged that he could watch my oar and so pass the beat to the rest of the boat.) There were eight of us rowing. I realized that three extra men would cut down the power of my stroke considerably with their splashing, but I figured that I had sufficient strength to overcome this, and being big-hearted I wanted them to be able to say that they were in the same boat with me when I beat Harvard. The Harvard youths were a nice lot and quite friendly. As far as I could see, only two had butterfly nets with which to entangle our oars.

After several false starts due to catching of crabs by the other fifteen oarsmen, we were off! As I swept majestically down the course, a mighty cheer arose. The Mayflower and the Corsair dipped their colors; sirens shrieked and fainted; Freshmen fell out of their canoes; the observation train split a switch, the rear half departing in the direction of Westerly, with the entire class of '56 Yale tearing his beard. I was forced to hold myself in, as I wanted Harvard to be in the Pathe Pictures that were being taken of me; otherwise skeptics would have said that the picture was faked up. Then, too, my generous nature prompted me to give Harvard the satisfaction of saying that it was a close race.

My generosity almost proved my undoing. For as we were a matter of a few lengths from the finish, and I was beginning to draw away from Harvard, the strain of my oar on the shell proved too much for the frail boat. It broke in half just between numbers four and five. Number four braced his feet against the oncoming water and thus made us a four-oared boat. We were rowing on, when I realized that as a four-oared boat we were disqualified from the eight-oared classic of the East. I promptly tipped our boat over in the path of Harvard, caught the Harvard shell, and broke it in two just where our boat had parted.

This of course perturbed the Harvard crew considerably. The Harvard cox proposed a rising vote of disapproval. In trying to execute this the entire crimson crew sank from sight, but not until numbers four and five had hit me over the head with their respective oars. I don't blame them. It was a grand gesture on their part, showing that though cultured Boston required them to record disapproval, according to Cushing on Parliamentary Procedure, yet they could go down like men.

But I had no time for sober reflection. The stern of the Yale boat was several lengths down the course, with numbers five, six, seven, and eight sitting on its bottom singing, "Nelly Was a Lady," while the cox was pouring the water out of his timing clock through the megaphone back into the river. Obviously they had lost interest in the race, despite all I had done for them. Numbers two, three, and four had possessed themselves of the bow of the Harvard shell and were swimming it ashore, preparatory to mounting it in their memory books.

Upon me rested the responsibility of saving the day for Yale. With the finish line but a few yards away, I brought the Harvard stern up to the Yale bow and, sitting in the Yale number four seat, hooking my feet under the slide of Harvard's number five, I was off. The two Harvard oars that had been broken over my head I now used to give Yale a victory. Despite the delay in the race I was able to finish the course in only three seconds over the record for the course; and I had to row against a strong head wind and upstream!

At first the judges were inclined to give a tie decision on the ground that half the boat that had won belonged to Harvard; they even pointed to the Harvard oars I had used. But I submitted that it is the bow that counts in a decision, and that Yale's bow had crossed the line first.

The judges were won over. The newspapers, however, wished to have it go on record that Harvard finished half a length behind. There was much to be said for this, in view of the Harvard stern that had helped me to victory, and as I am by nature modest and retiring, I permitted this statement. I declined several offers of places in politics, on the vaudeville stage, and in soap advertisements, keeping as my only memento of that glorious day those two broken Harvard oars you see on the wall.

EDITORIALS

Volumes have been written, a lot of good midnight oil wasted and innumerable, carefully prepared orations delivered on the subject of having the members pay their bills on time. The above procedure will be carried on for a long time before a workable solution, if any, is produced, whereby every member of every chapter will pay his bill promptly. The chapter treasurer says, "Try and get it!"

Larceny?

We all admit that the member who does not pay his chapter bill is a handicap to any chapter. Even should he be the most prominent man on the campus in politics, athletics or activities, if he doesn't pay up every month he is a handicap. Anyone who cannot realize this belongs elsewhere than in the chapter house.

There are various attitudes that can be taken on the above. After considerable meditation, questioning and research, we have decided that this question can resolve itself into "larceny" without any great stretching of the imagination on the part of any individual or group.

"Larceny" as we understand it is the taking of another's property. The fellow who pays his bill promptly is the fellow who is responsible for the chapter being able to live and own property. It so happens that in every chapter, enough men pay their bills so that the chapter can live and everyone can enjoy the comforts of the chapter house as his home while attending college.

But what about the fellow who doesn't pay his bills? If he didn't live at the chapter house he would have to live in the college dormitory or outside where the bills are paid in advance. Why shouldn't he be able to pay his chapter as he would any place else? However, he lives in the fraternity house and someone else pays the bill. Is there any difference in his being able to live there because some one else pays the bill and his taking the money out of some one else's pocket, even though he doesn't pay his own bill? He is using the property that some one else has paid for and eating the food that some one else has provided. This may not be out and out larceny but can anyone deny that it is larceny, theoretically?

This may be too harsh a manner in which to deal with this subject but a fraternity house is a business institution and the sooner the fellow who likes to let his bills go realizes it, the better off the chapter will be.

The questions of the day seem to be, "Tell me about the Convention? Was it a success? Was Muzzy there? Was very much accomplished? Who are the new Grand Officers? Where is the next Convention?

The Convention

What did they do about expansion? How many attended? Did you have a good time? etc."

The convention was a success. The harmony and spirit were perfect. Everyone worked with one purpose in mind, that being to accomplish as much as possible for Alpha Sigma Phi. Active chapter delegates and alumni put the best they had into the work of the various committees and the results speak for themselves.

Alpha Sigma Phi has a birthday this month, its eighty-first. Has the fraternity been as progressive, upheld the high standards and traditions and contributed to the welfare of its members as much as the founders hoped it would? Was it the idea of that small group of men to have Alpha Sigma Phi go out into the world and become a large and growing family and continue to adhere to the same principles as laid down by them eighty-one years ago? Who knows the correct answer? Whether or not they had that idea in mind when the fraternity was first organized matters little at this time.

Another Birthday

We all know what happened, how the fraternity went through the creeping age without much change, but when it came to the walking age, its sturdy legs needed exercise and as a result, it left the Mother Chapter at Yale and started to explore. This exploration resulted in the establishment of two chapters. Gathering strength all the time, two more were added while the fraternity was still in its 'teens.

Then came the Civil War! The life was almost snuffed out of the organization during this trying period of our history, but Delta held on and as the years went by, Delta alone upheld the traditions and kept alive the spirit that has been such a strong factor in the success of the "Old Gal".

When the fraternity was sixty-four years old, it reached its second childhood. What a change! Vim, vigor and vitality are the three words that best characterize the "Old Gal" at that time. As a result of her unlimited enthusiasm, twenty-two chapters have been added during the past seventeen years and what strong and healthy children they are!

And now, what is the outlook for the future? Only the brightest! The "Old Gal" will never grow old, except in tradition and fond memories of the days gone by.

What will it be eighty-one years from now? We wonder!

Tommy Talk

IN THE past few issues of THE TOMAHAWK, this department has been devoted chiefly to sales talks on why you should subscribe to THE TOMAHAWK and why you should attend the Convention. Starting with this issue we have decided to change our policy somewhat and give our noble readers a chance to do something other than fill in checks.

There are several important problems confronting the executive committee and the chapters and we think this department is a very good place to discuss these problems. The plan now calls for the discussion of a certain question in each issue.

At the present time, the matter of investing THE TOMAHAWK Life Subscription Fund is one of the most important problems that must be solved in the very near future if the fraternity is to derive all the benefit it should from this fund. The Grand Prudential Committee and a number of others have been working on this matter for some time but as yet have been unable to reach a definite solution.

A few words about the fund itself. A year ago there was approximately $2500.00 in this fund. During the year the chapters and alumni contributed enough to increase the fund $10,000.00. When the books of the fraternity closed on July 31, 1925, THE TOMAHAWK Life Subscription Fund amounted to $14,500.00. Of this amount the alumni had contributed approximately $1,000.00. On the first day of December, 1925, the fund had reached a sum of $16,585.00. It is estimated that it will increase from $6,000.00 to $7,000.00 a year. The interest will be used entirely in publishing THE TOMAHAWK.

There has been considerable discussion as to the advisability of loaning this money to chapters who are building new homes, helping them to finance their houses to the extent of $5,000.00 or any sum up to that figure, the fraternity having as security a first or second mortgage on the property.

At the last Interfraternity Conference, it was found that some fraternities help their chapters in this way and some do not. Those that loan money to the chapters feel they are doing the chapters a real service while those who do not loan their chapters money explained that they felt it was the wrong policy to exact the life subscriptions from the men and then give it right back to the chapters. They also explained that the income was higher when invested in other securities. Just what Alpha Sigma Phi will do relative to this form of investing has not been definitely determined.

A number of members have suggested that a Board of Directors be elected to handle these funds with full authority to invest them in any securities they may deem advisable. Some fraternities follow this plan and find it very successful. It has been suggested that the Grand Prudential Committee act as a Board of Directors and others feel that an entirely separate board should be elected. The Grand Prudential Committee is certainly very close to the inner workings of the fraternity and is qualified as far as experience is concerned.

Some fraternities and organizations appoint a trust company to invest their surplus funds in good securities. This plan is probably the easiest, but, after looking into the charges that trust companies place on a service of this kind, the members of the Grand Prudential Committee decided that the matter could be handled within the fraternity at a great deal less expense and with just as much efficiency. It was also found that the return when invested by a trust company is not as large as when invested in other securities by individuals or a group.

Another question that is very important in this matter is, "What type of investment shall the Board of Directors or investing group be limited to?" The discussion at the meetings so far has limited it chiefly to first mortgages on New York property. This is considered a very safe investment and the return is very good.

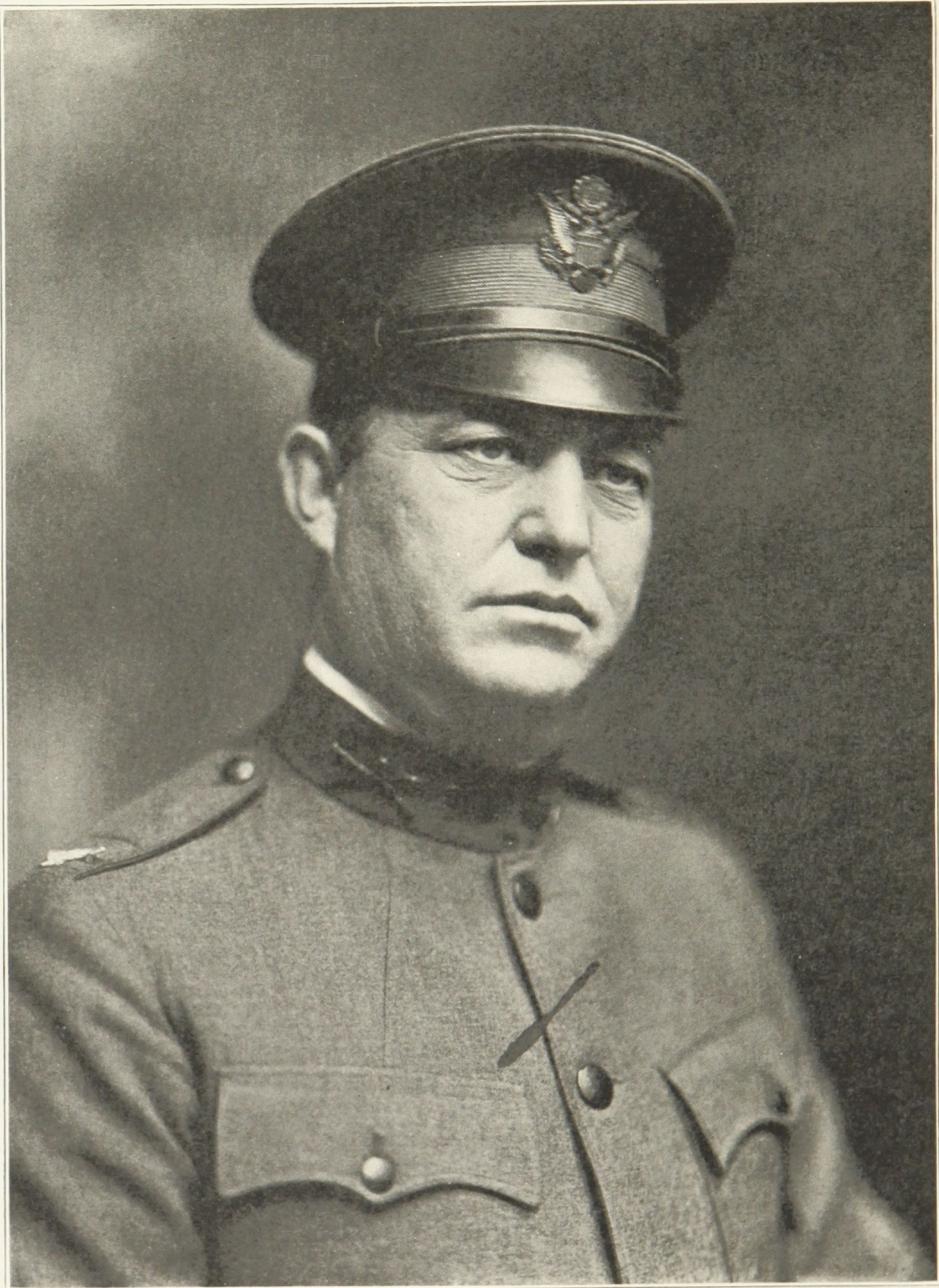

Some fraternities give their Board of Directors authority to purchase securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange. A few members have raised the objection to this form of investment on account of the speculative aspect. We believe that the funds should be invested in such a manner that there will be the least possible speculation involved in the investments.

However, before any investing can be done, it is necessary for the proper legislation to be passed by the active chapters. This legislation is being formed at the present time and will be sent to the chapters in the near future. The men working on the legislation expect to give the fraternity the most workable idea that is possible.

It will be some time before this legislation goes out and it is the desire of the Grand Prudential Committee to have as many ideas on this matter as it is possible to collect in order that the legislation committee may know how the various chapters or individuals feel about the investing of this money.

If you feel that you have some pretty good ideas as to how these funds should be invested, you will be doing the fraternity a real service to write them out and send them in to headquarters. This is one instance where a number of heads are better than one or two. With a large number of ideas to work with, the legislation committee should not find it difficult to formulate a workable plan that will be adaptable to this situation and that will meet with the approval of the alumni and active men. This is not a matter to be hastily decided and the committee is going ahead very carefully before taking any definite action.

Here is a chance to be of real service to your fraternity and it doesn't cost you a cent. Let us hear from you relative to this matter and it will be appreciated very much.

CHARLES E. MCPHERREN

AMONG OURSELVES

Charles E. McPherren Represents All Oklahoma College Fraternities in Important Tax Case

Verdict Exempts All Fraternity Property From Taxes

Brigadier-General Charles E. McPherren, one of the leading legal figures of the state of Oklahoma, was initiated into Alpha Alpha chapter on February 15, 1925. He was an honorary member of the local fraternity, Delta Kappa Rho, before it became a chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Brother McPherren has made himself doubly valued by Alpha Sigma Phi and other fraternity men throughout the state of Oklahoma by representing the college fraternities of the state in a case affecting over a million dollars' worth of their property. He succeeded in gaining from the Supreme Court of the State of Oklahoma a verdict that the real estate of college fraternities is not taxable. The official reports of the state show many other cases of statewide importance in which he appeared as counsel.

Brother McPherren has taken a prominent part in the legal and political history of Oklahoma since the days when it was merely the Indian Territory. Seeing the possibilities the Territory offered to one with the ability to take advantage of them, he went to Caddo, Indian Territory, in 1896. He was the first mayor of Caddo in 1898.

Very shortly thereafter, when the Spanish-American War broke out, General McPherren served with Roosevelt's famous Rough Riders. In April, 1923, he was married to Miss Margaret Johnson, who is an Alpha Phi from the chapter at Oklahoma University.

His political career has been long and varied. From 1921 to 1925 he was a member of the State Senate, and was chairman of the Roads and Highways Committee. To him is due most of the credit for Oklahoma's present good roads, and for the gasoline tax which makes the building of the roads financially possible. He was a successful lawyer in Caddo and Durant until January, 1924, when he moved to Oklahoma City and opened offices there as a member of the law firm of Lydick, McPherrren and Wilson.

In addition to helping shape the policies of Oklahoma and directing the course of the law as a practicing attorney, Brother McPherrren has gained his title of Brigadier-General for his service in the Oklahoma National Guard.

Ulbrickson, Mu, Hailed As Best Crew Stroke

Alvin M. Ulbrickson, Mu '23, has been hailed by critics as the greatest American stroke. He has stroked Washington's crew for two years, and is again stroke and also captain for the present year. Ulbrickson's powerful build, great power of endurance, and strong sense of rhythm are the factors which contributed toward his fame.

He started his crew career in his Freshman year, when he was captain and stroke of the yearling boat. He showed such promise and developed so rapidly that in his Sophomore year he replaced the nationally famous "Dow" Walling as stroke, and has maintained that position ever since. He was chosen captain after the Poughkeepsie races last Summer.

Many Campus Offices Held by Pi's H. S. P.

Although a Junior law student, Herbert L. Strang of Pi has been active in journalistic and other work on the Colorado campus. His ability in legal matters has won him the honor of being pledged to Phi Delta

HERBERT L. P. STRANG

Phi, honorary legal fraternity, but his numerous other talents have carried him into many fields of campus work.

His journalistic work began in his Sophomore year, when he was a member of the staff of Silver and Gold, the university newspaper. Later, because of this experience, he became editor of the University of Colorado

"C" Book, otherwise known as the "Freshman Bible." From this he branched out into the allied field of advertising, serving as manager of that department of the Players Club.

Strang is a member of the Congress of the Student Body, which has in its hands the control of student affairs. He was an active member of the Y.M.C.A. cabinet during his second year. He is at present serving as secretary of the Boosters Club, the most active body on the campus. His interest in Alpha Sigma Phi was rewarded at the last elections, when he was chosen H.S.P. of Pi chapter.

Glos of Eta Is Editor, Scholar, Office Worker

Raymond E. Glos, Eta '22, has established a reputation among his fellows at Illinois as a true scholar, an able editor, and a valuable office worker, in addition to his ability in handling various fraternity offices.

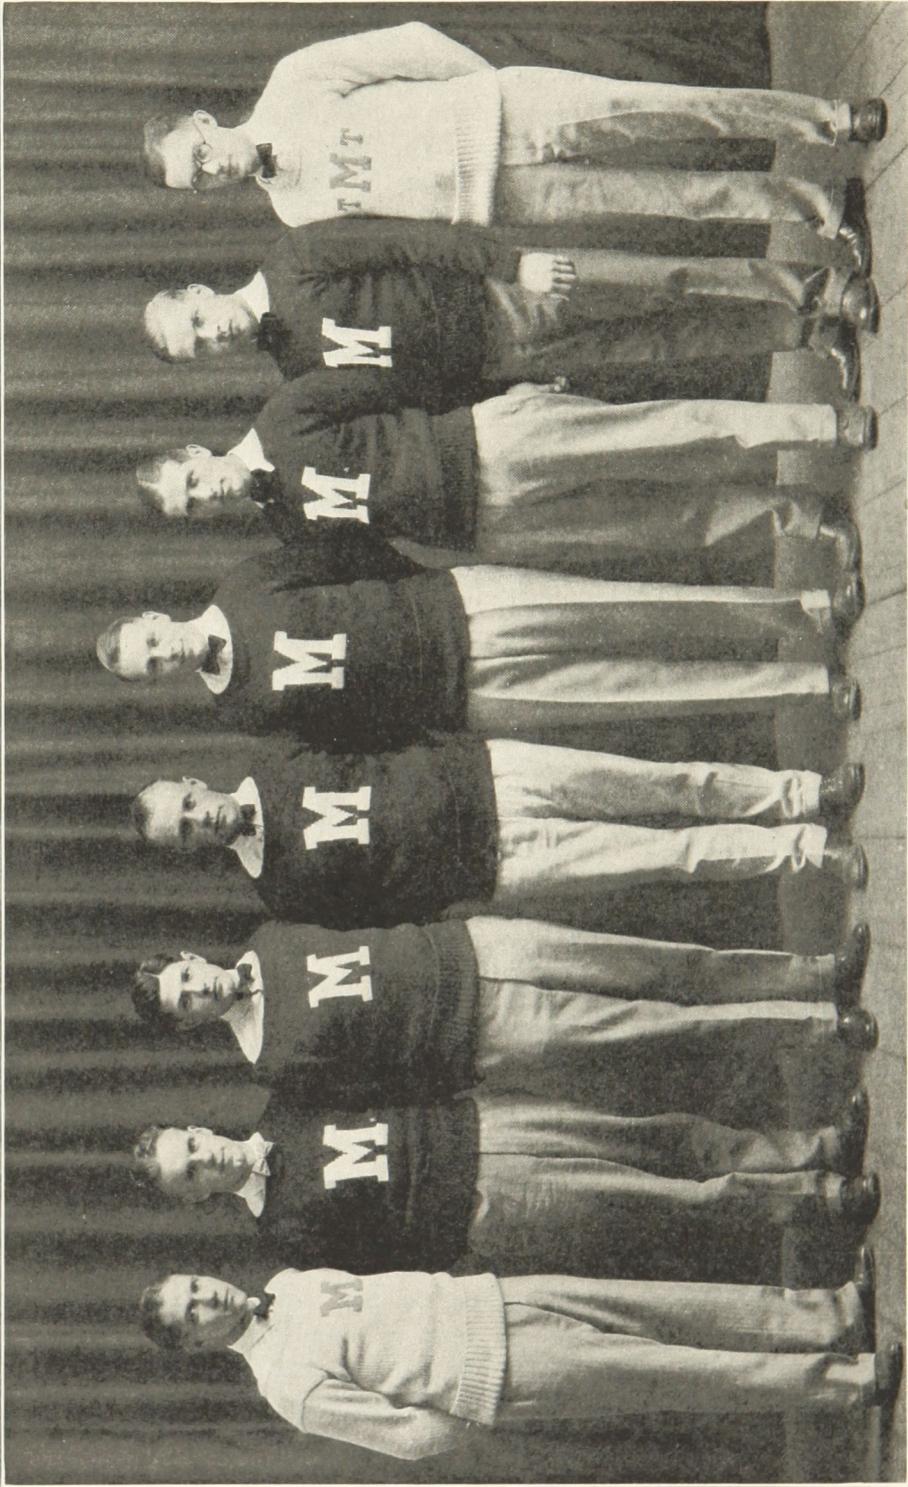

Glos, in his Senior year, made an average of 4.64, which indicates that the greater part of his work was of A grade, since 5 signifies a perfect A record. His grades, however, were only the indication of the ability that lay behind them, and that ability was recognized by election to several honorary societies. At the end of his Junior year he became a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, which ranks as the Phi Beta Kappa of the Commerce students. He was elected to Beta Alpha Psi, honorary professional accounting fraternity, and acted as Senior advisor to Phi Eta Sigma, Freshman honorary scholastic fraternity. Brother Glos is at present following his study of accounting by working for his Master's degree.

His four years were occupied by publication work. Although he began on the staff of the Daily Illini, he soon felt that his interests were more commercial than purely journalistic, and so he began work in his Sophomore year on the staff of the Enterpriser, the magazine of the College of Commerce. He was assistant editor of this publication in his third year, and as a Senior was elected to the editorship. Because of his work in this field he was selected for Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary interpublication fraternity, of which he is now president.

In his spare time Glos worked in the office of the Dean of Men, Thomas Arkle Clark, where a corps of men are employed to gather the various statistical data, such as recording of cuts and grades. As a result of his ability in this work, Glos was appointed by President Kinley as Chief Clerk, with complete charge of the clerical force of thirty men. He served in this position from the middle of his Junior year until his graduation.

In addition to these main activities, he was a member of a number of committees, among them the Dance Supervision Committee, in his Senior year. In his Sophomore year he was elected to Skull and Crescent, honorary Sophomore society, and was its treasurer for the year. He served as H.S., H.C.S., and H.S.P.

ALPHA DELTA'S CLASS OF 1925

HENRY HAPP, JR.

LUCIUS BASSETT

MERRICK CHAPIN

ERVIN GOLLNICK

STONE HOLLQUIST

MARSHALL KLEVENOW

ALOYS PAPKE

ERNEST ADAMS

Alpha Delta '25 Seniors All Varsity Letter Men

Every one of the Alpha Delta men who graduated last June with the class of '25 had won his letter in one or more sports during his four years in Middlebury. The chapter believes that this is a record that has never been equalled in the history of the college. Football, baseball, basketball, track, tennis, and cheer-leading were the activities for which the letters were awarded.

Henry Happ won his track letter in his Junior and Senior years, starting in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, seldom being forced to place second. Hollquist won letters in track, basketball and football. His versatility was shown early when he captured all three in his Freshman year. He captained the basketball team last year and was a flashy forward. In football he kept the defense off balance continually with his brilliant end runs and off tackle smashes. In track he was a hurdler of no mean ability.

Bassett looked after the welfare of the football team last Fall in the capacity of manager, and had a most successful season to his credit. Another manager, business manager of the basketball team this time, was Ervin Gollnick. In his Senior year he also was awarded a cross-country "M."

Alpha Delta was represented on the Varsity football team by Klevenow, Chapin, and Papke, in addition to those mentioned above. Klevenow put up a stone-wall defense, and was offensive battering ram of the squad. No more brilliant fullback ever played on a Middlebury eleven. In addition he made his letter in baseball for four years, being the team's all-round expert. Merrick Chapin captured the coveted "M" after four years of steady plugging at guard. Aloys Papke, Middlebury's scrappy field general, won many a football victory with his never-say-die spirit. He was also baseball captain in his last year, and displayed the same fighting spirit at his position of short-stop.

On the tennis courts the chapter was represented by Ernest Adams, whose aggressive play won him his letters in his Junior and Senior years. Kenneth Anderson, who was absent when the accompanying picture was taken, won his letter as Varsity cheer leader. He made the team feel that the spirit was there in defeat or victory.

Owen F. Aldis, Yale '74, Dies at His Paris Home

It is with deep regret that Alpha Sigma Phi announces the death of Owen Franklin Aldis, of Alpha chapter, Yale 1874, in Paris, France, on August 5, 1925. His death was caused by a paralytic stroke. Brother Aldis has lived in France for the last fifteen years, and his wife was a French woman, Marie Madeline Dumas.

Mr. Aldis was the donor of the Aldis Collection of American first editions in Yale University Library. He was the founder of the real estate firm of Aldis, Aldis & Northcote, now Aldis & Company, 53 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago. He was a retired member of the firm, of which Arthur T. Aldis, his brother, and Graham Aldis, are active members.

Brother Aldis was born on June 6, 1853, at St. Albans, Vermont. He graduated from Yale in 1874 and studied law at the Columbia Law School, Washington, D.C., after which he practiced law from 1877 to 1890. He was a member of many clubs, including the Chicago University, Literary, Onwentsia, Caxton, Century, and the Metropolitan Club of Washington.

Alpha Sigma Phi extends her sincerest sympathy to the members of Brother Aldis's family in their loss.

Jones Takes Laurels in Musical Activities

S. Lewis Jones of Alpha Gamma is very active in Carnegie Tech musical circles. He has taken the place held by Brother S. I. Owens last year as business manager of the Kiltie Band. He is also student director of the band. In addition he plays in the Carnegie Musical Clubs.

Considering the fact that this is only his second year at Carnegie Tech, the name he has made for himself is remarkable. Before going to Pittsburgh, he studied music at West Virginia Wesleyan University. He plays the trumpet and violin, and is much in demand by the various student orchestras. He is studying printing. His home is in Cameron, West Virginia.

Zeta Man's Plant First to Use "Wired Wireless"

The Crystal City, Missouri, plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Company, of which George W. Oakes, Zeta '08, is superintendent, was the first to put "wired wireless" into actual commercial use in the Middle West. The use of this new means of communication assures instant and practically unfailling connection by using a system of controlled radio waves.

The occasion was the throwing of the switch whereby the Cahokia plant of the Union Electric Light and Power Company gave the glass company's plant its full quota of power, 100,000 horse-power, over the new $1,000,000 power line to Crystal City. Before throwing the switch the superintendent of the Cahokia plant obtained the permission of Brother Oakes by means of the "wired wireless."

Starting the new telephonic connection by means of a dial on the desk at Cahokia, the waves were sent over an aerial running parallel with the power line, but with no direct connection. The power line over which 100,000 volts were passing picked the waves up and relayed them to Crystal City, where they were again picked up by a second aerial, a duplicate of the sending wires. A clear voice at the other end responded, stating that the line was open, and that everything was ready. Then the switch was thrown.

Although the power line carries enough current to electrocute the entire population of St. Louis, the conversation over it, or around it, is conducted without danger to either of the communicants, because there is no metallic connection and because of numerous protective devices and fuses which safeguard the speaker should the aerial and the power line lash together by accident.

Widenor's Musical Gifts Add to Upsilon's Prestige

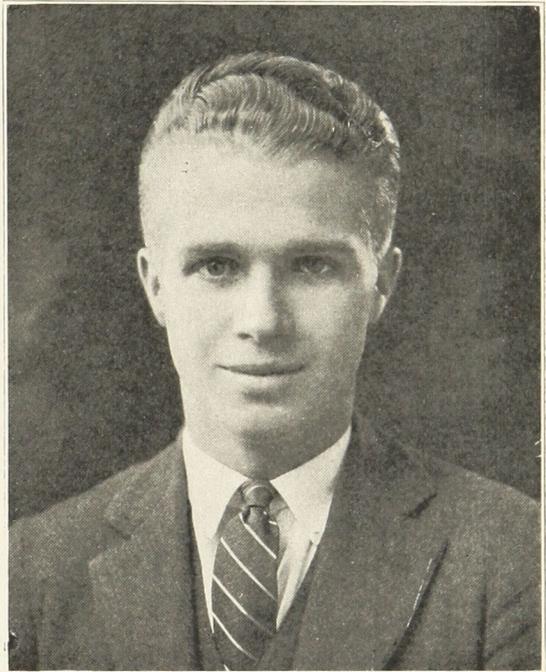

W. Russell Widenor is one of the men whose efforts serve to maintain the prestige of Upsilon in musical activities on the Penn State campus. Widenor holds a position of importance in practically every branch of musical work.

He is student leader of the College Band, undoubtedly one of the best college bands in the country. Through this position he becomes a captain in the R.O.T.C. unit, and this latter office makes him eligible to Seaboard and Blade. He is the only violin accompanist of the Mandolin Club, attaining this honor through the choice of the college.

Widenor also selects the members of the Thespian Club Orchestra, in his capacity of student leader. The importance of the Thespians may be understood when it is recalled that Ned Wayburn and numerous newspapers rated last year's production of "Wooden Shoes" as one of the best shows of its kind in the country. Brother Widenor conducts the Thespian Orchestra on its trips, which include such cities as New York, Philadelphia, Scranton, Pittsburgh, Erie, and Cleveland.

He fills a third position of similar importance as student leader of the College Orchestra. This orchestra will travel to Philadelphia to take part in a combined concert with the Princeton College Orchestra. In addition to these offices, Widenor serves as business manager of the College

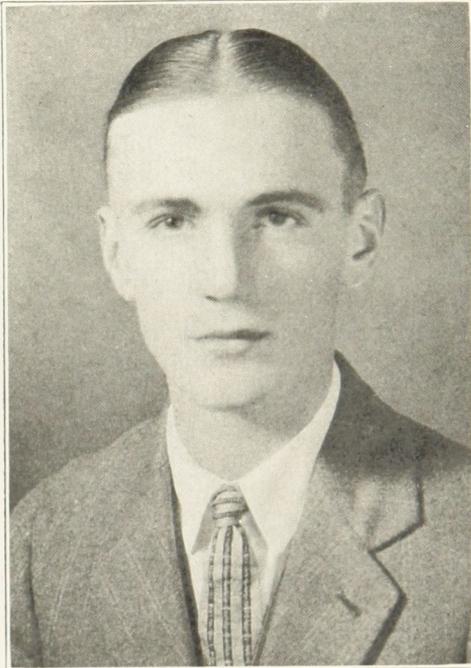

RUSSELL WIDENOR

Orchestra; is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, honorary musical fraternity, and of Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity; and, incidentally, manages and conducts the best dance orchestra on the campus. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, and is H. E. of Upsilon chapter.

Sigma's H. S. P. Engages in Seven Fields of Activity

Cecil M. Charles, the present H.S.P. of Sigma chapter, has engaged in almost every branch of college activities during his career at Kentucky. Editorial, dramatic, Y.M.C.A., fraternal, athletic, scholastic, and tutorial, are a few of the fields of activity in which he has played a prominent part. He will graduate this mid-year, and plans to obtain his Master's degree before entering medical school.

C. M. CHARLES

He is at present, in addition to being chief officer of Sigma, the president of Omega Beta Pi, national professional pre-medical fraternity. He was instrumental in obtaining the national charter for the old Phi Beta Chi local, of which he was secretary. He is also president of the Pre-Medical Society.

His work in other fields has been chiefly managerial in character. He was a member of the student dramatic organization, The Strollers, for three years, and very active on its business staff. For four years he has been in the Y.M.C.A. cabinet, and this year is a member of the advisory board. For the past two years he was on the business staff of the Kernel, the student weekly publication. In his Sophomore year he managed the Freshman track team.

In addition to all these activities, and to the study of Anatomy and Physiology, as majors, and Psychology as a minor, in preparation for medical school, Brother Charles finds time to teach a recitation section and a number of laboratory periods in the Psychology department.

Professor W. S. Hertzog Sets Broadcast Record

On September 29, 1925, Professor Walter Sylvester Hertzog, Lambda '10, broadcast his 400th consecutive talk on history from station KHJ in Los Angeles, marking an epoch in radio history, and epitomizing the remarkable value of broadcasting in the education of the great mass of people of the country.

Brother Hertzog, a widely known authority on history, established a world's record for continuous broadcast with his unique course in American history. For a period of eighty weeks, five nights a week, the Professor gave his valuable treatises on American history. In that time he broadcast approximately 1,325,000 words, the equivalent of twenty-two volumes, all of which issued from his own pen.

Recognition of his work has come to Brother Hertzog wherever radio is known, even from far New Zealand, as well as from every corner of the United States and Canada. His success has been due to the fact that he is a recognized scholar and research expert in history, and, particularly, that he has the happy faculty of couching his scholarship and learning in language which appeals to all classes of people.

Seventy of his lectures were requested by the general committee arranging the Diamond Jubilee celebration at San Francisco, and published by that city in conjunction with her anniversary. Doctor Edwin James, former president of Illinois University, has said that these radio lectures were the finest examples of present-day constructive educational work.

Professor Hertzog attended Lafayette University for two years, and then completed the four-year course at Harvard in three years, specializing in history, economics and government. Declining a scholarship to Cambridge, he spent three more years at Columbia, and two at the General Theological Seminary of New York, where he studied church history, ethics and philosophy of religion. In addition to these ten years in the important institutions of the east, he studied education at the University of California, and public school administration at the University of Southern California. He has been engaged in historical and sociological research in New York, Los Angeles and elsewhere, and has taught in many schools, both public and private.

Kappa Pays Tribute To A Loyal Alumnus

Albert H. Tederstrom, H.S.P. of Kappa chapter, contributes the following in token of the chapter's appreciation of her most active alumnus:

"Sixteen years ago—December 3, 1909, to be exact—a portly young man from the farm lands of southern Wisconsin was initiated into Kappa chapter by the nine charter members who were conducting their first initiation. That comparatively unknown man, Roman August Heilman, is now probably the most widely known man among Kappa alumni.

"From the day he was initiated, he started constructive work for Alpha Sigma Phi, and as the years have passed, he has retained every bit of that original love and every bit of that determination to better Kappa chapter.

"Gradually, and largely through his efforts, Kappa moved from the outskirts of Madison to the fraternity district, and today she enjoys an $81,500 home which is just being completed. Ask a Sig from around here about the old stand-by, the portly gentleman whose head has less hair than a racetrack has grass, the man who always presides as toastmaster at a Kappa banquet, the man who is the prime mover in any big step that Kappa takes,—just ask any Sig, and he will sing the praises of “Romie” Heilman.

“In business, ‘Romie’ is the third gentleman in the Madison law firm of Gilbert, Ela, Heilman and Roeder, and is held in high esteem by the profession.”

Delta Men in Majority on Three Marietta Teams

Delta chapter has nine men on the football squad, seven of them regular Varsity players; seven men on the Freshman football team, and four out of the five regular Varsity basketball players. In addition, E. D. Harris is captain of the Varsity grid men, and Ernest Ward is chief of the basketball quintet.

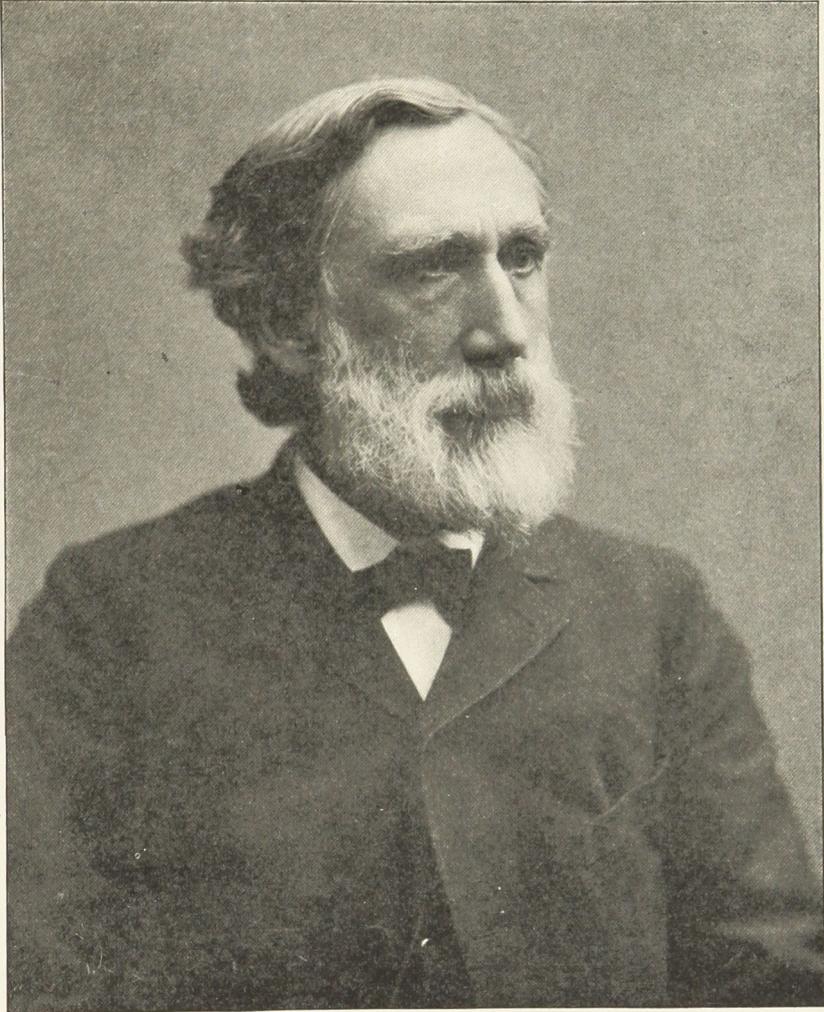

Seven of the nine men on the football squad are sure to win their letters, and the chances for the other two are very favorable. E. Richard Trott, who plays guard on the team, was elected president of the Senior class. Due to his popularity on the campus, he won the office easily. He will also be a playing manager in basketball. He is an instructor in Freshman mathematics.

Alpha Man Oldest Living Ex-Member of Congress

William Wallace Crapo, of Alpha Chapter, Yale '54, has the distinction of being the oldest man living with Congressional experience. Contrary to the popular belief that “Uncle Joe” Cannon holds this honor, Brother Crapo is six years older than Mr. Cannon, although the latter arrived first in Congress. Crapo is 95 and lives in New Bedford, Massachusetts.

In addition, Mr. Crapo is, according to the best knowledge of THE TOMAHAWK, the oldest living graduate of Yale University. He was born on May 16, 1830, at Dartmouth, Massachusetts. He is a lawyer, banker, and manufacturer. He served in the Massachusetts legislature and was a member of Congress from December 6, 1875, to March 3, 1883. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator against Henry Cabot Lodge in 1893. That was the beginning of Lodge's Senatorial career.

At the time the Legislature elected United States Senators. William Morgan Butler of New Bedford, then a state senator, who was later to succeed Lodge, was captain of the Crapo forces, while Winthrop Murray Crane of Dalton, who was also destined for a Senatorial seat at Washington, had charge of the Lodge campaign.

WILLIAM W. CRAFO, Alpha '54

Hahn, Chi, Manages Popular Orchestra

"Hahn's College Crew" is no doubt the best known and best liked dance orchestra on the Chicago campus, judging from the number of off-campus dances for which it is engaged, in addition to the university mixers, fraternity and club parties.

WILLIAM HAHN

William Hahn, of Chi, entered Chicago three years ago with the intention of making his expenses by managing an orchestra of his own. It would seem that he has succeeded.

He makes it a point to hire as many Alpha Sigs as possible to play with him, and quite often the entire orchestra has been composed of brothers. Hahn's specialty is the saxophone, but he is adept at other instruments, and in addition has a good voice for specialty numbers.

Other activities, however, have filled up his time. In his first year he was a member of Three Quarters Club, an honorary Freshman society; sang in the Glee Club; and had a cast part in Blackfriars, the men's dramatic association. As a Sophomore he served on the class council; played in the Tower Players' production; served as H.S. of the chapter, and was elected to the honorary Sophomore society, the Score Club. In his Junior year he placed high in the University handball tournament and played on the fraternity baseball team. At present he is H.J.P. of Chi chapter, and is serving as social chairman.

Bayley, Tau '21, on Circuit As "Radio Troubadour"

Alpha Sigma Phi lists among her many sons one Troubadour-Robot;—in other words, Arnold Blakeman Bayley, T '21, the popular "Radio Troubadour," and formerly "Radio Robot," of the Keith and Orpheum vaudeville circuits.

Brother Bayley, in the words of one of his classmates at Stanford, "has a voice that can sound like anything from a pipe organ (including the chimes) down through a flivver (including the rattles) to Schumann-Heink (including the r-r-r-r's). Even at high school in Hollywood he was famous for his multifarious vocal experiments. The Reverends and Honorables So and So who condescended to appear before the assembled young multitude were quite apt to be interrupted at solemn parts of their speeches by back-stage vocal dings, or blongs, or toots, or burrs, or bams, or honks, or almost anything. This was because of our Arnold; you see, he was on the stage crew."

Later at Stanford the Tau chapter house was enlivened by the accomplishments of Bayley. He was president of the Glee Club, and the chief entertainer of prospective pledges.

At present Brother Bayley is gaining an enthusiastic following as the "Radio Troubadour." He started a little over a year ago as the "Radio Robot." Standing behind, and acting as the storage battery for a formidable-appearing receiving set, he

ARNOLD BAYLEY

ARNOLD BAYLEY, T '21, AS "THE RADIO ROBOT"
Orpheum and Keith Circuits

loosed his bag of winds. Bed-time stories, static, Station F.O.B. Detroit, pipe organs, Hawaiian music, opera, the deaf mutes' convention, were only a part of his repertoire.

Now, as the "Radio Troubadour" he no longer stands behind his set, but sits within a large and very complex one. He has added stunts to his performance, new frills to his machine, and Nelson Valjean, T '21, to his staff (of one) as chief static-tician.

Omicron Has Able Men In Eaton and Axley

Ralph Eaton and Orrel Axley have brought to Omicron chapter many managerial honors, as well as one office never before held by an Alpha Sig, that of president of the Junior class. This office, to which Brother Eaton was recently elected, is one of the greatest honors on the campus and carries with it much responsibility. The election was hotly contested, but when the ballots were counted, it was found that Eaton had carried a good sized majority.

In addition, Eaton is prominent in other university activities. He was elected to the editorial board of the Pennsylvania, the campus daily, in his Freshman year. The following year he entered the football managerial competition, and by dint of hard work and ability was chosen assistant manager of football, with the prospect of becoming manager next year. He is also the fraternity pianist, and H.S. of Omicron chapter.

Orrel Axley was recently elected manager of the Pennsylvania baseball team on which four Alpha Sigs are playing. In the early half of his Sophomore year he entered the Punch Bowl competition and was made a member of the business board of the university comic magazine. In the latter part of the same year he became assistant baseball manager, his managership this year coming as a testimony to his hard work in that position. As a result of his activities, he was elected to Phi Kappa Beta Junior Society. This year he was also elected to the Sphinx Honorary Senior Society. He is H.J.P. of the chapter, and chairman of the rushing committee.

AXLEY AND EATON

COLLEGIATE

Due to the generosity of Professor Charles Seymour, of the European History Department, Yale University will become the chief center of graduate historical study on the topic of the World War. Professor Seymour, who was a confidential adviser to President Wilson during the war, has complete charge of the Colonel Edward M. House collection of information on the World War. Colonel House, it will be remembered, was perhaps the closest to President Wilson at the Peace Conference. The collection will be placed in a special room in the Sterling Memorial Library at Yale, and access to it will be granted to historians and certain graduate students.

“What is the trouble with our schools?” This oft-asked question, according to the Alpha Phi Quarterly, was recently answered by the presidents of Cornell, Northwestern, Leland Stanford, Jr., and Dartmouth. Their answers were, in the order named:

1. The colleges are being turned into factories, where more time is given to the study of steam engines than to the study of life.

2. The colleges are leaving religion out of education and are teaching too many material things and not enough spiritual lessons.

3. The colleges must find a new moral code and stop turning out people who find nothing to do but chase a golf ball.

4. The American colleges are not teaching their students to think, because they are too materialistic.

Harvard University was founded in 1636; the College of William and Mary was inaugurated in 1693. But these institutions are infants alongside of The White Deer Grotto University, Kianski Province, China, which received students in 960 A.D. and has had a continuous existence ever since.—The College Mason.

Just who is a Freshman? asks the Kentucky Kernel, going on to say: The Freshman class of any institution is just as important, if not more so, than any of the other classes. Every year it is the Freshman class which four years from that time will be the leaders in the institution, and for this reason should be given the most attention and aid. The first-year student might enter as a “dumbbell,” but it is up to the students who have gone before him to make him something better. . . . First-year men, . . . remember that the more that you make of yourself in that initial period the more you will amount to as an upper classman.

Yale University has entered upon a program of cooperation with the public schools of New Haven by which the new Peabody Museum, to be opened in December, will be used for special grade school exhibitions and lectures, says The New York Herald-Tribune. Exhibits of wild life of the region, particularly birds native to Connecticut, will be studied first under the new plan. If the cooperative movement proves successful, it is expected that it will be extended to additional public groups.

---

A new College of Commerce has been established this year at the University of Kentucky. The faculty includes Dean Edward Wiest and four assistant professors. This college, the sixth in the university, was created due to the enormous growth in the number of students pursuing the study of business administration. It is expected that, as the enrollment increases, the faculty will be enlarged, and that, in the fall of 1926, a secretarial course for women will be installed.

---

An interesting period of "watchful waiting" is under way at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where the women students have recently been granted by the Executive Committee the right to smoke, even in the dining hall. The New York World carries the story that the male portion of the Institute is betting on which girl will first avail herself of her new privilege. At the time of printing, October 12, no co-ed had "lighted up" in the dining hall. The men are betting on which girl will lead her companions to the new level of equality. Odds are even offered on one or two who are thought to be more daring than their companions.

---

About 3,900 students registered at New York University this fall, about 1,000 more than were there last year. Forty new members of the faculty have been drawn from various institutions throughout the country. New courses have also been added. The evening division of the university, organized during the summer by the assistant dean, has 650 students. Twenty-seven new courses are being given at Washington Square College, the branch of the university located in down-town New York. The most important of these are the pre-seminar research courses, which are open only to seniors with high qualifications. Independent research work in their major subject without attending the usual classes is expected of these seniors.

---

It is estimated that 121 universities possess $1,000,000 endowments, says The Washington Star. Most of them are under private control. State universities are not as heavily endowed, as a rule, only eighteen of them being in the millionaire class. . . . According to figures recently compiled by the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Education, Harvard University, with an endowment of $52,031,769, is the richest educational institution in the United States. Columbia is next with $41,300,909, and Yale, Leland Stanford, Jr., Chicago, Cornell, Johns Hopkins, Carnegie, Princeton, Rochester, and Pennsylvania follow in order.—Alpha Phi Quarterly.

Some interesting figures are quoted in The College Mason under the heading "Educational Inequalities." It says: The average yearly income of the United States is $65,000,000,000; expenditures in 1922 for public elementary and secondary education were $1,580,671,296. The five richest states had an average annual income in 1919 of $3,356 per child; the five poorest states only $960. The five richest states spent $50.37 in 1920 for the education of each child; the five poorest only $10.76. The average savings account of each person gainfully employed is $695.50 in the five states ranking highest in school efficiency; $89.25 in the five states ranking lowest. A person without education has one chance in 161,290 of achieving distinction; a person with a high school education has one chance in 1,606.

---

"Religion on Michigan's Campus" is discussed at some length in the Theta Chi Rattle. The article, in part, follows:

Church officials have noticed the relative infrequency with which college students attend devotional services. . . . Blame has been placed, by various investigators . . . upon fraternities, upon professors, upon student activities, upon social functions, and upon the movies. Sect has accused sect; fundamentalist has accused modernist; all have accused the student; few have accused themselves. . . . A questionnaire was sent out by the Michigan Chimes, for the purpose of settling, in so far as possible, the squabbles of the day. . . .

It seems that . . . students are decidedly interested in religion, only 3 per cent. of them being admittedly indifferent—77 per cent. definitely calling themselves Christians. Only another negligible 3 per cent. professed atheism. 93 per cent. are convinced that there is really a definite place for religion among college students.

Fraternities do seem to exert a slight but definite anti-church influence, for the figures make it evident that fraternities not only attract students less interested in their high school days, in the religion of the church, than others, but also that fraternities seem to discourage the quickening, or even the maintenance, of that interest. Financial standing seems also to have a great deal to do with church attendance. There seems to be an inverse ratio between the amount of money a student gets from his parents and his interest in churches. Social functions . . . seem to keep students from the church, although campus activities exert no definite influence.

. . . . The average student, excluding those who never go to church, and including those who go every Sunday, attends a religious service about once in from four to seven weeks. . . . Students have reasons for not attending church more often. . . . Over half of them find that sermons fail to arouse thought, that they treat with non-vital subjects, and that the treatment is superficial; while over a third think the sermons intellectually simple, and too general. 95 per cent. like sermons that challenge thought by disagreeing with their ideas; 61 per cent. are convinced that the church substitutes dogma for religion, either wholly or in part.

To determine whether good scholarship is a blessing or a curse, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, examined the records of about 2,000 graduates over a period of some fifty years. Fewer than a third were "honor" men in scholarship. To determine their success in life, the judgment of their fellows was used as a basis. It was found that of the 146 students of highest rank, one half had attained distinction; of the 450 next in scholastic rank, one third; and of the remainder, one tenth. In other words, the upper fifth of the various classes for half a century had produced as many successful men as the lower four-fifths.—Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal.

In an address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Walter Williams, Dean of the Missouri School of Journalism and former national honorary president of Sigma Delta Chi, answered the query: "Are Schools of Journalism Getting Anywhere?". Briefly, his conclusions were: 1. College and university students are better acquainted with the history of the press and with its position as an institution in society today. The more the public is acquainted with journalism, the better the journalism will be. 2. Fundamental, technical training in journalism has been taken away, to a degree, from hard-worked newspaper executives and given over to the schools. 3. The school of journalism has been a sieve, eliminating some of the incompetent. 4. It has added to the knowledge of journalism by research and is planning much more. 5. It has increased the professional spirit, the pride in and dignity of the occupation.

Approximately 500 students qualified for entrance to Yale University failed of admission, the Yale board of admissions announced shortly after the opening of college this Fall. The board admitted 859 students, nine in excess of the class limit. The 500 not admitted were barred because of the limit of 850 set for the Freshman class by the Yale Corporation two years ago. The class of '29, chosen from some 1,359 candidates, has a higher scholastic average than any previous group of Yale Freshmen.

When Louisiana State University moved to its new campus on the outskirts of Baton Rouge last September, it left behind one of the most historical spots in the south. The flags of seven nations have flown over the old campus, says The College Mason. Used as an army post by the seven countries, the site was given to the state when the Federal Army abandoned it as a garrison point. Prior to 1773, the Bourbon flag of France waved above the post. From that date to 1789 the Union Jack of England held sway. In that year, a force under the flag of Spain captured the post, and the Spanish red and yellow flew in Baton Rouge until 1810. For a few months in 1810, the flag of the Republic of West Florida (a blue flag with a single star in the center) caught the breezes over the post. This was replaced by the Stars and Stripes, which stayed there for fifty-one years. Then was raised the flag of the Republic of Louisiana when that state seceded from the Union. The stars and bars of the Confederacy followed this, to be followed in turn by the American flag, which has been there ever since.

The use of motion pictures in the classrooms of Princeton University was begun this fall, when Professor Thomas Jefferson Wertenbaker devoted his lecture hour on "The History of the American Colonies" to the showing of a film depicting the settlement of Jamestown. Professor Wertenbaker expects to use six films of "The Chronicles of America," prepared by Yale University. They will not be used to displace any part of the regular course, but to recreate scenes which the professor will discuss in his lectures.

---

Dr. John Martin Thomas was inaugurated as the twelfth president of Rutgers University in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on October 14. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice William S. Gummere, of New Jersey, after which Governor Silzer handed over the key of the university to Dr. Thomas. Representatives of 160 colleges, universities, and scientific societies marched in the academic procession, wearing their robes.

---

Oxford University (England) has three courts of its own, that of the Court of the Lord High Steward, founded in 1404; the Court of the Chancellor, founded in 1331; and the Vice-Chancellor's Court. The Court of the Chancellor is used primarily to collect bad debts from undergraduates, the remedy being an order from the court to pay the debt immediately under threat of losing one's degree and bedroom furniture.

Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, and an alumnus of Northwestern University Law School, has agreed to finance the construction of Gary Library to house the extensive law library owned by the school. . . . Judge Gary was instrumental in founding the University's Law Library in 1903. Since then, his donations inclusive of the gift for the new building, aggregate $360,000.

---

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, announced in October that the university had received $111,615.95 in gifts. The Alumni Federation gave the largest sum, a check for $22,000, half of which is to be applied to current expenses, and half to the Permanent Alumni Fund. Other important gifts were made by the Borden Company for research in food chemistry and nutrition; the Commonwealth Fund, to constitute the Psychiatric Commonwealth Clinic Fund; and the class of 1900, arts, science and architecture; and the Laura Spalman Rockefeller Memorial.

---

An institute for the coordination of woman's interests has been established at Smith College, says The New York Herald-Tribune. The director is Mrs. Ethel Puffer Howes, a Smith graduate. She is a Doctor of Philosophy and a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. "The purpose of the institute," according to William Allan Neilson, president of Smith, "is to find a solution for the problem which confronts almost every educated woman today—how to reconcile a normal life of marriage and motherhood with a life of intellectual activity, professional or otherwise."

HELLENICA

Cornelius Cole, former United States Senator, the oldest fraternity man and the second oldest living college graduate, died on November 3, 1924, at the age of 102. He was a Psi Upsilon, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, of the class of 1847. The oldest living college graduate is John A. Stewart, Columbia '40, who was born just 27 days before Mr. Cole.—Sigma Chi Quarterly.

The Quill of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, voices in no uncertain terms its opinion of the use of "Brother" in fraternity communications. It says:

Nowadays a Sigma Delta Chi appeal or letter contains enough of this term to remind one of a negro camp meeting. . . . Sigma Delta Chi, founded as an honorary organization, has in late years done its best to rigidly enforce professional requirements. It has done its best to throw off the clothes of a college society or a college fraternity. Brother this and Brother that is bad enough in an organization which is built on sentiment and where fraternal feeling has been developed to a high degree. There is no sentiment in Sigma Delta Chi. It exists solely for a well-defined purpose in the field of journalism. "Yours fraternally," yes—but "Dear Brother," never.

The University of Richmond chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha has three class presidents, although the chapter has no seniors. This is the only chapter of any fraternity at this institution ever to have the class president of three classes simultaneously.—Banta's Greek Exchange.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has announced the establishment of Pennsylvania Theta Chapter at Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh, on October 10, 1925. Another new chapter recently installed is Kappa of Beta Kappa, at the University of Illinois.

The University of Kentucky was granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the national fraternity on scholarship, at the triennial meeting of the national organization held in New York on September 8, 1925. A local association has been in existence at the university for the past three years, and this association petitioned the national senate, known as the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. This is the first chapter to be granted in Kentucky, although there are five other chapters in the south, including Texas, Vanderbilt, Virginia and Alabama.—Kentucky Kernel.

Some scholarship incentives at various chapters of Gamma Phi Beta, as listed in the Crescent of that fraternity, are: A prize of $25, awarded annually by the alumnae to the upper classman making the highest percentage of gain over the preceding year. Also $10 to the Freshman having the highest grades. A house scholarship cup for Freshmen. For the entire four years, a guard pin to the highest Freshman. One alumnae chapter gives $50 reward if a chapter has an average of 85 and no individual average below 80. Another chapter's alumnae give the chapter $100 for first place ranking, $75 for second, $50 for third, and $25 for fourth. Some chapters use the study table where all Freshmen and Sophomores not getting a B average must attend. One chapter has a ruling that all members must make a C average or become inactive.

---

At Illinois the Acacia fraternity, at a banquet in honor of Father John A. O'Brien, chaplain of the Catholic students in that institution, presented Father O'Brien with a gold Knights of Columbus pin. The presentation was made by the president of Acacia.—Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal.

---

It was an interesting fact that at the Homecoming during the college year at Iowa State the fraternity chapter which entertained the largest number of visitors that was entertained at any fraternity house on the campus was the local, Sigma Sigma. Somewhat more unusual was the fact that of the one hundred twenty-five alumni in the roll of Sigma Sigma, ninety-five were at the Homecoming reunion.—Banta's Greek Exchange.

Phi Gamma Delta is to be complimented upon the remarkable achievement of a five hundred and thirty-six page Catalogue. In it are listed all the members of the fraternity, alphabetically, geographically, and by chapters. With very recent memories of the July Directory issue of the Toma-hawk in our minds, we extend to Mr. Wilkinson, editor of The Phi Gamma Delta, our heartfelt sympathy for his labors, and heartiest praise for his success.

---

Sigma Alpha Epsilon headquarters is in Evanston, Illinois, says the Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal, where the national office is housed in a "shrine" owned by the fraternity. There all of its records are under protection and it seems to be accumulating a collection of historical relics of the fraternity of great value. The latest addition to the collection is some furniture owned by the late President McKinley, one of their honored members.

---

A good deal of space is being devoted in the Theta Xi Quarterly to the question of "generalization". For many years Theta Xi has considered itself the greatest engineering fraternity in the country. Now it is confronted with the unalterable fact that in many of the chapters hardly fifty per cent. of the members are pursuing engineering courses. The Editor says: "We cannot help but think of the . . . words . . . 'We are neither fish nor fowl.' These words keep echoing in our minds, and surely are hard to suppress." A straw vote on the question is being taken by the magazine.

Of interest . . . is the announcement of the granting of charters of Pi Phi and Chi Omega to local chapters at Ohio Wesleyan. Sigma Delta Pi is the local group successfully petitioning Pi Phi. Their installation took place over the week-end of October 3. Chi Omega initiated the members of Kappa Gamma Chi during the first part of November.—Ohio Wesleyan Magazine.

---

Quite often a favorite subject of conversation among fraternity men is that of initiation. Can you look back upon your own and say truthfully that it was well conducted? Were the ideals of your fraternity ritualistically most impressive? Or was the outstanding feature the rough treatment to which you were subjected? Is your chapter like one of a larger fraternity which recently placed twelve of its initiates in a hospital by feeding them upon raw pork? . . . .

It is true that the neophytes may have been impressed by the ceremonies, but most certainly the impression was physical rather than mental, and it is a tragedy that fraternities will continue to permit such uncouth and barbarous practices as still prevail among some initiations. What does the man on the outside think of the fraternity fanatic whom he sees performing the various antics to which men of mature age and reasonable discretion are frequently subjected?

. . . . The fraternity must stand for things higher than physical punishment and human embarrassment. So long as men receive unfavorable impressions when they are initiated, just so long will fraternities be affiliated with having in their ranks the parasites who live upon the contributions of a few whose mental powers are strong enough to permit them to see fraternity ideals above some fraternity ideas. Watch your initiations! There is a danger mark carefully to be avoided.—The Rattle of Theta Chi.

---

The Sigma Chi Quarterly announces that, in accordance with a resolution passed at the last convention, it will in the future be published five times a year, under the name of The Magazine of Sigma Chi. This change will put the publications of the fraternity on a monthly basis, as The Sigma Chi Bulletin, esoteric publication, will be distributed in the months intervening between issues of the new Magazine.

---

Dean Bradshaw of North Carolina believes that there is such a thing as fraternity statesmanship. Writing in Ex-Tee of Chi Tau he says on this point:

Fraternity statesmanship is not too exalted a term to use to describe that leadership which builds up a great collegiate, and even intercollegiate, institution of fraternity. It is statesmanship, both in the value of its work and in the qualities required from those upper classmen on whose shoulders the burden of leadership falls. One whose life and work keeps him in contact with undergraduate groups over a period of years has ample opportunity to see the initiation of certain policies and the results which follow.—Banta's Greek Exchange.

In his first speech in the Missouri State Legislature Edward A. Barbour, Sigma Nu, defended fraternities so warmly and convincingly that the bill prohibiting them in public schools, colleges, and universities was overwhelmingly defeated. The Delta of Sigma Nu, in its account, says in part:

He began an attack on both the bill and the Whitaker amendment. . . . Whitaker insisted on asking questions, but Barbour in turn began to propound interrogations to Whitaker, with the result that he brought out the fact that Whitaker had never been a member of any school fraternity, that he did not know they were national organizations, that he did not know fraternity houses were under the control of matrons, that he did not know that to be initiated one had to make high grades in his or her classes, and that he did not know that all colleges had supervision of their fraternities. . . . When he finished there was a burst of applause from both the floor and the galleries, and when the question of engrossment was voted on it was defeated overwhelmingly.

Under the heading "Fraternity Men in the Presidency," the Sigma Chi Quarterly, quoting the Christian Science Monitor, gives some interesting facts. Of course by this time everyone knows that President Coolidge is a Phi Gamma Delta and Vice-President Dawes is a member of Delta Upsilon. In addition there have been many other fraternity men in the Presidency. Woodrow Wilson was a member of Phi Kappa Psi at the University of Virginia, before he went to Princeton. President Taft was a Psi Upsilon at Yale, President Arthur a member of the same society at Union. Harrison was a member of Phi Delta Theta; Garfield a Delta Upsilon; Roosevelt belonged to both Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Kappa Epsilon at Harvard, where they rated as class societies rather than national fraternities. President Cleveland was a member of Sigma Chi; President Hayes was an honorary member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, as was James G. Blaine, and McKinley was an honorary member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

---

The first place in scholarship rating has been held over a period of ten years by Pi Beta Phi at Wisconsin.—Alpha Phi Quarterly.

---

Christmas is the season for doing gracious things. The doing should be spontaneous, and yet it must needs be customary. . . . It is actually more blessed, more fun, to give than to receive. And it is frequently more blessed to give something frivolous than something useful. Especially to Mother. Her life is so full of useful things already, and it is so often assumed that because she is Mother her liking for frivolities is dead and gone. The brothers will be buying some Phi Sigma Kappa trinket for their girls this month. Get a duplicate for Mother, and see how pleased she will be. Women are only girls grown tall, you know. And buy your jewelry of the official fraternity jewelers in the regular way. Thus you will be making a little Christmas present to your fraternity as well. Our royalties are a considerable item in our assets column, a fact that every brother should bear constantly in mind, particularly when doing his Christmas shopping.—Signet of Phi Sigma Kappa.

The Phi Epsilon Pi Quarterly devoted considerable space in its June issue to the question of international expansion, specifically in the direction of the new Hebrew University at Jerusalem. The editor said, in part:

The new Hebrew University, treated in detail elsewhere in this issue, is more than just another university. It is a significant step in the reawakening of a live interest in Judaism. The question of a chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi will therefore hinge on the question of whether or not Phi Epsilon Pi considers itself a nonsectarian organization or a Jewish one. The Quarterly editor is interested in getting the view of active fraters and alumni on the proposed chapter. Phi Epsilon Pi is still technically nonsectarian, but in spirit it is Jewish and the nonsectarian idea, which was an integral part of the old crest of the fraternity, is missing from the new crest.

---

In the business world no one enterprise is independent of all others. . . . This is also true of college life. A student who does not see a friend in every other student—if he does not treat every student with whom he comes in contact, as a friend—is working under a handicap and his progress will be retarded because of his narrowness. The wise student is diplomatic. He realizes that if he is to be a figure on the campus he must be held in high esteem by all his colleagues, regardless how they stand in his estimation. A fraternity is confronted with a similar situation. The progress of the house that is not aware of its dependence upon the faculty, the other organized houses, and the non-fraternity men, is inevitably hindered.—Phi Kappa Temple.

The Kentucky Kernel announces with pride that the college yearbook, The Kentuckian, will conduct a unique beauty contest this year. Each sorority hall and organization on the campus will be invited to submit pictures of aspirants to the beauty section of the book to the staff, who will in turn submit them to Florenz Ziegfeld of "Follies" fame, for selection. Truly Mr. Ziegfeld is "glorifying the American girl"!

---

The officers and members of a Square (chapter), says The College Mason, can leave a good heritage to their successors. They can leave a good reputation, a sound financial situation, members with an adequate understanding of the work of a Square, a spirit of loyalty and progress, the knowledge of past success; or they can graduate leaving a rotten reputation for debts, ignorance of the Fraternity, disloyalty and laziness, and a record for not doing anything. In almost every Square, the officers will be new for this session. You new officers are not responsible for the heritage that you have succeeded to, but you will be held accountable for the heritage you leave behind you. It's up to you.

---

The results of the Phi Gamma Delta Vocational Bureau which is operated as one of the regular activities of the fraternity, have been amazing, according to a recent issue of The Phi Gamma Delta. Questionnaires sent to all members of the fraternity have elicited hundreds of replies, both from those who are seeking new jobs and from those who have jobs to be filled. Among the men wanted were salesmen of all kinds, including one "worth not less than $20,000 a year"; engineers; advertising men; teachers; architects; lawyers; credit men, and others.

The MYSTIC CIRCLE

Alumni Personals

ALPHA

Yale

ROBERT W. DE FOREST, '70, was elected president of the Welfare Council of New York last April. He served as chairman of the Coordination Committee which formed this new organization.

CHARLES HOPKINS CLARK, '71, has been re-elected a director of the Associated Press.

D. BRYSON DELAVAN, '72, was recently re-elected president of the Grenfell Association of America.

ATWOOD COLLINS, '73, has retired as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States Security Trust Company at Hartford, Connecticut.

WILLIAM AUGUSTUS DURRIE, '76, died on November 6, 1924.

HENRY H. JACKSON, '08, has been appointed associate actuary of the National Life Insurance Company of Montpelier, Vermont. He was admitted as a Fellow of the Actuarial Society of America in 1924.

HERBERT H. BENEDICT, '09, is now pastor of the Rand Memorial Church at South Seabrook, New Hampshire, and also of the Congregational churches at Seabrook and Hampton Falls, New Hampshire.

OLIVER F. BISHOP, '09S, and Mrs. Bishop announce the birth of a daughter, Jeanne Anne, on April 20, 1925.

GEORGE C. WILSON, '10, passed away on January 12, 1925.

WILLIAM D. BISHOP, '11, recently resigned as Washington correspondent of the New Haven (Connecticut) Register, having purchased the Washington (North Carolina) Daily News, which he will operate as editor and publisher. Bishop, his wife, and daughter, Diane, changed their residence from the capital city to North Carolina on October 25, and he took charge of the News on November 2. He was a member of the Register staff from 1919 to 1925.

MALCOLM H. BISSELL, '11S, is associate professor of geology at Bryn Mawr College, and is also doing part-time work for the Pennsylvania Geological Survey. His address is Strafford, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

ROY G. HAWLEY, '11, is in the sales department of Chase Companies, Incorporated, at Waterbury, Connecticut. He lives at 545 Cooke Street.

OSCAR V. JONES, '18S, and Mrs. Jones announce the birth of a son.

Wayne Emerson, on November 19, 1924.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM K. HUTSON, '19, announce the arrival of a daughter, Hazel, on October 29, 1925.

FRANCIS T. MCNAMARA, '19S, was married on September 15, 1925, to Miss Virginia Grace Davis, at Schenectady, New York.

KIMBARK J. HOWELL, '21S, was married to Miss Esther Elizabeth Randall at Lenox, Massachusetts, on June 9, 1925.

GLADDEN W. BAKER, '22, is an economist with the International Telephone Securities Corporation of New York. He lives at 115 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

ALLEN K. CHALMERS, '22, was installed as pastor of the Dwight Place Church on February 17, 1925. Brother Albert B. Coe, '22, preached the installation sermon, and Brother Milton B. Czatt, '22, took part in the services. Coe is pastor of the Second Congregational Church of Waterbury, Connecticut.

RALPH S. DIAL, '22, was married on June 15, 1925, at New Haven, Connecticut, to Miss Margaret Mary Maloney.

E. ALLEN HENDRICK, '22, and Mrs. Hendrick, announce the birth of Edward Allen, Jr., on August 4, 1925.

NEAL D. KELLEY, '22, was married to Miss Dorothy Caroline Smith, at Hillandale, Morrison, Illinois, on June 27, 1925. Kelley is with the advertising firm of Bowden Brothers, Incorporated, located at 121 East 3 Street, Davenport, Iowa.

MORGAN A. CASEY, '23, who is studying accounting in New York, is playing with "Chic" Winter's Empire State Dance Orchestra. This combination is well known to radio fans and is also under contract to make records for several phonograph companies.

JOHN L. CAREY, '25, is working as an assistant editor in the American Institute of Accounting.

ARTHUR S. CARRUTHERS, '25, is married to Miss Helen Hill. He has a position with the New York Trust Company, and is living in Brooklyn, New York.

LAWRENCE O. ERICKSON, JR., '25, is taking graduate work in economics at Yale.

HOWARD R. KNIGHT, '25, is working for the Firestone Rubber Company at Akron, Ohio.

FRANK A. SAWYER, JR., '25, was married to Miss Betty Clark at the close of college last year. He was in the real estate business in Miami, Florida.

---

BETA

Harvard

HENRY W. DRUCKER, '12, is a member of the law firm of Urion, Drucker, Reichmann, and Boutell, with offices at 134 La Salle Street, Chicago. He is living in Wilmette, Illinois.

LESTER W. FEEZER, '12, is teaching law at the University of South Dakota, Vermilion, South Dakota.

WINFRED OVERHOLSER, '12, is director of the division for the examination of prisoners of the Department of Mental Diseases of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The division is making a psychiatric study of the inmates of the houses of correction throughout the state. Brother Overholser has also recently been appointed to the faculty of the Boston University School of Medicine, where he gives the course in mental diseases.

ROBERT G. WILSON, JR., '12, was recently elected Councillor from Ward 17 of Boston in the new City Council of 22 members, with a vote of 2651, and leading the field of eight candidates by over 1300 votes out of the total of 8755 cast. He is also the father of a daughter, Carol, born on May 20, 1925.

B. HOLBROOK POUCHER, '13, is in the employment of the Palmolive Company. His address is Room 623, 815 Superior Avenue, N.E., Cleveland, Ohio.

WILFRID P. HEWITT, '15, is a bond salesman for Baker, Young and Company of Boston. He is married and has three children. His address is 34 Linden Avenue, Fairhaven, Massachusetts.

RICHARD F. BOYCE, '16, formerly Consul at Nassau, Bahama Islands, left there with his wife and two children, who were born there, in April, 1924. Since July of that year he has been Consul at Hamilton, Ontario.

MILFORD J. BAKER, '17, who has been with the Curtis Publishing Company for the past six years, recently became associated with Young and Rubicam, advertising agents, with offices in the Atlantic Building, Philadelphia.

RICHARD S. BUSHNELL, '17, is with Stone and Webster of Boston. He worked on the power station recently built by that firm at Weymouth for the Boston Edison Company. His address is 1080 Beacon Street, Brookline, Massachusetts.

RALPH S. DAMON, '18, has moved to Woodview Road, Hempstead, New York. He has a daughter, Barbara Ives Damon, born on April 6, 1925.

LAWRENCE P. HALL, '19, is assistant director of the Wolcott Gibbs Memorial Laboratory at Harvard, engaged in research work, and also is instructor in chemistry. He lives at 71 Grozier Road, Cambridge.

WATSON G. CUTTER, '20, left the Harvard Business School in February, 1924, to work for the Stanley Rule and Level Plant, where he is doing cost work at present. His address is 176 Lake Street, New Britain, Connecticut.

CHARLES E. DEXTER, '21, is with F. S. Ruth and Company of 120 Broadway, New York. This firm directs two private golf clubs and home developments, one at Mountain Lake, Florida, and the other at Fisher's Island, New York. Dexter spent the Summer at Fisher's Island, and will spend the Winter at Mountain Lake. On the first of next March he leaves for a three months' vacation in Europe.

FRED J. FOX, '21, was married on September 26, 1925, and is living at 33 Commonwealth Road, Watertown, Massachusetts.

GRINNELL KNOWLES, '21, is living at Wareham, Massachusetts, with his wife and one-year-old son. He is working for the New Bedford and Agawam Finishing Company.

J. HUGH MONTGOMERY, '22, is in the employ of the Dr. D. P. Ordway Plaster Company of Camden, Maine. He was married on September 17, 1925, to Miss Helen M. Greene, and is living in Camden.

GEORGE P. MOREY, '22, is selling securities for Curtis and Sanger, of Boston.

GAMMA      Massachusetts Agricultural

CLARENCE W. HOLWAY, '24, is principal of a high school in Vermont.

ROSWELL H. KING, '24, is general manager of the Millville Farms at Millville, Massachusetts.

JOHN T. PERRY, '24, is studying in the Harvard Graduate School, and is an assistant instructor in the botany department.

JOHN G. READ, '24, and Helen Grout, ex-'25, were married last Summer, and are living in Amherst. Read is teaching in the Amherst High School.

LEON A. REGAN, '24, is teaching in a high school at St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

ROBERT G. COOKE, '25, is general manager of the Richmond Hills Farms at Richmond Hills, Massachusetts.

JOHN F. LORD, '25, is affiliated with the Lord Poultry Farms at Methuen, Massachusetts.

WALTER F. MAHONEY, '25, has gone to Europe for a few years on an educational tour.

FREDERICK POEY, '25, is in the exporting business at Guanajay, Cuba.

ROBERT F. SAZAMA, '25, is engaged in research work in entomology under the direction of the Maine Department of Agriculture at Harrington, Maine.

MANUEL GORRIARAN, ex-'26, was married on September 30 to Miss Marie Marguerite Krebs at the Iglesia del Vedado in Havana, Cuba.

DELTA

Marietta

DAVID E. PUTNAM, '64, writes: "Have just returned from a two weeks' trip to St. Paul, Minnesota, where I visited my son David (a graduate of Ohio State) and his family of three boys, and on my way home visited my son John (a graduate of Yale, 1903) and his family of a girl and a boy, living at Oregon, Illinois. All well and doing well in business."

ASA W. WATERS, ex-'71, although a member of the Philadelphia Bar, spends much time in Old Cambridge. He is in poor health, and in his seventy-sixth year.

THOMAS H. KELLEY, '74, showed that his interest in Alpha Sigma Phi has not waned with the years, by paying a visit to the chapter this Fall.

FRANK R. MCGREW, '00, of Shreveport, Louisiana, also paid a visit to the house, his first since graduation.

PAUL V. CARPENTER, '12, writes: "You might say that as usual I will be glad to meet any of the Old Gal this winter. Everybody in the country will try to come to Florida this season, so this will include a few Sigs. My 'phone number is 5-6053 and my mail address is Box 1002, Jacksonville, so you all should be able to find me, and I will be only too glad to meet with you. We are having a fast and furious time down here these days, so better hurry on."

LESLIE C. WARD, '16, is selling real estate in Columbus, Ohio.

HUBERT E. ARNOLD, '18, was recently married in Evansville, Indiana. He is working for the Safe-Cabinet Company.

HAYES T. CLARKE, '19, is attending law school at Ohio State University. He is also working part time for the Ohio State Journal. He is living at the Zeta chapter house.

HOWARD E. BEEBOUT, '21, is working for the Parke-Davis Drug Company of Detroit. His address is Room 725, Y.M.C.A., Detroit, Michigan.

LEROY C. DOWLING, '21, is attending the medical school at West Virginia University. While there he had the misfortune to have one of his eyes injured in a laboratory explosion. He is back at work now, however, and doing very well.

CLIFFORD L. JOHNSON, '22, is teaching and coaching in Woodsfield, Ohio, High School.

D. N. O. SHAW, '22, is attending the Still College of Osteopathy at Des Moines, Iowa.

EPSILON

Ohio Wesleyan

GEORGE D. LOWRY, '91, who was formerly connected with the Methodist Mission at Peking, China, is now located in Cleveland, Ohio.

MARK E. HUTCHINSON, '10, professor of Latin and Registrar of Emory and Henry College at Emory, Virginia, is taking graduate work this year at Wisconsin.

AVERY J. FRENCH, '11, a major in the United States Army, is now stationed at Fortress Monroe, Virginia.

CHARLES A. FRITZ, '12, who was formerly at Iowa State, is now instructor in English at New York University.

MORRISON W. EVERHARD, '13, is practicing medicine at Wadsworth, Ohio.

CHARLES B. KETCHAM, '13, is pastor of the student church at Oberlin University.

DARCIE V. MEACHAM, '16, is now associated with the Akron Rubber Reclaiming Company at Barberton, Ohio. His address in that city is 122 Miama Street.

CLYDE PHARR, '17, is associate professor of Greek at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee.

CHARLES F. WEST, '17, is professor of political science at Denison, Granville, Ohio.

ERNEST M. COLE, '19, is in charge of a brick plant at New Philadelphia, Ohio.

AURA SMITH, JR., '20, has returned from three years at Oxford, England, where he held one of the Rhodes Scholarships, and is now engaged in literary work at Cincinnati, Ohio.

DONALD JAY HORNBERGER of Michigan, '21, who is associate professor of business administration at Ohio Wesleyan, was recently initiated into Epsilon chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi.

E. HAROLD HUGHES, '21, is assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. His chief duties consist in judging milking contests and making speeches to canning clubs!

MAURICE A. LONGSWORTH, '22, was recently married. Mr. and Mrs. Longsworth are living at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

GEORGE E. FRATER, '23, who taught at Bucyrus last year, is attending law school at Ohio State this fall.

FRED W. TURNER, '23, was a recent visitor at Delta chapter house.

BYRON P. ALLEN, ex-'25, is located in Birmingham, Alabama, where he is connected with the Republic Iron and Steel Company.

OSCAR A. AXELSON, '25, Senior class president last year, is studying medicine at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

HOWARD G. JONES, '25, is in the auditing department of the Standard Oil Company's Boston office.

T. VICTOR KOLB, '25, all-Ohio basketball star, is coaching at Xenia, Ohio.

JOHN H. LINTON, '25, is an instructor at the Chillicothe, Ohio, High School.

JOSEPH D. STECHER, '25, is attending law school at Ohio State.

ZETA*Ohio State

EDMOND N. YANTES, '15, is studying law at Ohio State.

P. HASTINGS KELLER, '16, is living in Vernon, Texas, representing the Roxana Petroleum Corporation's geological department for Wilbarger County, with Wichita Falls, Texas, as headquarters.

D. LUTHER EVANS, '17, is connected with the philosophy department of Ohio Wesleyan University.

NELSON R. THORNTON, '20, is auditor of the New Neil House of Columbus, Ohio.

JOHN M. JERVIS, '21, is selling in Florida.

DAVID J. BRADLEY, '22, is the proud father of a son, born in June.

CLARENCE J. BUGBEE, '22, was recently married.

BENJAMIN W. JENKINS, '22, was married during the Summer to Miss Grace Harris of Detroit. The couple are now living in Ashtabula, Ohio, where Brother Jenkins is practicing law.

LEWIS S. MOOREHEAD, '22, is coaching at Scott High School.

SETH C. SHANK, '22, is with the DeVillbis Company of Toledo, Ohio.

JOHN D. SLEMMONS, '22, recently moved to Cleveland, where he is connected with the American Blower Company.

T. EDWARD DAVIS, '23, is a booking agent for the Red Star Circuit.

ARLINGTON L. EVERITT, '23, LOREN A. MURPHY, '25, and HAROLD A. HERMAN, ex-'26, are working for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in Akron.

HENRY I. RAYMOND, '25, is working in Toledo for the Bell Telephone Company.

CHARLES H. WICKS, '25, is surveying for the State of Ohio near Mt. Gilead.

RUSSELL W. YOUNG, '25, is in California, managing a canning factory.

JOHN L. VLASAK, JR., ex-'26, is with the Columbia Office Equipment Company.

ETA*Illinois

MAX R. DORMITZER, '10, is in the foreign trade department of the Melba Products Company of Chicago.

LEON F. SWARTZ, '11, has returned to school after an absence of over ten years.

EUGENE F. PRUETT, '13, is county farm advisor at Hayward, Wisconsin.

ROLAND G. BUTLER, '14, is located at Attica, Indiana, and is traffic manager of the Chicago, Attica and Southern Railroad.

THEODORE H. FRISON, '15, is with the State Natural History Survey at the University of Illinois.

C. WILLIAM CLEWORTH, '16, and MRS. CLEWORTH announce the birth of a seven-and-a-half-pound baby girl, Gloria.

F. MITCHELL LALOR, '16, is working for his uncle with the Mitchell Dress Company of Chicago. He recently stopped at the Eta house, while on a sales trip.

L. OTIS PETTY, '16, was married during the Summer, and is making his home in Gallina, New Mexico. He writes that he is having a Navajo Indian weave a blanket with the Alpha Sigma Phi crest on it in colors.

GEORGE H. ANDERSON, '17, is city engineer of Herrin, Illinois. At present he is supervising the construction of a large artificial lake.

GUY S. BRAZEAU, '17, is selling newspaper machinery.

DONALD D. SCHEIB, '17, was elected Grand Scribe of the fraternity at the Washington Convention. He was the founder of the Denver Alumni Council, and is its president.

STANLEY R. SWENSON, '17, is sales director for the Butterick Publishing Company of Chicago.

PAUL A. C. ANDERSON, '18, originally of Kappa, is in business with his father in Chicago. He was married to Miss Mae Barnwell of Madison, Florida, on May 29, 1925.

WILLIAM H. MONSSON, '19, was married to Miss Irene Kendall of Metcalf, Illinois. Monsson is working for the government in the chemical research department at Madison, Wisconsin.

G. WELLINGTON RIDER, '19, is with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company in Seattle, Washington.

HARVEY L. SLAUGHTER, '19, is working for the Russell Manufacturing Company of Chicago. He is at present district sales manager.

ROBERT S. BRISTOL, '20, is working for the Gulf Port Oil Company of Shreveport, Louisiana.

CECIL H. CLEWORTH, '20, is married and making his home in Oak Park, Illinois.

SUMNER F. LEWIS, '20, was married this summer and is living at 7112 Clyde Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

PAUL J. STEWART, '20, is assistant baseball coach at the University of Illinois.

JOHN T. THOMAS, '20, is district attorney at Belleville, Illinois.

LOUIS M. WILDMAN, '20, was married to Miss Mary Isobel Henley of Carthage, Indiana, on June 24, 1925.

DE ESTIN L. PASLEY, '22, is city attorney for De Kalb, Illinois.

HAROLD C. TWINTING, '22, is special statistician for the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago.

CLARENCE R. CANNON, '23, is head coach at Iowa City High School.

DALLAS L. DONNAN, '23, is with the American Surety Company, 502 Hoge Building, Seattle, Washington.

WILLIAM F. PRICE, '24, is working for Swift and Company at their Hammond branch.

ROY C. ZAHN, '24, is selling furs in Chicago.

CLARK W. KEENE, ex-'26, was married to Miss Gretchen Sibley at Crown Point, Indiana, on June 11, 1925. They are making their home in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

THETA

Michigan

ALLEN H. FROST, '09, is with the White Motor Car Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

NATHAN E. VAN STONE, '10, and Mrs. Van Stone recently announced the adoption of twins, a boy, James Willard, and a girl, Suzanne.

THOMAS L. BOURNE, '12, is selling life insurance. His home address is 262 Long Avenue, Hamburg, New York.

ROBERT H. GILLMORE, '12, and Mrs. Gillmore have been living in Los Angeles for about a year. Gillmore now has charge of the entire Pacific Coast territory for Hoagland Allum and Company, the well-known investment banking house, which he represented for many years as advertising manager. His address is 548 South Spring Street.

THEODORE L. SQUIER, '13, is practicing medicine in Milwaukee, after establishing an enviable reputation for himself in Battle Creek, both in private practice and as superintendent of the Calhoun County Public Hospital.

RALPH K. CARMAN, '14, is retailing shoes in Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

RAYMOND P. JONES, '14, is living at 154 Louis Street, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

HARRY S. NICHOLS, '14, is in the real estate business at 3046 Hazelwood, Detroit.

CLOYDE V. SELLERS, '14, is now cashier of the largest bank in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. Incidentally, this places him second in command in the bank.

EDWARD F. WALSH, JR., '14, is also in Bartlesville, where he is doing a rushing business managing the Dodge Agency for that territory.

MERLE B. DOTY, '15, who has been located in Buffalo, was planning to return to Chicago around December 1, when last heard from. He expects to go back to work for the Sherwin-Williams Company there.

ARTHUR L. KIRKPATRICK, '15, is the proud father of a son, Donald Me-

Lellan Kirkpatrick, born on May 11, 1925.

C. FREDERICK WATSON, '15, is living at 1407 North Parkway, Memphis, Tennessee.

HAROLD C. HEYM, '17, is president of Heym and Kendall, Incorporated, exclusive distributors of American Akron Tires, with headquarters at 2534 Grand River Avenue, Detroit.

EDWARD J. JEFFRIES, JR., '17, and PAUL E. KRAUSE, '18, have a thriving law partnership in Detroit.

MACQUORN S. NUTTALL, '17, is secretary of a prosperous little company down in Plaquemine, Louisiana, manufacturing barrel staves.

NOTERY A. GLEASON, '18, is living at 2129 Franklin Street, Detroit, Michigan.

DONALD W. HUNTER, '18, was married about a year ago to Miss Irma Schreiber, and they are living at 47 Union Street, Montclair, New Jersey.

CHARLES C. EADES, '21, is an instructor in pathology at the Wisconsin University Medical School.

VERNON B. MYERS, '23, is living at 2441 Gladstone Avenue, Detroit.

---

KAPPA

Wisconsin

EDWIN J. CONNOR, '14, was married to Miss Ruth Kingsbury of Salt Lake City on June 24, 1925. They are at home in Madison, Wisconsin.

RICHARD W. WHEELER, '14, is in the contracting business at Randolph, Wisconsin.

ELMER E. MEYER, '15, is with the Standard Building and Construction Company of Green Bay, Wisconsin.

MORRIS H. WRIGHT, '16, is County Agriculture Agent of Ashland County, with headquarters at Ashland, Wisconsin.

HAROLD O. PINTHER, '19, is the proud father of a son, born March 4, 1925.

SILAS L. SPENGLER, '19, was elected city attorney of Menasha, Wisconsin, in the last election.

ROSCOE VANDER BIE, '19, is practicing medicine in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

FRANKLIN J. BACON, '20, has joined the faculty of the University of Florida as an assistant professor of pharmacy.

ROY J. PIEH, '20, was married in December to Miss Marie Post of Norwood Park, Chicago, Illinois.

REGINALD W. HAMMOND, '21, was married to Miss Phyllis Johnson of Manitowoc, Wisconsin, on September 19, 1925. Their home is at 902 Jay Street, Manitowoc, Wisconsin.

GEORGE M. WERNER, '21, was married during the Summer and is living in Madison.

EARL L. GOELTZ, '23, is in the confectionery business in Ashland, Wisconsin.

EUGENE C. MENG, '24, is a bond salesman in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

JOHN F. SULLIVAN, JR., '24, is affiliated with the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago.

HAROLD P. TAYLOR, '24, is with the Wisconsin Utilities Company in Green Bay, Wisconsin.

PALMER W. TAYLOR, '24, is manager of the Taylor Drug Stores of Stevens Point and Sparta, Wisconsin.

MELVIN W. MELCHER, '25, is in the Wisconsin State Highway Commission at Superior, Wisconsin.

CARL J. MILLER, '25, is selling bonds in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

W. KARL STASSBURGER, '25, has accepted a position in the furniture department of the Fair Store in Chicago.

LAMBDA

Columbia

HENRI C. JACQUES, '12, announces that he has opened an office for the general practice of law at 31 Nassau Street, New York.

BERNARD A. CRUSE, '15, and Mrs. Cruse announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy June, on August 25, 1925.

CHARLES E. HALL, '16, was elected graduate treasurer of the local chapter.

KARL CHRISTOFFERS, '18, died at 3 P.M. on August 8, 1925, from cancer. He was twenty-eight years old.

JOHN J. SCHAEFER, '21, writes: "Celebrating our first year in our little stucco home at Fieldston on the Hudson. Found time the last few years to tack on my third degree, LL.B., from New York Law School, and jumped on the Phi Delta Phi band wagon. . . . Brother Thompson's police dog Sig's youngest daughter is our guardian. Welcome, Sigs, when near VanCortlandt Park, to Dell Crest, 319 College Road, Fieldston, New York City."

RICHARD W. FAIRBANKS, '23, is engaged to Miss Anita Van Alstyne of Webster, New York. The wedding will take place next August.

ELDON S. NELSON, '23, ALBERT H. DUMSCHAT, '24, and STEPHEN H. RONAY, '24, are taking law courses at Fordham University.

WILLIAM E. COLLIN, '24, is in the employ of R. H. Macy and Company, of New York.

PHILIP F. FARLEY, '24, is beginning his second year with the law firm of Schnitzler, Thorn and Dayton, of New York City.

HARLAN W. S. A. KELLEY, '24, is now in Florida, working on the staff of the Sanford Herald. Rumor has it that he intends to enter the real estate field!

EDWARD F. ABERCROMBIE, '25, is swimming coach of the University of Oregon.

HARVEY K. BRECKENRIDGE, '25, is working for the American Water Works and Electric Company of New York in the capacity of appraiser. His duties took him to Pittsburgh during August; at present he is in Hagerstown, Maryland.

WILLIAM G. COOK, '25, has returned to school to obtain his Master's degree. During the Summer months he had some practical business training as sales manager of the Cook Motor Company of Forest, Mississippi.

THOMAS R. GIBSON, '25, is teaching and coaching at Peabody Teachers' College, Nashville, Tennessee.

WILLIAM H. LESTER, '25, has decided to make Rochester, New York, his home, as he has been engaged in office work in that city since June.

JOHANNES TARGAARD, '25, recently returned from a two and a half months' trip to Scandinavia.

THOMAS E. McDONOUGH, ex-'26, is at Peabody Teachers' College, Nashville, Tennessee, where he is working for his degree while instructing physical training classes.

RICHARD J. and ADAM J. McCANN, '13 and '14 respectively, are running the McCann Printing Company at 212 Spring Street, Seattle.

ARTHUR N. DRIPS, '14, is general manager of the Pacific Paper Products Company at Tacoma, Washington.

ROBERT HARLOW, '14, was recently married. He is sales manager of the Washington Machinery Depot, 1924 Pacific Street, Tacoma, Washington.

JOSEPH HAVEL, '14, is managing editor of the Seattle Union Record.

ROLLAND B. JOHNSTON, '14, is assistant editor of the Journal of Commerce, 73 Columbia Street, Seattle, Washington.

JOHN W. KELLIHER, '14, is a member of the Coast Guard, chasing rum runners outside of New York.

GUY F. NAVARRE, '14, is manager of the United Artists Corporation, Kansas City, Missouri.

WALTER F. FLANLEY, '15, is with the Porto Rico Telephone Company, located at San Juan, Porto Rico.

WOODWORTH ANDERSON, '16, has been made manager of the Salt Lake City office of the Worthington Pump and Machine Corporation. His address is 1610 Walker Bank Building, and he would like to meet all Sigs in the vicinity.

ROLAND A. G. MAYER, '16, was one of the survivors of the ill-fated Shenandoah. He was a Lieutenant on the ship. Before his return to headquarters he paid a visit to the Delta chapter house.

CLAUDE G. SANDERS, '16, is connected with the Imperial Candy Company of Seattle. He writes: "If any of the Eastern Sigs ever need sweet-

MU

Washington

KARL F. HASS, '13, is practicing law at 5534 White Building, Seattle.

ening up when on a trip through the West, call and see me."

R. WARREN SHEEDY, ex-'17, is manager of the National Trading and Lumber Company in Seattle.

DAVID E. BALDWIN, '20, is traffic manager of the Globe Export Lumber Company of Seattle.

RICHARD B. DUNCAN, '20, is a member of the firm of Duncan and Sons, leather findings, Seattle.

JOHN M. COFFEE, '21, is practicing law in the city of Tacoma.

HAROLD S. DE SPAIN, '21, is in the realty business in Kelso, Washington. He was recently married.

SELDEN S. ANDREWS, '22, is in the logging business at Vernonia, Oregon.

CHARLES J. CAMPBELL, '22, is with the Blue Funnel Line, Seattle.

RONALD C. FORREST, '22, is in the accounting department of Montgomery Ward, in Oakland, California.

E. ALLEN PEYSER, '22, is deputy prosecuting attorney of Seattle, with his office in the County-City Building.

VIRGIL L. ANDERSON, '23, is with the Drumheller-Eurlichmann Bond Company, Seattle.

CHARLES J. MURRAY, '23, is attending the Portland Medical School, Portland, Oregon.

STANLEY N. RANDOLPH, '23, is manager of the Missouri State Life Insurance Company in Seattle.

RICHARD H. H. REESE, '23, is selling fuel and building materials for the McMullen Brothers Company in Seattle.

SAMUEL G. BAKER, '24, is with the Du Pont Company at Reponneau, Pennsylvania, in the capacity of chemist.

AMOS U. CHRISTIE, '24, is continuing his study of medicine at the University of California.

OTTMAR F. KOTICK, '24, is working for the Standard Oil Company of Olympia, Washington.

GEORGE G. MAZNA, '24, who recently visited the house, is in the laundry business with his father in Spokane, Washington.

RUSSELL A. NEUMANN, '24, is construction engineer at the Elliott Bay Mill Company, in Seattle.

HARVEY V. ROHRER, '24, is in the government consular service and at present is located at Washington, D.C.

CHARLES P. TYLER, '24, is with the publicity department of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

HARRY B. BUCKLEY, '25, is in the photographic department of Ranier National Park. He was married a short time ago, and is living in Tacoma, Washington.

WAYNE L. DOTY, '25, is employed by the Western Engraving Company of Seattle, and is taking orders for high school annuals throughout the state.

EVERETT J. FLADD, '25, is in the mercantile business in Rochester, New York.

FLOYD F. HAMPSON, '25, who is connected with the Standard Oil Company, was recently married.

THORWALD W. HENRICKSEN, '25, is in the Income Tax Office of Seattle.

ALLYN P. STILLMAN, '25, is in the salesman's school of the Wheeler-Osgood Company in Tacoma.

NU

California

JOSEPH M. SCAMMELL, '13, has been appointed an instructor in the political science department at California.

EUGENE K. STURGIS, '13, has been made city clerk of Oakland, California.

GEORGE T. MOORE, '17, JACK SPENCE, '19, and HUGH E. WILLIAMS, '20, are engaged in the real estate business.

STANLEY F. DAVIE, '18, is affiliated with a prominent San Francisco law firm.

LEE T. LYKIN, '19, WILLIAM A. HARGEAR, JR., '19, MILES F. YORK, '19, and FRANK E. MARTIN, '23, are engaged in the insurance business.

ARTHUR F. DUDMAN, '20, who was H.S.P. of Nu last year, and William Street, '12, have recently been married.

FREDERICK A. FENDER, '20, is studying medicine at Harvard.

JAMES E. HENDERSON, '20, is vice president of the Henderson Securities Company in San Francisco.

PHILLIP L. MOORE, '20, is assistant general manager of the Oakland, California, branch of the Montgomery Ward Company.

THOMAS W. HARRIS, JR., '21, and Mrs. Harris are the proud parents of a baby girl. Nu chapter takes this opportunity of congratulating Brother and Mrs. Harris.

CHARLES H. RAYMOND, '21, professor of English at California, was elected national president of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic honor society, last Fall. Professor Raymond takes a very active interest in all the student publications, especially the Daily Californian, the campus newspaper, and is a frequent visitor at the chapter house.

ially the Daily Californian, the campus newspaper, and is a frequent visitor at the chapter house.

MAITLAND B. MCKENZIE, '22, is continuing his study of law, at Columbia University.

THOMAS J. LEDWICK, '13, EUGENE K. STURGIS, '13, PHILIP S. MATHEWS, '16, and RALPH COFFEY, '17, are practicing law. Coffey and Sturgis, with Frank F. Hargear, '16, compose the present Board of Directors of Nu Chapter Alumni Association.

HOWARD C. DICKEY, '22, JOHN C. REINHARDT, '19, ROBERT L. SCHAFFNIT, '20, PAUL L. FUSSELL, '14, ORVILLE R. EMERSON, '13, SAMUEL I. OSBORN, '21, LAWRENCE A. DURGIN, '19, and JOHN C. NEWSOM, '23, are located in Los Angeles.

JOHN W. GREGG, JR., '25, is the son of John W. Gregg, Gamma '14, professor of landscape gardening at the University of California.

OMICRON

Pennsylvania

ROBERT L. GANGWISCH, '15, is an engineer for the Heurich Ice Company of Washington. He now has two future Alpha Sigs in his home.

WILLIAM G. BOWERS, '16, is with the Halsey Stuart Company of Philadelphia.

EARL W. BRAUN, '17, was married to Miss Freda A. Sauer of Marietta, Ohio, on October 19. Brother Bowers was best man, and a number of Delta men attended the wedding. Braun is now running nearly all the restaurants and bakeries in and about Marietta.

FRANKLIN G. CONNOR, '17, is an instructor in industry at the Wharton School of Finance, of the University of Pennsylvania.

ALLAN LA SOR, '17, is now selling asphalt for the Texas Company.

MAXWELL T. EATON, '19, is general manager of the Niagara Searchlight Company. He is now inaugurating an intensive sales campaign for New Zealand and Australia.

W. KENNETH EATON, '19, is assistant sales manager of the National Business Supply Company of Philadelphia. He is also on the faculty of the night school at the University of Pennsylvania.

MARK H. KENNEDY, '19, is a salesman for the Ott-Heiskell Hardware Company of Wheeling, West Virginia.

CHESTON F. SMITH, '19, is taking over the managership of the Washington office of the Miller Investment Company.

LOUIS A. BRUNNER, '20, is in Florida trying to make a clean-up in real estate.

CHRISTIAN HEURICH, JR., '20, was married on December 5 to Miss Constance Young of Philadelphia. He is in real estate business for himself in Washington.

GEORGE F. BROWN, '21, became engaged to Miss Arline Gangwisch, sister of Brother Robert Gangwisch, last February. He is now selling the plumbing specialties of the Woodward-Wanger Company of Philadelphia, in and around New Brunswick, New Jersey.

PAUL J. CUPP, '21, was married on September 30 to Miss Louise Ben-shoff of Johnstown, Ohio. George F. Brown was the best man. Brother Cupp has charge of the advertising and buying for the Cupp Grocery Company of Johnstown.

CHARLES W. PERRY, '21, announces the arrival of a future Sig at his home.

REGINALD M. BUDD, '22, is in the advertising department of the Campbell Soup Company at Camden, New Jersey.

CLELLAN D. CURTIS, '22, is a salesman for the Scott-Powell Dairy Company of Philadelphia.

WILLIAM H. PEAK, '22, is selling Burroughs Adding Machines in New York.

RICHARD P. PETERS, '22, is working for the William Feather Company of Cleveland, publishers of house organs.

PI

Colorado

FRANK T. GILLIGAN, '11, recently completed and moved into his beautiful new home in Aurora. Just before rush week he turned the house over to Pi chapter for a rush party, thereby meriting the unlimited thanks of the chapter for his help and interest.

LAWRENCE B. CARNAHAN, '15, was a recent visitor at the chapter house.

PAUL H. CARLSON, '19, is completing a two year course given by the York Manufacturing Company of York, Pennsylvania, to college men, to fit them for sales work.

JOHN P. COMMONS, ex-'21, is secretary-manager of the Alpaugh Irrigation District, located in the San Joaquin Valley of California. His address is Alpaugh, California.

ZELL FORREST MABEE, '22, has returned to Boulder with his wife and young daughter, and is at present city editor of the Boulder News Herald.

GLENN A. COLEMAN, '23, is assistant power salesman for the Public Service Company of Illinois, and may be reached at Room 1300, 72 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois.

C. LEROY COLEMAN, '23, and J. ALBAN WESTLUND, ex-'25, report recent additions to their respective families.

THOMAS W. O'HARA, '23, was an ardent Colorado rooter at the game between the University of Utah and the University of Colorado in Salt Lake City. He is practicing law at Rawlins, Wyoming.

J. REID WILLIAMS, '23, has been appointed assistant district attorney of Loveland, Colorado.

GEORGE C. AUSTIN, '25, is located in Salt Lake City and has a position as salesman and head of the radio department for a hardware concern there.

CLIFTON A. HIX, '25, has removed his shingle from Winter and Winter of Casper, Wyoming, and resumed his practice of law in Los Angeles, California.

THOMAS B. MCGLASHEN, '25, and ALEXANDER J. TURPIN, '25, are attending the Central Station Institute in Chicago, and may be addressed at 6032 Winthrop Avenue, Chicago.

HAROLD P. RISLEY, '25, has a position with the Morey Mercantile Company of Denver, and is a frequent visitor at the chapter house.

ROBERT M. BAKER, ex-'26, is attending the Forestry School of Yale University.

JOHN D. CLARK, ex-'27, has transferred to the University of Nebraska, and has affiliated with Xi chapter there.

JOSEPH G. WEST, JR., ex-'28, and Mrs. West announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Jean.

SIGMA

Kentucky

FRED W. FEST, '17, originally of Delta, may be reached at Elrama, Pennsylvania, where he is assistant superintendent of the gas works.

KARL W. GOOSMAN, '17, was married on October 19 to Miss Lydia Margaret Hosterman, at Woodward, Pennsylvania. They are living in Clearfield, Pennsylvania.

H. ARTHUR McVAY, '22, visited the Delta house recently.

C. GIVENS MARTIN, '23, is principal of the high school at Marion, Kentucky. He also is in charge of all athletics.

CURTIS B. SAUER, '23, and LOYAL VAN ARSDALL, ex-'28, are with the Armstrong Cork and Insulage Company, located at 808 Powers Building, Rochester, New York.

CARL F. STITH, '23, is in Miami, Florida, located at 2044 17 Avenue, North West. He expects to return to school next year to complete his graduate work.

DAVID K. BISHOP, '24, is teaching in the high school at Hartford, Kentucky.

RUSSELL E. TEAGUE, '24, has entered the medical college of the University of Louisville, Kentucky.

W. WAYNE FOUST, '25, is teaching in the County High School at Owensboro, Kentucky.

UNCAS J. MILLER, '25, is completing his college work at the University of Louisville, where he is starring on the football team.

UPSILON

Penn. State

GUSTAV A. DANIELSON, '18, has changed his location with the Warren-Webster Company from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

HARRY E. DAVIS, '18, was married recently. He is in Cumberland, Maryland, with the Firestone Company.

EDWARD F. GEHRET, '18, was recently married, and he and his wife have paid frequent visits at the house.

HARRY E. KALEY, '18, is in the engineering department of the Hershey Chocolate Company of Hershey, Pennsylvania.

PAUL G. MUSSOR, '18, is a member of the sales force of the Dodge Motor Company of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

PAUL C. NOLL, '18, was married on October 22. The couple began their honeymoon by attending the Fall house party on October 23 and 24, before starting on a trip through the North Central states and Canada.

TRUMAN B. PETERS, '18, is in the department of complaints and technical research of the Du Pont Viscoloid Company.

ROBERT W. SMITH, '18, is with the A. T. and T. in Philadelphia.

DENNIS P. DONOVAN, '19, is selling insurance in and about Emporium, Pennsylvania.

NELSON T. KESSLER, '19, is located in Trenton, New Jersey, with the State Forestry Department.

JOHN S. MALOY, '19, is with the West Penn Electric Company, in Pittsburgh.

JOSEPH B. MARTIN, '19, is chief inspector at the Altoona shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was married in July.

ROBERT A. NAEGELY, '19, is with the Johnson Service Company of Philadelphia.

HOMER L. VAN AKEN, '19, is going to Amsterdam, New York, where he will take up banking work.

LEON F. BAST, '20, is with the Ingersoll-Rand Company of Easton, Pennsylvania. He is one of the many who were married lately.

HERBERT L. HIORNS, '20, is selling life insurance for the Connecticut Mutual in New York.

WILLIAM R. LUBOLD, '20, is assistant cashier of the Bank of Glen Jean, in Glen Jean, West Virginia. He paid his first visit to the house since graduation, during the June Commencement.

ROYDEN M. SWIFT, '20, was one of about twenty-five alumni who returned for the Alumni Day reunion on November 7.

H. LEROY BORDNER, '21, is married and living at Chester, Pennsylvania. He is working at the Chester generating plant of the Philadelphia Electric Company.

WINSTON A. BRECHT, '21, is located at the home plant of the Westinghouse Electric Company at Pittsburgh.

ALLAN B. KIME, '21, is with the New York branch of the Century Electric Company. He may be located at the Lambda chapter house, and would appreciate a call when any of the brothers are in the big city.

BENJAMIN F. LEAMAN, '21, is in the tobacco business.

NELSON M. PHILLIPS, '21, is about to enter the flower business.

NORTON H. REICHENBACH, '21, is selling pump equipment in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

H. ARTHUR STROUD, '21, is a commercial engineer for the Keystone Power and Electric Company. He may be addressed at the Y.M.C.A. of Ridgway, Pennsylvania.

JOHN S. VOORHEES, '21, is assisting his father in their department store at Kennett Square, Pennsylvania.

RUDOLPH D. KISTLER, '22, is living at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, and learning the slate business at Wind Gap, Pennsylvania. He is assistant secretary and treasurer of the firm.

LORAIN H. SHUHART, '22, visited the chapter on Alumni Day.

CHARLES S. DAVIS, '23, of Allentown, Pennsylvania, is connected with the Mack Motor Company of that city, in the purchasing department.

JAMES G. CAMPBELL, '24, is nearing the finish of his preliminary course at the Altoona car shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

HAROLD H. HAYES, '20, is completing his study of dentistry this year at the Chicago College of Dentistry.

KARL L. HISS, '20, and his brother, Frederick, also '20, are in Toledo, Ohio. Karl has a fine practice, and is in addition assistant to the jail physician. However, he plans to leave soon for a year's study abroad. Fred will stay home and take care of his bakery.

GLEN F. MINNIS, '20, is teaching foreign trade and commerce in the Government Higher Commercial School at Yamaguchi, Japan.

RICHARD C. PAINE, '20, is assistant sales manager of the Beechnut Packing Company and travels around the East. He was present at the banquet at the Washington Convention last Summer.

DONALD A. PIATT, '20, took his Ph.D. degree with honors at the University of Chicago last June. He is now a member of the faculty of the department of philosophy at the University of Texas.

CHI

Chicago

L. MEREDITH ACKLEY, '20, was married to Miss Marion Leonard in August. He is still working for the McCormick Estate.

GEORGE F. BRAND, '20, has decided to lend his services to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, until resuming his law studies.

A. HOWARD ERICKSON, '20, is finishing his study of medicine at the Northwestern Medical College.

LLOYD R. FLORA, '20, took the big step this summer also, when he made Miss Louise Doty his June bride. They are now living at 7621 Kingston Street, Chicago.

JAMES D. TRAHEY, '20, is auditor of the Palmer Asbestos and Rubber Company.

GEORGE E. WAKERLIN, '20, is an instructor of physiology at the University of Chicago. At the same time he is completing his medical course.

RICHARD J. WALTHERS, '20, was married to Miss Irma Brautigam on September 2, and as part of their honeymoon, drove to Washington to attend the Convention, accompanied by Henry Hulbert, '21, and his wife.

LA FOREST DIZOTEL, '21, is teaching English at Benton Harbor, Michigan.

HAROLD W. HINKEL, '21, is selling insurance for the Grizzard System.

GEORGE W. RUTTER, '21, is teaching English at St. Cyril High School, Chicago.

EDWARD A. SEEGER, '21, has gone into the Real Estate business for himself, after having been connected with Quinlan and Tyson for years.

WARREN L. SEXTON, '21, is managing the North side branch of the Firedry Battery Company, while CLARKE M. SHAW, '21, takes care of the South side factory, in Chicago.

WILLIAM M. STEWART, JR., '21, is working for the Vacuum Oil Company.

HOWARD C. AMICK, '22, after taking his Bachelor's degree went to work for a Des Moines Bank.

FELICE F. CARUSO, '22, is now a commission merchant on South Water Street, Chicago, but is planning to go to Florida in the near future.

ROBERT H. DISTELHORST, '22, has been living with his wife, formerly Miss Genevieve McCall, at 5422 Ellis Avenue, since their marriage last Spring. He is representing the Nurre Mirror Plate Company of Burlington, Iowa.

CLARENCE B. ELLIOTT, '22, finds time to do some duck hunting, while helping his father in the lumber business at La Salle, Illinois.

S. RAYMOND FREY, '22, although living at home in Lorain, Ohio, drives to work in Cleveland, where he is personnel manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

C. FRIER MCCOLLISTER, '22, is in Fargo, North Dakota, rerating insurance.

GEORGE W. A. RUTTER, '22, is teaching English at Mt. Carmel High School for boys in Chicago.

WILLIS S. EDSON, '23, is working in the physical testing laboratory of the Sherwin, Williams Paint Company.

ALPHA ALPHA

Oklahoma

J. EARLE KUNTZ, '24, has left the District Attorney's office at Wichita Falls, Texas, and is now in business for himself.

CALVIN P. BOXLEY, '25, is practicing law with W. K. Snyder. Their office is in the First National Bank Building at Oklahoma City.

DAVID E. FIELDS, '25, is a mechanical engineer with a boiler factory located at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

R. PLACE MONTGOMERY, '25, is practicing law at Hobart, Oklahoma.

J. MATTHEW M. ROBERTSON, '25, is in the lumber business at Purcell, Oklahoma. He remembered the chapter by furnishing two large turkeys for dinner on the Sunday before the Thanksgiving holidays.

GARVIN W. SACKETT, '25, is spending the winter in Wichita, Kansas, playing with the Oklahomans at the Winter Garden.

ALLEN Y. DUNN, ex-'26E, spent a few days at the chapter house recently. He is buying cotton for a firm at Durant, Oklahoma.

F. FONTAINE FREEMAN, of Psi chapter, spends some time at the chapter house every three weeks. He is on the road a great part of the time, with his headquarters in Norman.

Two alumni of the old local which later became Alpha Sigma Phi were initiated into the fraternity on November 14. They are WILLIAM ATKINSON and HARRY LINK, both of Oklahoma City.

ALPHA BETA

Iowa

HARLEM J. LACY, '23, is the Iowa state agent for the Hollywood-by-the-Sea Realty Company, and is speculating in Florida land.

BERT A. SAMSON, '23, has purchased and is running the Samson Motor Car Company at Radcliffe, Iowa, dealing in Ford products. He was married on November 18 to Miss Ellen Kayser, of Webster City, Iowa. Miss Kayser is a Sigma Kappa.

MARION G. KELLAM, '24, is mayor of Greenfield, Iowa. He is also practicing law in that city.

HARRY L. McCORKLE, '24, is practicing dentistry in Algona, Iowa.

ROBERT B. SELLMAN, '24, is a member of the Arthur Anderson accounting firm of Chicago, Illinois.

FRED E. SKINNER, '24, recently became the father of a baby boy.

HARRY A. CHRISTIANSEN, '25, is practicing law in Sioux City, Iowa.

WILBUR L. DARNELL, '25, is in the grain and coal business at Wellman, Iowa.

RAYMOND L. DAVIS, '25, is advertising manager of the heel and sole department of the Goodyear Rubber Company. He is representing both the St. Louis and the Kansas City offices.

HENRY B. ENGESETH, '25, is coaching athletics at University High School in Iowa City, Iowa.

LESLIE M. GUNDRY, '25, is studying law at Harvard.

EUGENE C. LIGHT, '25, is engaged in the lumber business with his father at Brooklyn, Iowa. He was recently married.

CHARLES R. MARSHALL, '25, is a member of the personnel department of the General Electric Company. His headquarters are in Chicago.

DAN SPEED, '25, and THOMAS OSBORNE, '25, are holding responsible positions in the Osborne Drug Company at Knoxville, Iowa.

E. MERLE TAYLOR, '25, is taking his internship in the eye department of the State University of Iowa.

J. FREDERICK THROCKMORTON, '25, is taking his internship in Detroit.

RICHARD W. ULLEMEYER, ex-'25, is coaching athletics at the Rock Island, Illinois, High School. He is also a member of the physical education staff of that school.

ROGER M. BOLTON, ex-'26, is farming at Tipton, Iowa.

HAROLD R. CLAYTON, ex-'27, is farming at Algona, Iowa.

LOREN H. ODDEN, ex-'27, is studying osteopathy in Chicago. He is pledged to Theta Psi fraternity.

JAMES H. MILLER, ex-'26 dentistry, is taking part in a magazine campaign throughout the state.

ALPHA GAMMA

Carnegie Tech.

WILLIAM G. HUBER, '19, is working for the West Penn Power Company as a hydraulic engineer.

LAWRENCE B. KRITCHER, '22, is in business for himself in Pittsburgh. He designs and illustrates advertisements.

GOTTHARD E. ANDERSON, '23, is working in Clarksburg, West Virginia.

LEROY L. BYERLY, '23, and CHARLES N. WITHEROW, '23, are mining engineers for the Harbison Walker Refractories Company of Pittsburgh.

FREDERICK B. MENDENHALL, '23, is working for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

LESLIE C. SCHWEITZER, '23, DANIEL W. TALBOT, '23, and VIRGIL W. WHITMER, '23, all metallurgical engineers, are following their profession in various steel companies.

IVER C. WOOD, '23, is employed by the West Penn Power Company as a heat engineer.

ALBERT R. ZELT, '23, is safety director for the Yellow Cab Company of Pittsburgh.

RUSSELL B. FAHRENBACH, '24, is working in his home town of Reading, Pennsylvania.

HARRY B. LILLY, '24, is with the Timkin Roller Bearing Company in Canton, Ohio.

SCOTT W. RUDY, '24, is doing power plant work for the Westinghouse Air Brake Company of Wilmerding, Pennsylvania.

HAROLD H. WILSON, '24, is working for the Bell Telephone Company in Pittsburgh.

WILLIAM B. FLEMING, '25, is working with his father in Springfield, Missouri.

EDWARD H. KLEMMER, '25, is in the switchboard design department of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, East Pittsburgh.

---

ALPHA DELTA

Middlebury

LAURENCE W. CLUFF, '14, is at the Bently School of Finance, Boston, Massachusetts.

J. LOUIS DONNELLY, '22, is financial editor of the Wall Street News in New York.

RUSSELL E. DUNCAN, '22, is teaching at the Middlebury High School.

BARNEY F. POTRATZ, '22, last year's Freshman coach, is still following the pigskin. He is coaching athletics at Stratford, Connecticut, High School.

ERNEST M. ADAMS, '24, likes Vermont so well that he has accepted a position with the Vermont Marble Company, located at Proctor, Vermont.

RALPH W. COATES, '24, pays frequent visits to the house. He has full charge of the college line for Peters and Company, jewelers, with headquarters at Boston.

HAROLD N. DURKEE, '24, was married last June to Miss Helen Sheldon, a Middlebury graduate. He can be reached at Lynn, Massachusetts, where he is in business with his father.

LESTER E. KLIMM, ex-'24, is teaching finance to the students of the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

KENNETH W. ANDERSON, '25, is working for the Portland Cement Company at Allentown, Pennsylvania.

MERRICK W. CHAPIN, JR., '25, has chosen the Dennison Manufacturing Company for his first stopping place. He is in the Marlboro, Massachusetts, branch of that organization.

MARSHALL M. KLEVENOW, '25, last year's football captain, could not resist the lure of the great game. He is getting good results from only fair material at Middlebury this year.

ALOYS P. PAPKE, '25, like Klevenow, carried on this year, coaching football, basketball, and baseball at Alabama Polytechnic Institute located at Auburn, Alabama.

TOMMY SQUAWKS

At the Dorm Dance:
 "Say, have you tried the new steps?"

"No, are they any softer than the fire escape?"

—Massachusetts Tech. Voo Doo

"Waiter, I think there's a fly in this soup."

"Well, make sure! You don't expect me to pay any attention to a mere rumor!"

—Illinois Siren

"What for y'all call dat mule 'Millionaire'?"

"'Cause, nigger, he is a critter of a million bucks."

—Annapolis Log

Our Own Classified Ads—
 College widow with six children would like to meet Old Grad with five. Object, football team.—Sigma Chi Quarterly

Jack and Jill
 Sped up a hill,
 A curve up there was sharp.
 The car upset;
 Jack's rolling yet;
 Jill's playing on a harp.
 —University Life

He who fights and runs away
 Lives to fight another day.
 But he who courts and does not wed
 Finds himself in court instead.

—Kentucky Kernel

St. Peter, to applicant:
 "Where are you from?"

Applicant: "Seattle."

St. Peter: "Come on in, but I don't think you'll like it."—Algadel

First Young Thing:
 "Have you seen Bob lately?"

Second Y. T.: "About six weeks ago."

First Y. T.: "When you see him again, remind him that we are engaged, will you, dear?"

—London Opinion

She: "I spent the winter in Germany. . . . I loved Danzig."

He: "Shall we step out on the floor, then, or is your cold too bad?"—Williams Purple Cow

"A fellow wrote me a letter saying he'd shoot me if I didn't keep away from his wife. I'm terrified."

"Why don't you keep away from his wife?"

"He didn't sign his name!"—Lemaire and Van in "Gay Paree," via Judge

Who says the present generation is making no contribution to civilization? Look at the crop of broadminded chaperons we are training for the next generation.—Vinculum of Delta Sigma Lambda.

"What's a post-graduate?"

"One of these guys who gets a diploma from a correspondence school, I guess."
 —West Virginia Moonshine

"Money talks, they say. What language does it speak?"

"Czech, of course!"

—Toronto Goblin

Mules, of all colors indigenous to such animals, were grazing about in the field and the town girl was watching them.

"Do your mules kick much?" she innocently asked.

"No, those mules are not the kinky kind, tradition to the contrary notwithstanding," answered the farmer, who was educated and not "typical".

"Not even that white one?" asked the city girl, in astonishment.—Phi Chi Quarterly

Late to bed,
 And early to rise,
 Keeps the "dear brothers"
 From wearing your ties.
 —Colorado Dodo

Borrowmeter:
 Owe $5—be a piker.
 Owe $5,000—be a business man.
 Owe $5,000,000—be a government. —Judge

Directory

ALPHA SIGMA PHI FRATERNITY

Founded at Yale College in December, 1845

Executive Office and National Headquarters

CHARLES A. MITCHELL, Executive Secretary

Telephone: Murray Hill 10351

331 Madison Ave., New York

FOUNDERS

LOUIS MANIGAULT	ALBERT HOBRON	WASHINGTON MURRAY
GEORGE BENEDICT	HENRY HASTINGS HILL	EDWARD SCOFIELD
LEVI BARNES BRADLEY	WILLIAM BROWN LEE	WILLIAM WALLACE WARD
WILLIAM BARKER CLARKE	CORYDON CHARLES MERRIMAN	HORACE SPANGLER WEISER
ELIAL FOOTE HALL	BENJAMIN F. MOORE	SILAS WODELL

PAST GRAND SENIOR PRESIDENTS

HON. ALFRED DEWEY FOLLETT	Died Nov. 7, 1918.
HON. ALBERT BLAKESLEE WHITE	Parkersburg, W. Va.
COL. HOMER BAXTER SPRAGUE	Died March 23, 1918.
HON. ANDREW DICKSON WHITE	Died Nov. 4, 1918.
HON. CYRUS NORTHRUP	Died Apr. 3, 1922.
HON. SIMEON EBEN BALDWIN	11 Center St., New Haven, Conn.
HON. JOHN HAROLD SNODGRASS	Merrick, L. I., N. Y.

GRAND JUNIOR PRESIDENT EMERITUS

WAYNE MONTGOMERY MUSGRAVE, 403 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GRAND CHAPTER

OFFICERS

Grand Senior President

HON. CHARLES BURKE ELLIOTT, 715 Metropolitan Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.

Grand Junior President

BENJAMIN CLARKE, 1056 First National Bank Building, Chicago, Ill.

Grand Secretary

DONALD DRAKE SCHEIB, Fidelity and Deposit Co. of Maryland, Denver, Colo.

Grand Corresponding Secretary

FREDERIC LAWRENCE BABCOCK, 1913 Third Avenue, Seattle, Wash.

Grand Treasurer

CLEAVELAND JOCELYN RICE, 129 Church Street, New Haven, Conn.

Grand Marshal

GEORGE HOBART McDONALD, 1522 First National Bank Building, Chicago, Ill.

Editor of The Tomahawk

CHARLES A. MITCHELL, 331 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

GRAND PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEE

GILLESPIE BLAINE DARRAH, Chairman and Executive President, ex-officio, 63 Wall St., New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM HENRY TOWNE HOLDEN, Room 1706, 195 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

ROBERT L. JAGOCKI, 99 Nassau St., New York, N. Y.

The Chapters

Chapter	Institution	Chapter Address	Alumni Secretary	Meeting Night
ALPHA 1845	Yale	70 Trumbull St., New Haven, Conn. (Mail) 1845 Yale Station	Cleaveland J. Rice, 129 Church St., New Haven, Conn.	Thursday, 8
BETA 1850	Harvard	54 Dunster St., Cambridge, Mass.	Robert H. J. Holden, Shirley Center, Mass.	Tuesday, 6:30
DELTA 1860	Marietta	205 Fourth St., Marietta, Ohio	Sheldon C. Gilman, 305 Fourth St.	Monday, 7
EPSILON 1863	Ohio Wesleyan	121 N. Washington St., Delaware, Ohio	H. H. Yoder, 5701 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, Ohio	Monday, 7
ZETA 1908	Ohio State	130 E. Woodruff Ave., Columbus, Ohio	Fred Schneider, 130 E. Woodruff Ave., Columbus, Ohio.	Monday, 6:30
ETA 1908	Illinois	313 E. John St., Champaign, Ill.	Robert J. Phillips, Fairbury, Ill.	Monday, 7:30
THETA 1908	Michigan	1315 Hill St., Ann Arbor, Mich.	Herbert L. Dunham, 2252 Edison Ave., Detroit, Mich.	Monday, 6
IOTA 1909	Cornell	Rockledge, Ithaca, N. Y.	J. T. B. Miller, Rockledge, Ithaca, N. Y.	Monday, 6:45
KAPPA 1909	Wisconsin	244 Lakelawn Place, Madison, Wis.	Lyle C. Hance, Camp Douglas, Wisconsin.	Monday, 6:45
LAMBDA 1910	Columbia	524 W. 114th St., New York, N. Y.	William N. Angus, 161 W. 105th St., New York, N. Y.	Monday, 7:30
MU 1912	Washington	4554 19th Ave., N. F., Seattle, Wash.	Warren P. Sheedy, 1811 N. 44th St., Seattle, Wash.	Monday, 7:15
NU 1913	California	2739 Channing Way, Berkeley, Calif.	Harry Benteen, 2739 Channing Way, Berkeley, Calif.	Monday, 7:15
GAMMA 1913	Mass. A. C.	85 Pleasant St., Amherst, Mass.	Sidney B. Haskell, 2 Mt. Pleasant, Amherst, Mass.	Monday, 7:15
XI 1913	Nebraska	500 N. 16th St., Lincoln, Nebr.	E. H. Dunaway, 667 Natl.Bk.Comm. Bldg. Lincoln, Nebr.	Monday, 7
OMICRON 1914	Pennsylvania	3903 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.	W. L. Morgan, 3903 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.	Tuesday, 7
PI 1915	Colorado	1205 13th St., Boulder, Colo	O. L. Robertson, 1226 California St., Denver, Colo.	Monday, 7:15
RHO 1916	Minnesota	925 6th St., S. E., Minneapolis, Minn.	Anders J. Carlson, 520 Delaware St., S. E., Minneapolis, Minn.	Monday, 7
SIGMA 1917	Kentucky	211 E. Maxwell St., Lexington, Ky.	Prof. L. S. O'Bannon, 342 Aylesford Place, Lexington, Ky.	Wednes., 7:30
TAU 1917	Stanford	6 Salvatierra St., Stanford Univ., Calif.	H. K. Hotchkiss, 6 Salvatierra St., Stanford Univ., Calif.	Monday, 7

The Chapters

Chapter	Institution	Chapter Address	Alumni Secretary	Meeting Night
UPSILON 1918	Penn State	218 E. Nittany Ave., State College, Pa.	D. P. Donovan, 218 E. Nittany Ave., State College, Pa.	Monday, 9
PHI 1920	Iowa State	115 Welch Ave., Ames, Iowa	William H. Stacy, 617 Sixth St., Ames, Iowa.	Monday 7:30,
CHI 1920	Chicago	5635 University Ave., Chicago, Ill.	Ralph Ibenfeldt, 2251 Walton St., Chicago, Ill.	Monday, 7:15
PSI 1920	Oregon A. C.	957 Jefferson St., Corvallis, Ore.	Oscar N. Hagg, Readville, Oregon	First and third Monday, 7
ALPHA ALPHA 1923	Oklahoma	725 Asp St., Norman, Okla.	Leon M. Willits, American Nat'l. Bank, Oklahoma City, Okla.	Monday, 7
ALPHA BETA 1924	Iowa	603 E College St., Iowa City, Iowa	Reid Ray, 380 N. Lexington St., St. Paul, Minn.	Monday, 7
ALPHA GAMMA 1925	Carnegie Tech	5601 Wilkins Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.	S. Lewis Jones, 5601 Wilkins Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.	Monday, 7
ALPHA DELTA 1925	Middlebury	Middlebury, Vt.	Jas. Finnegan % Alpha Sigma Phi Middlebury, Vt.	Monday, 7
ALPHA EPSILON 1925	Syracuse	202 Walnut Place., Syracuse, N. Y.	L. J. Porter, 213 Elliott St., Syracuse, N. Y.	Monday, 7

Chapter Alumni Associations

Chapter	President	Secretary
DELTA	Joseph C. Brenan, Marietta, Ohio	Thomas H. Kelley, 141 E. 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio
KAPPA	Kenneth R. Burke, Room 1096-208 S. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.	D. Van W. Beckwith, Pioneer Block, Madison, Wis.
LAMBDA	Edmund B. Thompson, 276 Riverside Drive, New York, N. Y.	Frank H. Thomas 66 West 49th Street, New York, N.Y.
NU	W. J. Cooper, 3343 Kerckhoff Ave., Fresno, Calif.	Frank F. Hargear, 2928 Derby St., Berkeley, Calif.
OMICRON	L. Roy Campbell, Montgomery Inn, Bryn Mawr, Pa.	Edward R. Tourison, 17 Carpenter Lane, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, Pa.
CHI	George H. McDonald, 1522 First Nat'l Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill.	James B. Pratt, 7400 Crandon Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Alumni Councils

City	President	Secretary
CHICAGO	C. William Cleworth, 7 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.	R. W. Ibenfeldt, 1401-10 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill.
PITTSBURGH	Frank R. Altwater, 1679 Suburban Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.	Benton H. James 724 Kerr Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.
PHILADELPHIA	Rex M. Budd, 3903 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.	Robert W. Smith, 6573 N. Woodstock St., Germantown, P.O., Philadelphia, Pa.
NEW YORK	G. E. Worthington, 370 7th Ave., New York, N. Y.	G. B. Darrah, 63 Wall St., New York, N. Y.
DETROIT	Karel Melaas, 502 Farwell Building, Detroit, Mich.	Robert P. Campbell, 502 Farwell Building Detroit, Mich.
MILWAUKEE	Henry B. Merrill, 143 Fourth St., Milwaukee, Wis.	A. J. Benner, 1107-49th St., Milwaukee, Wis.
COLUMBUS	Lytle W. Hunt, 211 James Building, Columbus, Ohio.	James M. Packer, Ohio State Stove Mfg. Co. Columbus, Ohio.
TOLEDO	James P. Schrider, Toledo Trust Co., Toledo, Ohio.	Bartlett E. Emery, Commerce T. & S. Bank, Toledo, Ohio.
PORTLAND, Ore.	Donald E. Hicks, 226 N. 18th St., Portland, Ore.	Wilbur H. Welch, Pacific Tel. & Tel. Co., Portland, Ore.
CLEVELAND	C. W. Auer, 842 E. 79th St., Cleveland, Ohio.	Richard P. Peters, 615 Caxton Bldg., Cleveland, Ohio.
SEATTLE	Irving D. Winslow, 1003 Telephone Bldg.,	David E. Baldwin, 6621 Stuart Bldg.,
BOSTON	G. F. Wason, 5 Walnut Ave., Cambridge, Mass	Edmund B. Shotwell, 54 Dunster St., Cambridge, Mass.
LOS ANGELES	William C. Mullendore 1126 Pacific Mut. Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.	Wesley M. Heine, 1076 W. 7th St., Los Angeles, Calif.
KANSAS CITY	Ralph B. Allen, 51 and Ward Parkway, Kansas City, Mo.	I. A. Clark, General Hospital, Kansas City, Mo.

Alumni Councils

City	President	Secretary
TWIN CITY	Lawrence S. Clark, 2110 Bryant Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn.	Frank J. Tupa, 4820 Xerxes Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn.
OMAHA	Frank A. Allen 5001 Cuming St., Omaha, Neb.	Arthur M. Herring 2730 Newport Ave., Omaha, Neb.
SAN FRANCISCO	F. F. Hargear, 410 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Calif.	M. F. York, 401 California St., San Francisco, Calif.
BATTLE CREEK	Dr. Theodore Squiers, The Post Bldg., Battle Creek, Mich.	Lowell Genebach, United Steel & Wire Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
WASHINGTON	Edwin S. Puller, 1007-1011 Woodward Bldg., Washington, D. C.	Irvin D. Foos, 63 Home Life Bldg., 15th & G Washington, D. C.
DENVER	D. D. Scheib Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Md., Denver, Colo.	O. L. Robertson, 1226 California St., Denver, Colo.
OKLAHOMA CITY	Chas. E. McPherran, Braniff Bldg., Oklahoma City, Okla.	Scott P. Squyres, 702 Braniff Bldg., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Alumni Luncheons and Dinners

CHICAGO	Mandel Bros., Ivory Grill.....	Wednesday, 12:15
DETROIT	Michigan Club.....	Friday, 12:15
LOS ANGELES	University Club.....	Monday, Noon
NEW YORK	Downtown , Stewart's, Park Place,.....	Tuesday, Noon
	Uptown , Louis', 17 West 49th St.....	Thursday, 1:00
PITTSBURGH	Kaufmann & Baer Co., Dept. Store Restaurant.....	Saturday, 1:00
SAN FRANCISCO	Commercial Club, 465 California St.....	Thursday, Noon
COLUMBUS	Chittendon Hotel.....	2nd Monday, Noon
PHILADELPHIA	Omicron Chapter House.....	3rd Thursday, 7 P.M.
BOSTON	Beta Chapter House.....	3rd Monday, 6:30 P.M.
WASHINGTON	Roma Restaurant, 707 Twelfth St., N. W.....	1st Tuesday, 12:45
DENVER	Alpine Rose Cafe.....	Wednesday, Noon
SEATTLE	Chamber of Commerce.....	Wednesday Noon

The Nation's Foremost

The President and the First Lady of the Land possess BALFOUR BADGES

Throughout the country on every college campus the Fraternity man and woman proudly wear the emblems of Balfour Manufacture. It is by reason of their approval and keen appreciation that the L. G. Balfour Company today has become official jeweler to practically every Fraternity and Sorority in America.

We have the honor of serving your Fraternity as Official Jeweler. By permitting us to supply your requisites you are assured of Quality, Price and Service. Moreover, your fraternity insignia is protected and your National Fraternity derives direct revenues through royalties which would otherwise be dissipated among unauthorized jewelers without responsibility.

"BALFOUR MADE"
"The Utmost In Fraternity Jewelry"

Write for the 1926 Blue Book and illustrated badge price list.

BADGES      RINGS      NOVELTIES      JEWELRY      STATIONERY
LEATHER GOODS      BANNERS      PLAQUES      DANCE PROGRAMS

Sole Official Jeweler to Alpha Sigma Phi

Main Office

ATTLEBORO, MASSACHUSETTS

New York
Pittsburgh Seattle
Dallas

Chicago
Richmond
Atlanta
Indianapolis

San Francisco
Philadelphia
Kansas City

Los Angeles
Minneapolis
Denver

Price List of  $\Lambda \Sigma \Phi$  Goods Supplied by the
GRAND PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEE

331 Madison Avenue
New York

---

THE TOMAHAWK —Annual Subscription.....	$ 2.00
—Life Subscription.....	15.00

BADGES

OFFICIAL REGULATION BADGE, including engraving and mailing charges.....	6.25
OFFICIAL SISTER PIN, including engraving and mailing charges.....	5.00
OFFICIAL PLEDGE BUTTONS, including mailing charges, each.....	.75
RECOGNITION BUTTON, each.....	1.50

All of the above must be ordered through the proper chapter officer.

WALL PLAQUES

SHIELD PLAQUE (Old Style), express charges extra...	6.00
BALFOUR SQUARE PLAQUE (New Style), express charges extra.....	6.00

SHINGLES

ENGROSSED SHINGLES, each.....	1.00
-------------------------------	------

HAT BANDS

REGULATION STYLE (new design), each.....	1.00
--	------

---

NOTE: Fraternity novelties, stationery, etc., are supplied by L. G. Balfour Company, Official Jewelers, Attleboro, Massachusetts, The Brochon Engraving Co., 235 E. Ontario St., Chicago, Ill., and Edwards, Haldeman & Co., 427 Farwell Bldg., 1507 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. No other jeweler, stationer, or noveltier is entitled to be patronized and any infringement by such of any of the Fraternity Insignia will be vigorously prosecuted and restrained. All insignia is copyrighted or protected by common law trade marks and no licenses will be granted to any but official jewelers and stationers.

Make all checks payable to Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, except for Subscriptions to THE TOMAHAWK, which should be made payable to THE TOMAHAWK

