Annual Report of Council

"I enclose herewith my check for five dollars to help keep the ball rolling. During the last year I have seen some of the struggles college fraternities are having. My son is attending Occidental College and has been initiated into Phi Gamma Delta. Between the draft boards, enlistments and the taking in of V-12 boys, it has been hard going. My son will be gone after this term as he has enlisted in the Navy, but I am glad he has had a taste of fraternity life. It may be the bond that will draw him back to college after the war. I wish he had had an opportunity to join Alpha Sigma Phi." Thus, Wallace A. Craig, Stanford '19, puts the whole problem in the proverbial nutshell.

Alpha Sigma Phi, along with all other college fraternities in the country, has struggled during the past two years. Out of the 28 chapters that were open just prior to the war, only four are now active in the full sense of the word, with three others initiating members during this period. The usual revenues which kept the national organization going, initiation fees and active chapter dues, are no longer coming in. It is the splendid spirit of the alumni of the fraternity in their financial support which is underwriting our survival until such time as the individual chapters can function in any manner approaching normal.

In such an emergency the first job of the Grand Council was to pare all possible expenses to the minimum. Visitation was reduced sharply and contact with the alumni trustees of chapter affairs was carried on by mail; publishing expenses of the Tomahawk was materially reduced, and the elimination of the services of a full time Executive Secretary brought our salary budget to the lowest possible level. During this crucial period the affairs of the national office have been very capably administered by Miss Elizabeth Jessen, formally secretary to Ralph Burns. We are fortunate, indeed, to have had the benefit of her experience and ability at this time. Officers and members of the Grand Council have assisted where possible, at no expense to the fraternity as these Councilors serve without compensation.

Last year's campaign for alumni dues, on which the expenses were $1,001.69 and from which the fraternity received a total of $7,022.00, was the beginning of this drive for funds. This year's drive has to date cost the fraternity $1,205.79 and the fraternity has received a total of $7,465.61. The total number of subscribers for this period was 1,490. Receipts are still being received and there will be some additional expense. The main item on the increase of expense of this year's campaign over last year's was in the use of first class postage for the letters of request. Last year's letters were sent out on one cent postage and consequently many of the men were never reached as such letters are not forwarded. The extra expense has been justified.

Because of the tremendous task of reopening chapters in all but a half dozen of their former locations, our cash reserves had to be preserved and increased in so far as possible, to be ready for a fresh and vigorous start. Comprehensive plans have been prepared to restore these chapters and return Alpha Sigma Phi to her place of leadership in keeping with her "One Hundred Years of Fraternity Progress."

The convention of 1927 at Ithaca established national dues of one dollar as a policy for all who would be initiated after August 1927 and directed that earlier alumni be invited to participate in the program. In this emergency we have invited alumni to support in greater amount than heretofore and greater than is contemplated after reactivation of our chapters.

Dues in Alpha Sigma Phi have become, through the years, an almost voluntary project, at least insofar as no member is actually billed for them and no member is taken from the rolls of "members in good standing" if they are not paid. During the past two years the additional four dollars has been an emergency fund which has understandably become necessary since the falling off of chapter revenue.

It was not the intent of the Grand Council to request payment of dues from any member in the armed forces, but the letters and cards were sent to all members except those who had specifically stated last year that they did not wish to be solicited. Consequently, our letters reached many men whom we were not aware of as being service men. They and their parents have contributed heavily in this campaign; in fact, it might be safe to say that 75% of the contributions from the younger members came from their parents or other members of their families who had been delegated to take care of such matters. The fraternity is grateful for these contributions, doubly so as they represent approval of Alpha Sigma Phi in the eyes of these parents as well as a great hope for the future when these service men come home. It shows they are thinking of us in the light of pleasant memories and future hopes—no organization based on fellowship and character-building could ask for more from its members. When Joe Cimino from Penn. State writes from New Guinea for a picture of the Upsilon chapter house because "it will mean very much to me," when Mrs. Emily K. Riddle, mother of Phil and Dick of Epsilon, writes, "You have so many grand Alpha Sig boys," and when countless members can wish us well for the future we feel proud to have a hand in Alpha Sigma Phi. Our thanks go out to every contributor and with these thanks goes a confident assurance that this coming year will see a great rise in the fortunes of Alpha Sigma Phi all over the country.

It's Greek to Us

Associate Editor Scissors and Assistant Editor Paste-Pot provide the following chuckle from Time: "Crawling back to his Canadian infantry outfit after a scouting mission in Italy, Capt. Bob Chard blundered into a position held by Greek troops. A sentry challenged.

Captain Chard answered in purest fraternity-house Greek: 'Delta Upsilon; Phi Kappa Psi.' The sentry promptly opened fire and threw a grenade. Chard is recovering in a base hospital."—The Phi Gamma Delta.

Alpha Omicron Chapter Installed

On June 2, 1945, Alpha Sigma Phi installed its thirty-ninth chapter, Alpha Omicron, at Missouri Valley College in Marshall, Mo. The Grand Council of Alpha Sigma Phi is proud to welcome this new chapter into the brotherhood of the Fraternity.

George E. Worthington, Grand Councilor from Washington, D. C., assisted by Ralph F. Burns, Executive Secretary, and several members of Alpha Pi chapter, initiated 16 charter members in an impressive ceremony, followed by a dinner.

The charter members are: Thomas G. Allin, Madison, Wis.; Francis E. Barenbrugge, Naperville, Ill.; Kenneth S. Barry, Providence, R. I.; Emerson T. Cannon, Salt Lake City, Utah; Herbert E. Harris, Kansas City, Mo.; Allen P. Kauffman, St. Louis, Mo.; William E. Korbitz, Medford, Wis.; John S. McCormack, Danville, Ill.; Gerald McNulty, Winnetka, Ill.; James M. Nisely, Marshall, Mo.; Lee C. Northcliffe, Barrington, Ill.; William R. Philipsen, Lincoln, Nebr.; William A. Schmdle, Marshall, Mo.; Walter A. Shulaw, Lawrenceville, Ill.; Byron S. Mueller, and Charles W. Gehrke, alumni members.

Alpha Omicron chapter was organized in 1927 as the Tri C Club, a pioneer among the social clubs on the campus. Later, the name was changed to Alpha Delta Kappa Fraternity. At the present time there are on the campus Beta Gamma chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity; two local women's sororities, one of which is to be installed as a chapter of Alpha Xi Delta this fall, and Alpha Omicron of Alpha Sigma Phi.

The social organizations are kept in close contact with the faculty and administration through advisers selected by the organizations themselves from among the faculty members. Charles W. Gehrke, the adviser of Alpha Delta Kappa, will continue in that capacity for Alpha Omicron. He was consequently among the charter members initiated this month.

Missouri Valley College was chartered in 1888 as the Cumberland Presbyterian College of the Synods of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. The high standards set by the college from the start attracted many promising students and gave the school a prominent position in the denomination and in the state of Missouri. It has maintained close relations with the synod and the churches and is controlled by the Synod of Missouri, although it is liberal and non-sectarian in administration and student representation.

The college regards itself, in a very fundamental way, as the college of Saline County and is proud to number a large group of the county's responsible citizens among former students. It is located in Marshall, the county seat of Saline County, a prosperous community, with good schools and churches, surrounded by some of Missouri's richest agricultural lands. The town is 80 miles east of Kansas City on the main line of the Alton Railroad and about 45 miles west of Columbia where Alpha Theta chapter is located. The 40 acre campus lies in the southeast section of the town on a rise of ground sloping gently away in all directions. In the early years many varieties of shrubs and trees were planted and these are now in their prime, making the campus one of the most attractive in the state.

We extend to the new chapter our sincere good wishes for its future, secure in the knowledge that the fine group initiated on June 2 will carry on the traditions of the Ol' Gal. They have joined the Fraternity in its one hundredth year and will be one of the forces striving toward the two hundredth anniversary.

Further Recollections

Psi at Oregon State

The names of local organizations which were installed as chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi have run the gamut of originality from the old College Shakespearean Society that became Gamma, through the Alvarado Club that became Tau, to the Aztec Club which was installed as Psi.

In 1913 a group of Master Masons at Oregon State College formed a club whose main object was to become a part of Acacia Fraternity, then entirely composed of Masonic members. However, it developed that the college did not have enough Masons to support a chapter, so the club changed its course and decided to work towards the goal of Alpha Sigma Phi. The first world war interrupted its plans, but the Student Affairs Committee granted the club a local fraternity charter and the club became the Aztec Fraternity. Finally, in 1920 the local organization petitioned Alpha Sigma Phi and was accepted and installed as the twenty-third chapter.

Social life and scholarship were the main objects of the Oregon group but after they had been a part of Alpha Sigma Phi they began to add athletics to their list of accomplishments.

Among the members were three captains of major sports and their freshmen pledges were holding their own in the field of athletics.

Ten years later, or almost, other activities were claiming the actives' attention: "The present term sees the brothers of Psi driving the home stretch in an effort to boost their grades high enough to warrant living a life of ease when spring term comes, and a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of anything but studies. What with exchange dinners, spring moonlight and the many dances, Psi will probably quit smoking cigarettes and depend on the cigars of the hooked ones. . . 'Chesty' Kalibak also shook a mean broom in the cleaning campaign. . . Brother Kalibak has cleaned the house in other ways, too. It was Kal's duty to organize a purity league for the maintenance of clean speech within the house. After a brief reign of terror with plenty of punishment meted out to offenders, the crusade was forced to revise by-laws to permit swearing under conditions of extreme excitement. The boys seem to be extremely excited most of the time." We presume that these additions to the curriculum of the chapter did not interfere in any way with its original objects and we are sure that with the end of the war and the reactivation of Psi, all facets of the chapter will be lighted again by the fellowship and brotherhood of Oregon Sigs.

The Keystone Of The Southwest

"At 1:27 A. M., May 19, 1923, H. M. Herget proclaimed that the Alpha Alpha chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi was officially in existence"—and thus began the life of the twenty-fourth chapter of the Fraternity.

The chapter at the University of Oklahoma began as a local, Delta Kappa Rho, under the leadership of Scott P.

Squires, who was the founder of the local and the first H. S. P. of Alpha Alpha following the installation of the charter members.

"The new-born chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi traces its origin back to the time when Delta Kappa Rho was founded on January 5, 1921, by a group of five men, headed by Scott P. Squires, of high standing in scholarship and college activities and of such personality and enterprise that seven more men were quickly added to the original band of founders. Its organization was not announced to the student body until May 9 of the same year, and shortly afterward the Delta Kappa Rho local fraternity was recognized by the university as an integral part of its social organization. In the Fall of 1921 a house was secured, and the local was ready to join in the rushing season which followed quickly upon the opening of college. When that period was over, Delta Kappa Rho had exactly doubled its membership. Twelve honorary and professional fraternities were represented in its membership, as well as the Glee Club, Oratorical Council, Publications Board, 'Varsity Debate, Drama League, Orchestra and numerous minor activities. Its members were and have since been chosen first for themselves, however, in true accordance with the ideals of Alpha Sigma Phi. . . . The next task which confronted these future members of Alpha Alpha was the selection of the national fraternity which they would wish to petition. . . . Ivan G. Wright, Zeta '11, then of the Oklahoma faculty, learning of their intentions, investigated the group and brought it to the attention of our national organization. Daniel

W. Hogan, Jr., Iota '21, whose home is in Oklahoma City, also made inquiries and strongly recommended Delta Kappa Rho. Soon Grand Junior President Musgrave took up the matter, investigated in turn, and upon inquiry from the local informed that group that Alpha Sigma Phi was favorably disposed to entertain a petition. . . . On April 25 the last vote came in, completing the unanimous ballot in favor of admitting Delta Kappa Rho to the Mystic Circle as Alpha Alpha chapter.

"Alpha Sigma Phi is the second oldest national fraternity at the University of Oklahoma, being exceeded in age only by Beta Theta Pi. A new home in the center of the fraternity district has been leased by Alpha Alpha for the next two years. Fine lots near the campus have been bought as the site of the permanent chapter home to be built there in time for occupation at the expiration of the present two-year lease.

"No finer group of fellows could be found to carry on the Cardinal and Stone banner than these Alpha Sigs of Soonerland, and we may well congratulate ourselves on having them to work for our fraternity in the Southwest, hitherto untouched territory in our expansion. Oklahoma forms for us the keystone of the Southwest. We have placed a great trust in our baby chapter; let it be well kept."

Alpha Beta at Iowa

The memories of alumni of Alpha Beta go back as far as 1920 when the local fraternity, Delta Kappa Gamma, was organized on the campus at Iowa City; through the period of petitioning and their installation as Alpha Beta chapter, until shortly before the war when the chapter became dormant.

Some time ago we heard from B. "Sparky" Agard: "I do think of the old gang back in Iowa City, around 1922 to 1926, and often wonder where fellows like Dohrman, Morrison, Miller, Kellam and Gump are now. I know Eckstrand was caught in the Philippines when the Japs struck. F. Stickney is in Sioux City with the O. P. A. and D. Storey is practising dentistry in Orange City. I get to see Mel Falkenhainer quite often and he's doing well for himself. I have been in Sioux City since 1939. I often think of Andy Gump, especially of the night when I busted a paddle over his rump, mistaking him for someone else in the pledge line-up."

About six months before the New York air was crowded with stockbrokers jumping out of windows in 1929, the chapter at Iowa laid the cornerstone of its new home on River Street. Prominent at the ceremony were T. M. Ingersoll, representing the alumni and acting as master of ceremonies, B. F. Dewell who officiated in the laying of the stone, and Rex I, mascot of the chapter, who provided the largest grin among the smiling faces shown in the photograph taken at the time.

Homecoming was a highlight in the chapter life and even in years when the Iowa eleven failed to give real cause for celebration, the chapter house was always a scene of alumni and active festivities. In 1932 when the Minnesota team thoroughly trounced the Hawkeyes the returning grads averted their eyes from the scoreboard and proceeded to enjoy the week-end, and in 1939 when the Iowa team returned the compliment to Minnesota, the alumni were there again and a homecoming party was held in the local country club with Bob Feller, of the Cleveland Indians, as one of the guests.

The career of Alpha Beta marked it as one of the strivers toward the ideal in fraternity life. John Harrison wrote an open letter to the parents of pledges back in 1939 which expressed the aims of the chapter admirably and we quote part of it: "The fraternity is based on much the same principles as the home. Close ties bind its members together. College life has become a much more serious business than it was back in the late 1920's and the better fraternities have proved their ability to offer college youths the advantage of close social relationships without sacrifice of scholastic standards. The real value of a fraternity cannot be estimated. Those of us who have gone out from college in recent years can testify to the benefit and pleasure which it has meant to be a member of Alpha Sigma Phi."

Memories From Alpha Gamma

"Another name was added to the list of chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity on March 28, 1925, when the Iota Sigma Delta Fraternity, a local at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., was duly installed as the Alpha Gamma chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi, the twenty-sixth chapter of our fraternity."

Give ear to one of the charter members of Alpha Gamma, Harold H. Wilson: "My memories are mostly of the old Iota Sigma Delta outfit. I remember we used to be known by the other national fraternities as that 'D—— local.' I guess it was because we had a lot of our men in the top jobs around the campus and to top it off we won the interfraternity basketball championship one year in a play-off with a couple of nationals. About the same time we took the cup for the interfraternity pushmobile sweepstakes race, an event of the annual Campus Week celebration.

"In the Spring of '23, we tried to duck the seniors one evening. In the tussle that ensued on the stairway we almost ripped off the banister. We finally had to give up and catch them one at a time since there were so many of them.

"Then there was the time that Frank West contracted a light case of scarlet fever and the house was quarantined. Some fun."

"I wonder if 'Bugs' Beedle can still throw a heavy foot on the dance floor? He used to make the old house rattle and tremble. Perhaps Mendy (F. B. Mendenhall) remembers the time he anchored our relay team in the interfraternity track meet. He came to the track just after attending a banquet including cherry pie and he just wasn't there at the finish."

Now take a deep breath and listen to A. F. Sidells: "Things to be remembered at Alpha Gamma—On the first really nice Spring Sunday, the whole bunch sitting on the front porch and the steps down the hill when the house was at the corner of Wilkins and Wightman streets; watching Frank Saylor's broken

Model T go rolling down Wightman all by itself and weave through the almost solid stream of cars on the Lincoln Highway which ran through Pittsburgh along Wilkins, miss a telephone pole and come majestically to rest on the lawn across the street. . . . The class of '30 being introduced to Dutch Zelt, former 280 pound Tech tackle, on the day before 'Hell Night'. Dutch was tough, but for my money Red Reynolds and McCarthy could both lay on a paddle with a lot more 'stuff'. . . . The year Bill Schei, was class president, honor man, editor of Puppet, B.M.O.C., etc., and he brought his Sally down on a dance and week-end. Sally earned the undying love of all the brothers by her remark during Sunday dinner at the house, 'Bill, why didn't you go Delt; I think they have a much nicer fraternity house. . . . The Saturday night when Al Moredock joined the ranks of the diplomats: Richard and Mary, the colored help, had a room and bath on the third floor just off the dormitory filled with double-deck bunks where the brothers slept. Their bath was sometimes used by the boys and one night when Moredock opened the door and found the tub completely filled with Mary, he quickly backed out saying, 'I beg your pardon, Richard.'. . . . Nineteen twenty-eight when the brothers really went to town during Campus Week. The house was decorated after five days and nights of erecting wood strips and frames, covering with paper and turning the architects and painters loose. The general theme of the Arabian Nights somehow got lost in Sally Rand bubble dancers, but the effect was magnificent. . . . When we nosed out the D. U.'s and Beta's for the scholarship cup and H. S. P. Sidells practically ran down the aisle of the Carnegie Music Hall to get it before anyone could change the percentages. We had won the cup by .001 points! . . . The year Bill Greve and Dick Turner turned up with motorcycles. Bill had ridden from Iowa and Dick from Jersey. . . . Johnny Davis and his 'D. C.' drawl and slow and easy manner, turning into a whirlwind on the bowling alleys and practically killing the pin boys with cannonball shots. . . . During prohibition joining all the 'athletic clubs' in East Liberty. They always had a big picture of Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh Iron Man, over the back bar. . . . Staying away from the women's dorms during exam week so none of the profs would see you on campus in case you needed a credit or two to get by. Visiting the gals over the hill at P. C. W. instead and meeting every professor on your schedule. . . . The fraternity formals at the Pittsburgh Field House in the Spring. Moonlight, roses, and all that sort of stuff. . . . Nineteen twenty-nine when Ken Heidrick won the Fountainbleu Prize in Architecture and went to Paris. During that summer. Carl Allendorf (now on Guadalcanal and points west) was in Germany, Rod Jones in Yucatan, digging up Mayan ruins, and Davies in the Canadian Rockies. . . . Johnson, who hit Carnegie after being an Alpha Sig and graduating from Harvard, with a racoon coat and a Buick convertible. He disappeared from campus and when Herb Brown investigated he found Johnson had quit college because he wanted to go to work and had taken a job as a section hand on the Pennsy. Every morning he drove to work in the convertible and racoon coat. . . . When the pay phone went haywire so that when your call went through you got your money back. Many a faraway voice was heard that night for free. . . . The time the brothers mutinied after weeks of being fed stewed tomatoes. Frank Saylor, steward, had bought a truckload as a bargain. . . . The year Tech beat Pitt for the third time in a row and nobody went to classes for days."—"We shall still a jolly band be found, Neath the spell of memory's tie."

ΑΣΦ---From Local To National

"Alpha Sigma Phi local becomes Alpha Sigma Phi national! An unusual and interesting event was recorded on Saturday, May 23, 1925, when the Alpha Sigma Phi local of Middlebury College was installed as the Alpha Delta chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi national at the Beta chapter house in Cambridge, Mass., it being the twenty-seventh chapter of the fraternity."

Thus Alpha Delta was ushered into Alpha Sigma Phi by the Tomahawk of August, 1925. The local Alpha Sigs were an outgrowth of the Commons Club, founded in 1906 by non-fraternity men. In 1911 the Club pledged men in open competition with the other secret fraternities on the campus and shortly after that became a secret organization itself.

During the first World War the college had a unit of army trainees on the campus and Gordon Miesse, who had just returned from camp in Plattsburg, was one of the military instructors there. He and six other actives dealt with wartime chapter problems by initiating 15 freshmen. At this time the local had rooms over Hank and Chilson's store, after being forced to give up their house, and the "informal" initiation took place in a cave about two miles down the river from the town. Among those 15 pledges were the first two of the celebrated "Milwaukee gang" which subsequently came to Middlebury and became Alpha Sigs, mainstays on the football team and leaders in college life. Brothers Protratz and Al Gollnick, the first of the Gollnicks', were the spearhead for the group from Wisconsin and the next year they brought back with them Erwin Drost. At the time of Midd's peak in football fame, nine members of its team came from Milwaukee and most of these were Alpha Sigs.

The beginning of a long and sustained contact with alumni was begun in the spring of 1917 when the active chapter members began writing to their alumni in the service; these letters were the forerunners of the Alpha Delta newsletter which is still published by the alumni and being sent to service men in this war.

Alpha Sigma Phi was the only local at Middlebury for many years and in 1920 the chapters of national fraternities began the practise of announcing "joint meetings" in chapel for the purpose of insuring their victory in elections on the campus. Strangely enough, even this method did not always succeed and the Alpha Sigs usually came off the winners in these contests because of their popularity among the independents.

In the spring of 1933, long after its affiliation with Alpha Sigma Phi, it ran the following newsletter:

Middlebury days have come and gone through snow, or rather rain and mud, and Alpha Delta finds itself—midyears in the near past—with a severe case of the jitters about initiation. After the melee of examinations, they are somewhat startled to be plunged headlong into Hell Week without sufficient relaxation to recover their customary equanimity.

"However, they are not too harassed to enjoy the three mid-winter social events—the Scullions Ball, Frosh Frolic and Literati Ball. Despite the general feeling of depression, and the exorbitant cost of Middlebury taxis, the brothers have done splendidly in keeping up ye old sociale prestige. After all, they argue, a tux soon gets out of fashion when the moths get at it....."

In 1942, James H. Cassidy, a private in the Army, and now a captain, wrote about "army life" and what he had gotten out of it at that time. His sane and balanced approach to it in a time when draftees were faced with a year of dull service and no battles and were consequently and understandably disgruntled about their life, can be put down to his experiences at Alpha Delta. In fact, Jim says, "I have found myself more and more glad that I had those four years of college behind me, and my experience in Alpha Sigma Phi, to back up my new life. It has helped me to get in the swing of things, to find companions when there seemed no one around who was congenial, and to compensate for the many dull hours. ....When I was inducted into the army, I tried to stick to the rules as I had learned them—and I found they worked.”

Alpha Delta has played the game according to the rules and knows they will still work in the future when it reopens its house.

Syracuse Joins ΑΣΦ

The Colgate Reunion, the star to which all Alpha Epsilon wagons are hitched as a post war plan, played a large part in the life of the local fraternity from which Alpha Epsilon was formed. The first alumni of Kappa Theta, the name of the local, were graduated in 1921 and from then until the fraternity became a part of Alpha Sigma Phi the alumni met annually at the chapter house on the day of the Colgate game for their yearly business meeting and get-together.

Alpha Epsilon was installed on June 8, 1925, at Syracuse University under the direction of Benjamin Clarke, Grand Junior President, who was assisted by the active members of Iota chapter and Richard C. Paine of Chi who acted as Grand Marshall. There were twenty-six charter members, men who had petitioned Alpha Sigma Phi with the help of Stephen P. Toadvine of Iota and Thomas C. Bolton of Omicron, both on the faculty at Syracuse.

Kappa Theta was organized as a local fraternity in the fall of 1920 in Sims Hall, the men's dormitory, with the three-fold purpose of aiding the college, drawing closer the bonds of friendship, and working toward the goal of nearly all local fraternities—affiliation with a national fraternity.

The present home of the chapter was bought by the local group in the spring of 1923 after they had become firmly established on the campus during the previous year. B.M.O.C.'s of those days included Clarence Biggs, considered one of the greatest linemen ever developed at Syracuse, Lew Walker, one of the varsity cheerleaders, and Oscar Blew, captain of the freshman swimming team and holder of the national scholastic fancy diving title.

The first definite action to attain nationalization began in the year 1923-24 when negotiations were opened with Alpha Sigma Phi. After the installation of the chapter there followed nearly twenty years of activity at 202 Walnut, until World War II closed the house. In the Spring of 1945, however, renewed activity began and six men were initiated on April 29 to take up the burden of Alpha Epsilon. Their initiation gives to the fraternity, during her Centennial Year, the assurance that reactivation of other chapters will not be difficult when it is backed up by the spirit and vigor of men such as those at Alpha Epsilon.

Fifth Chapter On West Coast

Brother W. F. Allington writes: “I was a freshman pledge in Alpha Zeta at a time when one of those Frank Merriwell incidents arose that sold me on the Fraternity. I was just learning what a fraternity was and was being slowly sold on the organization I had started to join. A couple of months after pledging, a fellow pledge became ill and developed a fever. A doctor was called and found Pledge Beck a very sick man and had him removed to a hospital. The next day a call came for volunteers to give blood for our sick pledge. The spontaneous uprising of volunteers all demanding that they should be sent was overwhelming and more than gratifying to a freshman like me. Four of the older members of the house went to the hospital, two had the correct type of blood, the transfusions were successfully completed and Pledge Beck lived and returned to the house. The spontaneous enthusiasm and consideration shown by the members toward one of their pledges—not another member, but a pledge—made me proud and eager to become one of them. I was sold on Alpha Sigma Phi.

“No recollection of college days at Alpha Zeta is complete without mentioning the Alpha Sig Bell. In the dim past, when the chapter was very young, an enterprising pledge class managed to ‘find’ this locomotive bell in a train yard in a town adjacent to Los Angeles. This was a large, bronze, full-sized bell and was apt to make considerable noise. It could be heard on campus a half mile away and was bringing much attention to the chapter. Consequently, rival fraternities made efforts to acquire this prize noise-maker. To prevent our losing it, it was set in a large slab of concrete where it safely rested for many years. One week-end, however, one very energetic rival managed to slip into the patio and saw the bell free from the yoke. This happened after the bell had several times been filled with quick-setting cement and had had charges of powder set off inside. The bell was missing for six months or so until through cooperation of the interfraternity conference it mysteriously reappeared. We were determined not to have it stolen again so we built a fourteen foot tower with an eight foot base eighteen inches thick of reinforced concrete. It was a major construction job, all done by house members. The bell stayed in place untouched and was, I thought, destined to be there forever, but when I returned for a visit after leaving school in 1941 I found that it had been hijacked again. I didn’t believe it possible. Where it is now, I don’t know, but I hope it is returned again.”

Alpha Eta Joins The Fold

The climax to three years’ growth came in 1928 when the local fraternity of Sigma Alpha was installed as Alpha Eta of Alpha Sigma Phi at Dartmouth. The local group was founded by three undergraduates in 1925, aiming to bring together “those men who possessed either a healthy intellectual curiosity or scholastic ability.” (The fact that later one of the members refused to accept election to Phi Beta Kappa on the grounds that the “Dartmouth chapter places unnecessary emphasis in its methods of electing members, on the mere attainment and retention of a high scholastic average” suggests that after the fraternity became a part of Alpha Sigma Phi it broadened its interest.)

The installation of the group was held in the Alpha Tomb and he who has ever heard Brothers Clarke and McDonald work together in the third scene of the ritual will know what an impressive ceremony it must have been. Twenty-six candidates were initiated under the auspices of the Yale chapter. The initiation was followed by a banquet at the

New Haven Lawn Club at which one hundred and twenty-five brothers were present. The new chapter was presented with a silver gavel by Brother Clarke as a remembrance of the privilege he had enjoyed in helping in the installation of Alpha Eta chapter.

The last news letter received from the Dartmouth chapter in 1936 carried the story of the disastrous fire that destroyed the home of Alpha Eta and smoothed the path for the total inactivity of the chapter. It would be fitting to say that the dramatic escape of the men from the flames, the cooperation offered by the members not living in the house and by other fraternity houses on the campus and the work of faculty and undergraduate members following the disaster were rewarded by a complete and Phoenix-like rejuvenation of the chapter, but unfortunately that is not true. The Dartmouth chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi did not survive the blow and is still among the inactive chapters of the fraternity.

“Old Mizzoo” Memories

From the Spring issue of the Tomahawk in 1930: “Alpha Theta is ushered within the walls of Alpha Sigma Phi. A little diffident at finding itself among its famous brothers, conscious of politely inquiring glances, it hastens to ask, ‘May I present myself?’

“Alpha Theta began its existence in October 1925 as Chi Alpha Chi in the face of a rather formidable array of strong nationals and energetic locals. Dean Heckel, dean of men, speaking at our installation banquet, emphasized the almost rash daring of these men. (He cited as another example of their temerity their petitioning of Alpha Sigma Phi.) But from the point of view of these men—Tudor, Landman, Speer, Christian and Swan—success was already assured, for they felt that in their organization they were close to the ideals which other fraternities had tried in vain to show them: scholarship, true, clean fellowship, and moral uprightness. Thus, when they came to the point of thinking about affiliating themselves with a national, they felt there was only one fraternity they could petition and remain faithful to the ideals of the original organization. Alpha Sigma Phi it was, then, that they chose, fully aware of the odds against their admission. . . . The names of some of the early members have become bywords around the house, and it is not likely that they will soon be forgotten. Vincel Harmon was one of these. President of the debating society, vice-president of the student body, and a Phi Beta Kappa, merely to mention a few of his honors, he never found time, it is said, to obtain half the insignia he was entitled to wear. Then there was John Thomy, very active in campus affairs, especially dramatics. Norman Falkenhainer is still with us, working hard for the fraternity in many activities—student director of the university band, orchestra and glee club, two senior honorary societies, as president of Phi Mu Alpha (honorary musical fraternity) and as councilman from the Fine Arts school . . . One of the deeds of Chi Alpha Chi of which we are particularly proud, inasmuch as it coincided with our ideals, was our action in being the first among the fraternities on the campus to reduce our hell week to hell day.”

Anna K. Olcott, mother of George E. Olcott, '37, has written the following: “I will try to tell you what Alpha Sigma Phi has meant to me, but it seems as though many years have passed since I last saw any of George’s friends.

“I remember my first visit to Columbia. We spent most of the day at the Alpha Sigma Phi house, a large three-story, stone house—I was very happy to see that the boys had such a nice home. The boys made a big fuss over me and invited me to dine with them and I did enjoy it so much.

“The boys I met through Alpha Sigma Phi were really the ‘cream of the crop.’ They were always good sports, ready to meet any situation; their diversions were varied, and they always seemed to be having a really good time.

“I always had a feeling of honor to be able to say that my boy was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi. It meant so much to me to see that the officers were so serious and so willing to encourage the members to live up to the fraternity’s standards.”

Alabama---Home of Alpha Iota

A delegation from the fraternity’s first southern chapter acted as the initiating committee for the installation of the second chapter from below the Mason-Dixon line.

“The installation of Alpha Iota chapter took place at the University of Alabama on May 3, 1930. On the night of May 1, a group of ten men from the Kentucky chapter arrived in Tuscaloosa. The following morning Benjamin Clarke and George McDonald arrived from Chicago to take charge of the ceremonies. Alumni from other chapters also served.

"The initiating committee was escorted by two members of the local group to woods, golf courses and cotton fields in the vicinity of the city to ascertain where the initiation would begin. It was decided that the Riverside Golf Course was the most suitable place. The informal part of the initiation started here on Friday evening at seven o'clock and waxed hotter and hotter as the night grew older. Many mysteries of the brotherhood were revealed to the neophytes in a most convincing manner that will be remembered by them for years to come. After this the candidates were told to go back to the house to receive further instructions. . .

"At the specified time all were present and were put through the most impressive of the ceremonies. Then in the afternoon the candidates went through the final scene and were welcomed into the Mystic Circle by all members of Alpha Sigma Phi present." There were thirty-eight charter members of Alpha Iota.

The initiation banquet, at which 112 persons were present, was a grand occasion. Dr. Denny, president of the university, and Dean Harris spoke along with Brother Clarke.

Alpha Iota was formerly a local named Chi Delta Sigma which was founded at the university in 1925 by a group of twelve men who specified in the constitution of the fraternity that the group petition the conservative Alpha Sigma Phi when it was ready to become part of a national fraternity. Until that time came, the local held a high place of esteem socially, scholastically and politically on the campus. It was represented by its alumni in all campus activities and honorary societies and was rated as one of the strongest locals in the South and was the only one to own its own home.

Installation at West Virginia

Delta chapter, the bridge between the new and the old in Alpha Sigma Phi, was the host to the members of Tau Delta Theta when they were installed as Alpha Kappa chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi on October 25, 1931.

"The entire afternoon was devoted to the necessary formal scenes of the ritual in which Brother Clarke, experienced officer of the fraternity, took the leading part. He was ably assisted by the Delta brothers and other national officers who were present and Brothers Howard C. Riggs, Delta '12, and Harry L. Samuel, Lambda '21, both from Morgantown, who came to see that the project they had been so instrumental in fostering was successfully and happily consummated. It was largely through the perseverance, guidance, counsel and patience of Brothers Riggs and Samuel that the events of October 24th and 25th transpired, for it was these men who stood in back of the local during the years it petitioned the fraternity. . .

"After congratulations and a cordial welcome to the new group had been extended by the national and Delta chapter officers, both old and new members, Delta and Alpha Kappa, sat down to a dinner provided by Delta in honor of its guests. . . Colorful the entire proceedings were, from the first arrival of the men from Alpha Kappa to their leaving for Morgantown on the 25th. There is no chapter of the fraternity better qualified than Delta to instill into the sensibilities of a new group the sound and basic principles upon which our organization rests. . .

"The local Tau Delta Theta Fraternity, was founded at West Virginia University in 1919 and has had a normal, steady growth to apparent maturity. It owns its own home and has, in the past, been well represented on the campus, numbering many influential campus honor men among its alumni."

ΦΠΦ Joins The Mystic Circle

The following modest announcement was printed in the Summer Tomahawk of 1939: "While the summer doldrums are in possession of all chapter rooms and alumni members are dozing on their yachts on summer seas, the news we have for Alpha Sigma Phi will brook no delay. Be advised, ye loyal Sigs from Iowa to Irak, the Ol' Gal has six new chapters. We announce the merger of the fraternity of Phi Pi Phi into Alpha Sigma Phi. Merger plans were approved at a convention of Phi Pi Phi early this summer after the chapters and alumni councils of Alpha Sigma Phi had formally approved the institutions at which Phi Pi Phi had active chapters. The last week in July details were worked out and the merger approved by the Grand Council."

And the former president of Phi Pi Phi, now our own Grand Secretary, Hugh M. Hart, closed his greetings thusly: "Though our memories may now and then be tinctured with wisps of melancholy for the glory that was Phi Pi Phi, we assure the new brothers in Alpha Sigma Phi that there are no regrets. We are proud to have been found worthy of your brotherhood and we covet the chance to prove that your confidence will be justified."

Five of those chapters have come through in grand style for the Ol' Gal as predicted and three of Alpha Sigma Phi's war-time active chapters are members of this group.

Alpha Lambda at Case

"In the Fall of 1909 a group of students in the Mining and Metallurgy department of Case School of Applied Science, desiring the fellowship and fraternal spirit of similar interests, banded together and established a local Greek letter society known as Mu Sigma. Membership was by invitation only and was limited to students in the Mining and Metallurgy department.

"With the separation brought about by the close of the Spring term, some contact was lost, but when school reopened in the Fall of 1910, the young fraternity reorganized, a new constitution was adopted and the group renamed themselves Sigma Kappa Alpha . . . the group, desiring further recognition on the campus, asked to be admitted to Theta Tau, a national professional engineering society. Thus the scope of membership was broadened to include students or graduated men showing marked professional ability in any of the engineering branches.

"Delta Chapter of Theta Tau existed in this status on the campus for several years. Agitation was started among a group of its members to broaden the membership still further, and to admit other desirable students. To this end, Tau Delta Tau was established in 1919 as a local social fraternity by the members of Delta chapter of Theta Tau—these men also retaining their membership in the professional society, but admitting others not so recognized to their new social group.

"The two organizations continued side by side in this fashion until 1925, when the desire to become a part of a nationally recognized organization was again felt. After some consideration, Phi Pi Phi was selected by the group and petitions were drawn up and sent to the national offices of that fraternity. In 1926 the chapter was accepted as Lambda of Phi Pi Phi."

Thus, the history of one of the Phi Pi Phi chapters which were absorbed by Alpha Sigma Phi in 1939. The fraternity looks forward to the reopening of Alpha Lambda at Case at the end of the war.

Alpha Mu at B-W

Alpha Mu was originally Mu chapter of Phi Phi Phi and as such had a long and complicated history much tied in with that of the college. Baldwin-Wallace College is the result of an amalgamation of Baldwin University and German Wallace College, 1913; the Goethe Society of German Wallace College was organized into a social fraternity, Gamma Lambda Sigma, in 1925 and in 1926 became Mu chapter of Phi Pi Phi and subsequently Alpha Mu of Alpha Sigma Phi.

One of the first social events in the life of the new chapter was a bang-up "rush dance" at the Lakewood Chamber of Commerce club. The pledges who were gathered from the first harvest by Alpha Sigma Phi that first Fall were discussed and analyzed by the H. A. E. in his newsletter; the actives, too, came in for a share of the descriptions; the H. S. P., Bill McFarlane, was president of Pi Kappa Delta, publicity director of college athletics, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., sports editor of the college weekly and a varsity debater. The other officers were cut from the same pattern and the chapter got off to a good start that year of 1939.

The next winter they carried on with a social program worthy of a much larger group and at a Christmas Kids' party at the H. A. E. noted as the highlights the short dresses worn by the girls, the distribution of dime presents and the ten minutes it took someone to fix a main fuse. High on their list of achievements was the winning of the Interfraternity Sing cup for three years.

In June, 1943, the news broke that soon the B-W campus would be Sig-less and the chapter prepared to close its doors for the duration. "Student life has suffered; the near absence of men on the campus has resulted in a minimum of social functions and college affairs. Old Baldwin-Wallace will probably never be the same again until after the war."

The future of Alpha Mu, however, is amply insured by the alumni who spent so many memory-making days in the campus at B-W. They write from the far corners of the earth asking about the fraternity and we never hesitate to say that Alpha Mu will be one of the first to come back with all the vital fraternal spirit it once had and passed on to other chapters.

Alpha Nu In Retrospect

It didn't take Iwo Jima to sell me on Alpha Sig, but Iwo helped. One of the best ways to cushion the "shakes" is to occupy your mind with thoughts of happier days. So as the mortars dropped into our artillery position from the other side of No. 1 Airfield, I covered my head with my poncho and concentrated on whipping up memories. An Alpha Sig background, and an Alpha Sig girl waiting at home do wonders for a case of Iwo Jima jitters. But we admit that our memories didn't progress far that night. That "whoom-zing" and falling dirt just aren't conducive to reveries.

The loathsome pile of volcanic sand that was Iwo had faded into the horizon, and we were on our way back to rest camp. The crowded transport edged into a big harbor. It looked awfully good, for it was safe, dry land, and I knew Harvey Mercer and Bob Maxwell were there. As it turned out, Tom Mansell was living in the room next to Harvey. Over two chocolate milk-shakes, I joined them in memories of Westminster. Naturally, most of them centered around the chapter house.

We talked of the house-parties and the fraternity chorus (the time Dutchy came late to rehearsal, furiously wiping lipstick from his face with his sleeve), of campus elections with Alpha Sig gears usually running smoothly. Other gears, too, played their part in the life of AN—those which did not run so smoothly in J. T. Stewart's big chariot, and Chuck Smiley's model "A," originator of the jeep-seat. Chuck has since graduated to tanks.

We won't forget those fraternity picnics and formals at Mill Creek and Idora, at the Roosevelt, the Pines, and the Highland Country Club. I was mighty proud to have my girl at those parties. Nor had we Alpha Sigs any apologies to make in inter-fraternity athletics. We held down our own in those touch-football and basketball tournaments. We also did our share of holding down in that legalized slaughter known as water-polo.

Initiations, formal and informal, were highlights in AN memories. Like the time Eddy Fisher broke up the lecture of a lady from the League of Nations by calling, "Extra! Extra! Bald-headed baby born with mustache!" It was "Hunch" Pfau, wasn't it, who was prematurely revived during a somber scene when someone upset the lamp of learning. We'll miss "Hunch" and "Smokey," and Dick—and the others when we get back to that Homecoming in 194—. I wonder if the Alpha Sigs will cop the prize for house decorations like we usually did. That will be the day!

It happened that Tom, Bob, Harvey and I all had more than our four years' worth of memories, for Tom, Harvey and I were local lads. And Bob was one of our most active (shall we say?) alumni. And after all those years of returning to Westminster, he married a Slippery Rock girl. It is a great feeling to return to the chapter as an alumnus and give the scoop to the wide-eyed Frosh at those rushing smokers. Nor will I forget that fraternity party which I had to miss the week I went into the service. The lads sent a favor, a beauty of a gold compact, to the little lady anyhow. Among the last with whom I shook hands that evening I left were our two Japanese-American fraternity brothers. God willing, the spirit which welcomed those two men into our fellowship, in the days to come, will build a world that is truly one fraternity.—
JOHN W. GALBREATH.

Still Going Strong

A national fraternity known as Beta Phi was founded at the University of Chicago in 1911 and two years later a fraternity organized at Armour Institute of Technology was chartered as Gamma chapter of Beta Phi. In 1918 Beta Phi as a national organization ceased to exist; however, Gamma chapter kept the name until 1923 when it became a local at Armour and, in the same year, was installed as Gamma chapter of Phi Pi Phi fraternity. When this chapter was installed as Alpha Xi of Alpha Sigma Phi, following the merger of Phi Pi Phi and Alpha Sigma Phi, it had grown considerably and boasted 170 alumni and 19 actives.

The installation took place on October 28, 1939, with 19 actives, 32 alumni of Gamma Pi Phi and four pledges being initiated. The banquet which followed the initiation was held at the Auditorium hotel and was attended by more than 70 men. Norman Root, a Phi Pi Phi alumnus and new initiate of Alpha Sigma Phi, acted as toastmaster. Among the speakers were Benjamin Clarke and Lloyd Cochran, both of Alpha Sigma Phi, Professor Tenry T. Heald, president of Armour and Professor Charles O. Harris, chairman of the faculty Interfraternity Council of Armour.

The chapter was a consistent leader in the life on the campus at Armour and later at the combination of Armour and Lewis Institutes which became known as Illinois Institute of Technology. They led in athletics to the extent that five of the twelve cups were in their possession at one time: Swimming, Softball, Bowling, Relay and Basketball.

In the fall of 1940 they announced the acquisition of a new house, a three-storied mansion fitted out with crystal chandeliers, colored glass windows and inlaid floors—all of which was appreciated and industriously kept in the best of condition by the labor of the various classes of pledges.

In 1943 the Navy moved into Illinois Institute and into the Alpha Sigma house which became known as Quarters No. 6 and, as such, still has a majority of Alpha Sigs living in it—enough, said one of the actives, to keep an eye on the way the Navy was treating the house! Most of the pledges from this time on have been Navy V-12 students, but their status has not hindered their fraternity life. The last newsletter from the chapter states, "After enjoying that rarest of rarities for dinner, steak (Founders Day banquet), we younger men sat back and enjoyed brief reminiscent talks by the alumni. We soon concluded that fraternity life does not change much over the years and, one thing for sure, being treasurer then must have been just as tough as it is now . . . We are happy to announce that Alpha Xi has 23 members and our present pledge class consists of four men with expectations of a larger class when an increasing number of discharged veterans enters the Institute next semester. We are proud and fortunate that Alpha Xi has been able to continue functioning during a period that has seen so many of our own chapters as well as those of other fraternities forced to disband until the end of the war." Proud, indeed, of a job well done by actives and alumni alike in keeping alive the tangibles of Alpha Sigma Phi at Illinois Institute.

Boilermakers of Alpha Pi

Alpha Pi, the youngest chapter of "Boilermakers" as Purdue University students are called.

Three times a charm—as the saying goes, Euphemian Club, Phi chapter Phi Pi Phi and now the charm, Alpha Pi of Alpha Sigma Phi. This for eternity is the hope for the future of the actives and alumni.

[Ed. note: During these war years may it be noted that Alpha Pi has been fortunate enough to maintain an active residential chapter in its own house (the only chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi to do so.) To keep going has required earnest and continuous effort by the active chapter with what help the alumni and national office can give.]

The Euphemian Club was organized as an honorary brotherhood in 1926 by Charles Dalton and George Stripp. This organization obtained recognition by the University Executive Committee on October 11, 1927. Men with high ideals and good scholastic ability were then sought, pledged and initiated. As the number of men in the organization increased, Charles Dalton, the active leader of the group, conceived the idea of forming a social fraternity having the same high standards maintained by an honorary fraternity. A small house was rented in January 1928; it was found inadequate so they soon moved to a larger place. This is the present location, but it has been completely remodeled.

"On April 9, 1930, the happiest students on the Purdue Campus were the members of Euphemian Club, since on that day we received word that the National Council of Phi Pi Phi had accepted our petition and granted us a charter as Phi chapter. From then until May 17 we were busy preparing for our installation." So wrote Charles Becker in the July 1930 issue of "The Quarterly of Phi Pi Phi." A banquet followed the installation, held in the Purdue Union building. Brother Sharpe acted as toastmaster, Brother Smith spoke for the active chapter, Brother Lutz represented the alumni on the program. Brother Clarke, National Phi Pi Phi President, gave the main address of the program.

New chapter officers were installed May 18, F. A. Smith, president; J. E. Shigley, vice-president; R. F. Tevis, secretary; N. F. Pruitt, treasurer; G. H. Isley, chaplain; A. S. Alderman, sentinel; H. B. Hoetegel, house manager and F. M. Glatting, steward. K. H. Coleman was elected junior representative of the Interfraternity Council. Many of these men and others have been associated with the development of the chapter, when active members and as alumni.

May 31, 1930, is another important date in the history of the chapter, for on that day the brothers became volunteer fire-fighters. Shortly after lunch that day someone discovered a fire in the attic. They tried to put it out with buckets of water, but it had too much of a start for that. By the time the fire department had arrived and was ready for action, the entire roof was blazing. With the help of other students they were able to get all the furniture and other personal effects out of the lower two floors, but most of the things on the third floor were damaged by either fire or water. Brother Huffman lost most of his radio equipment. It was rumored he threw his sets out of the window and carried several pillows down. However, he denies this story. The entire damage, about $10,000, was covered by insurance so there was little worry financially. The house was repaired and ready for the fall term.

From 1930 to 1939, the year of the merger of Phi Pi Phi to Alpha Sigma Phi, the chapter had both prosperity and poverty. Perhaps the darkest period was in the fall of 1934 when, due to a too large class of Seniors graduating the preceding June, only four active members returned to school, Brothers Askinson, Beeson, Christianson and Olsen. Before registration, four pledges were signed up, Krattebol, Mayo, Poehlman and Smith. From that day forward, with great determination, much progress has been made.

October 21, 1939 is a date that will be long remembered by the members of Alpha Pi Chapter. This, the date of formal installation of the chapter, including the initiation of more than 20 alumni with the active chapter into the Mystic Circle of Alpha Sigma Phi, climaxed many months of negotiation and meetings of the two national fraternities. The story of the installation of this chapter has been reported in the Tomahawk Fall issue of 1939.

Since that time the Alumni have become incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana, and are acting as a holding company for the chapter property. The present location has been purchased, remodeled and re-equipped.

Once the other half of this destructive war is over and finished and our men return from afar and again take their places, and the younger boys become of college age, Alpha Pi Chapter, as well as the other chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi, are looking forward to again taking their place in the molding of the lives of college men following the Fraternity Criteria of the National Interfraternity Conference.—DONALD MAYO.

Veterans on the Campus

While the number is not large as yet, several hundreds of returned veterans (most of them medical discharges) are to be found on every large campus. Many have been pledged to fraternities, and with one or two exceptions, have been found to assimilate readily and fit in well. Several chapters claim they make the best fraternity men, eager as they are to make up for what they have missed.

Drake GIs were interviewed recently on four points. 1) Is the transition from military to campus life a difficult one? 2) Do you find others in the student body strange and immature? 3) How are you accepted by the "younger" students? 4) Is the financial setup of the GI Bill of Rights adequate? The answers were: 1) Not too difficult, but GIs don't want to be reminded of it; want to be treated as normal students. 2) Not especially, but they are impatient to get on with the business of college. 3) Reception for the most part is fine. 4) Provisions of the GI bill seem to satisfy.

Alumni Secretary—Gladden W. Baker
31 Forest Rd., W. Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. H. Paul Buckingham has written to say that Brother Buckingham is with the Army Air Force somewhere in Italy. Guy C. Bates is at present in a hospital in England according to word received recently from his father.

S /Sgt. William M. Brunet

S/Sgt. William M. Brunet is serving with a headquarters of the Chinese Combat Command near Kunming, China. Arriving in India in October, 1944, Brunet was flown across the Himalayan "Hump" the following month to join the American military mission in China. The CCC is engaged in advising and assisting Chinese forces in prosecuting aggressive warfare against the Japanese. This liaison is concerned primarily with the planning and execution of field training and tactical operations and with the receipt, distribution and assignment of American equipment and supplies for Chinese military units.

Lt. Bertram M. Demarest is in the Navy, serving in the Pacific aboard the U. S. S. Hudson. Lt. Walter H. Page, serving with the Navy in the Pacific, wants to know how everything is going back home. Mail can be sent to his home address: 1 Page Road, Marblehead, Mass.

Lt. David F. Quigley is a supply officer aboard the U.S.S. Granville in the Pacific. Bennett Milnor, Sr., writes that his son Brother Bennett Milnor, Jr., is serving in the armed forces overseas. Robert L. Fraissinet is also overseas at this time.

Lt. John C. Eddy is with a bomb group of the Army Air Force in the European theater. Ernest M. Clark is a major with the Army in the Pacific theater. Lt. Walm M. Churchman, U.S.N.R., has been overseas for three years.

From Fort Sill, Okla., comes word that Capt. Lewis M. Jack has been selected to attend the officers' refresher course of the Field Artillery School there.

George H. Day was killed in action on February 21, 1945. We have received no further details.

Ens. David Daggett sent a note from an advanced base after his return from Iwo Jima in March. Mrs. Henry H. Landon, Jr., has informed us that Brother Landon is an ensign and is serving overseas. LeRoy Horton, Jr. writes from Camp Atterbury, Ind., where he is a first lieutenant with the headquarters section at the reception center there.

The mother of Bob Shull informs us that Bob is a junior grade lieutenant on duty somewhere in the Pacific. Charles N. Robertson was, at last report, with Patton's Third Army in Europe.

Carl Wells, on duty in the Marianas as a lieutenant with a replacement unit, says that the Tommy brings back a "touch of a longest civilian and fraternity life" and sends us thanks.

Beta HARVARD

Alumni Secretary—H. H. Moody

Col. Ralph G. Boyd is stationed in Washington, D. C., at the office of the Judge Advocate General.

Last April, at the meeting of the New Jersey Harvard Club in the Essex Club in Newark, Brother Howard H. Moody was installed as president of that peculiar organization. Only those who have suffered through its meetings appreciate what we mean by "peculiar." We might only say that on this occasion, after a profound and lengthy grace by a local minister, the cheer leader demanded a long "Harvard!" for the reverend, which was unanimously given. It was only after Brother Moody was installed that the treasurer announced the unusual sum of $1,700 in the treasury. Brother Moody declined to resign, however.

OHIO WESLEYAN

Alumni Secretary—William Lacy
Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Cleveland, Ohio

Now that the long-sought defeat of the Germans has come there will be more and more Sigs in the South Pacific. The Centennial celebration on December 6 will be held in the Philippines, New Guinea, Hawaii and all the "liberty towns" in those parts.

A long letter arrived from Fred Bailey which just missed the last newsletter. Fred has been in England, France and Germany with an artillery unit after transferring from the ski-troopers. He's been there for a year and will probably be in the inevitable South Pacific soon. Fred was married in February, 1944.

Our last H.S.P., Jim Starry, found Ens. Don Grigsby just a few doors down in his B.O.Q. at Newport, R. I. Don is a boat crew officer on an AKA. The H.A.E. has again undergone a change in status and has gone from the salty ranks of Midshipman School and reverted to type as an aviation cadet again. He left the wilds of New York city for the more civilized area of Clinton, Okla., for air navigation training. On March 24 he became engaged to Miss Catherine Urton, Chi Omega, who has bravely won his pin for four years. They expect to be married when he graduates, about the first of August.

Pfc. Kenny Walter is based at Oceanside, Calif., at present. Another famed Marine, Pfc. Larry Lukas is currently thrilling the rec halls at Camp Lejeune, N. C., with his marvelous rendition of "Praise the Lord." We are eagerly hoping for a return engagement for him at 121. Latest word was that Bob Hoffman is still a V-12 student at Oberlin, Ohio.

By this time Cliff Young is probably back in the States after his release from PW camp, Stalag Luft 2B, in Germany. Good luck, Cliff, we'll be looking forward to seeing you back at 121.

Pvt. Bob Whitaker will probably return with a "Hello, you all," after having spent a long period at Camp Stewart, Ga. Sho' nuff?

Lt. Gordon Linville is currently receiving his mail at the Army Air Base at Decatur, Ala. Pinky will really live up to his name if he stays there very long.

Pvt. Jean Stone is in the Netherlands East Indies fighting the battle of Japs, mosquitoes, K-rations, and mosquitoes. We're not sure which is the worst enemy. They say the newest secret weapon is a heavy ack-ack for the mosquitoes—if not, it should be.

Lt. Richard Rapelyea has been reported missing over Austria since March 24, 1945, when he flew his sixth mission as a pilot of a B-17 based in Italy. Brother Rapelyea was a Senior at the time of his enlistment in 1943 and was sent overseas in January, 1945. His wife, the former Miss Elizabeth Sanford, lives in Cleveland and his parents in White-stone, N. Y.

Just before going to press we received a clipping from the Cleveland Press listing Dick as one of the liberated prisoners who will be returning home shortly. Good news, indeed.

The sad news of the death of Lt. (jg) Charles W. Bare, U.S.N.R., has been confirmed after he was reported missing for almost three months following a plane crash in the Pacific theater. Brother Bare was stationed in Hawaii for 18 months where he taught navigation and flew routine patrol missions. He had been in the service since April, 1943, when he received his ensign's commission. He is survived by his wife and two sons who are living in Youngstown.

Lt. (jg) Robert A. Porterfield is with a fleet hospital unit in the Pacific. Bob Yoder, known to many Epsilon men before his transfer to Theta chapter, is an ensign on a submarine chaser running out of San Diego, Calif. Bob's wife lives at 3120 Shadowlawn, San Diego 10, and mail can be sent to Bob there.

Ens. Glenn Meyer, with the U.S.S. Neal A. Scott, is somewhere at sea.

Mrs. Riddle, mother of Phil and Dick, wrote to us with news of Phil, who is now a first lieutenant in the Air Transport Command and is now overseas. She also informed us that Earl Lovell is in New Britain and keeps her up to date on the war from that side of the world.

Fred W. Weber is a sergeant with the Army in Belgium. Capt. David E. Beynon has been in Panama for over two years and is now with a medical detachment there.

James Townsend sends the news that Robert Kuhl returned from North Africa in April and was married. Bob has now returned to duty. Brother C. E. Dilley is at Columbia University in the V-7 program.

The father of Earl L. Gerard has written to say that Earl is somewhere in France at this time. William J. Medicus, recently discharged from the Army Air Corps, is now attending the University of Michigan. His only Alpha Sig contact is Brother Lazlo Hetenvi from Upsilon and he says, "Believe me, it's strange not to have a lot of the brothers around."

With so many of Epsilon's men in the Air Corps the traffic should be heavy over Tokyo on December 6—thats' the best way to celebrate the Centennial.—PAUL L. DITTRICK, H.A.E.

Alumni Secretary—P. Z. Bloser
2590 Tremont Rd., Columbus, Ohio

An Eighth Air Force Fighter Station, England—How he helped shoot down a jet-propelled Messerschmidt 262 that was taking off from a German airfield near Geibelstadt was described recently by First Lieutenant Lawrence W. Nelson, Jr., an Eighth Air Force P-51 Mustang pilot.

Returning home from escorting Eighth Air Force heavy bombers which had been battering Nazi airfields in preparation for the recent Allied push across the Rhine, he saw the jet plane taking off. He and two other Mustang pilots attacked.

"Our squadron leader first hit the plane," Lt. Nelson said, "then the other two of us caught it as it tried to turn back to the protection of the airdrome. I fired from an angle down to dead astern and about 200 yards away. A number of bullets hit the jet plane. It crashed on the airdrome."

Lt. Nelson was recently awarded the fourth Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal, each cluster being equal to another Air Medal.

Ned Potts is a technical sergeant with the Air Force at Santa Maria, Calif. Richard F. Crisier is with the Seventh Army in Germany.

Major Thomas E. Rardin is now Director of Training at the Army Air Forces Medical Services Training School in Georgia. Joseph Hitz is a field engineer with the Republic Steel Corporation in Cleveland, Ohio.

Lt. Howard L. Schuster can be reached at Box 444-B, EAAF, Enid, Okla. Arthur L. Hawthorne is a paratrooper in the 82nd Airborne Division in Europe.

Cpl. Clyde E. Wooley is with the Personnel Section of the 275th Infantry in Germany.

A news release from the headquarters of the Eighth Army in the Philippines informs us that Brother Bert deMelker has recently been promoted to the rank of major while serving on the staff of Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger. Major deMelker was engaged as a civil engineer with the Corps of Engineers, Buffalo District, before entering the Army in July, 1942.

Lt. (jg) Douglas M. Donovan USNR, was married to the former Miss Dorothy M. Tucker of Flushing, N. Y., on January 13, 1945. Brother Donovan enlisted in January 1942 in the physical training branch of the Navy under Commander Gene Tunney and became an ensign in 1943 and an armed guard commander at that time. His ships operated in the Mediterranean and Asiatic theater and later, when he became a junior grade lieutenant in 1944, he was transferred to the Atlantic service.

ARE YOU READY TO CELEBRATE THE CENTENNIAL?

Lt. Gerald S. Armstrong has been reported missing in action since January 20, 1945. He was a first pilot on a B-24 with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

Mrs. John F. Kelleher writes that her son, Brother John Kelleher, has been overseas for two and one half years. T/5 Paul H. Pohlman is stationed on a ship making trips overseas, presumably with troops.

The father of Paul Sutcliffe writes that Brother Sutcliffe is "busily engaged keeping one of the tanks of General Patton's Third Army moving fast enough to keep up with the General himself." Which means some fast moving!

Cpl. Robert J. Thompson is with a medical battalion in the European area.

Mrs. Charles Propst writes that Cpl. Robert Stotlar is now somewhere in Belgium with an infantry band unit and that Brother F. S. Craner is now a captain with an engineering maintenance unit somewhere in the European theatre. Mrs. Propst also sent a clipping to the effect that Lt. Archie E. McCorvie, a P-51 Mustang pilot, participated in the longest escorted heavy bomber operation ever flown over Europe when his group accompanied the 15th Air Force heavies on their historic 1500-mile round trip flight to Berlin. Brother McCorvie is with one of the oldest fighter groups in combat service, one which holds a Distinguished Unit Citation and the Mediterranean theatre record for shooting down 102 enemy planes in 30 days. He personally has accounted for one locomotive and several box cars destroyed on strafing missions. He holds the Air Medal.

Glen Stice's father writes that he is still in the South Pacific theater—New Guinea, to be exact. Brother Stice, a corporal with a hospital unit has been there for more than a year.

James M. Taylor, stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., is now a sergeant.

Lt. Rosanna C. Simpson, wife of James R. Simpson writes from Harlingen Army Air Field that Brother Simpson is a captain with a field artillery division of the 7th Army in Germany.

We have received word of the death of Wayne R. Diener on January 29, 1935.

Mike Stohrer tells of meeting Bur Harper who was one of the original internees at Santo Tomas in Manila. Brother Harper and his wife were picked up by the Japs on December 8, 1941 and were not released until the Americans arrived on February 3, 1945.

George H. Sherman's mother has informed us that he is in England. Bob Yoder is an ensign on a submarine chaser running out of San Diego and mail will reach him at 3120 Shadowlawn, San Diego 10, Calif.

William C. Mullendore, executive vice-president of the Southern California Edison Company, was recently elected president by the directors following the annual meeting of the stockholders. Brother Mullendore has been with the Edison company for twenty years: he became general attorney in 1929, vice-president in 1930 and executive vice-president in 1931.

Lt. John R. Murray USNR is with the fleet in the Pacific. Dr. Fred W. Sullivan has gone overseas on a technical survey for the war department. His address has been changed from Flossmoor, Ill. to 6 Hickory Road, Summit, N. J.

The Newark (N. J.) Evening News of May 12th carried the following good news: "News that eight north Jersey prisoners of war in Germany have been liberated, are well, and will be sent home directly came today to the Newark News from Harry L. Soloman, American Red Cross field director in Europe." One of the eight men was Lt. Leslie Eames, whose wife lives in Newark with their 14-month old daughter, Leslie. "It's grand news," was all Mrs. Ruth Eames could say when told her husband no longer was a prisoner. Lt. Eames was a field artillery officer when he was reported missing December 19 by the War Department. Later he sent word to his home that he was a prisoner and in good health."

William H. Moulton is a major with an Army Air Force base unit. Mrs. J. N. Holzhauser tells us that Robert Holzhauser is now an ensign serving in the South Pacific.

WASHINGTON

Alumni Secretary—Sherlie P. Denhof
N.Y.K. Line, Seattle, Washington

The active chapter at Washington has published another issue of its newsletter which brought the national office up to date on the activities of the chapter and numerous brothers now in the service. We want to thank them for the excellent job done by Ralph Clark, Fred Martin and Bob Toomey on this latest letter. To their news we add the following.

Robert W. Coates is a private first class stationed with the Alaska Communications System at Anchorage. Address P. O. Box 219.

Bill Downing has been overseas for over a year and can be addressed at his home at 120 14th Avenue, Seattle 22, Wash.

Lt. Robert S. Magnussen is overseas with an engineers unit. Ward E. Moore is with the Navy in the Pacific. Mitchell T. Bowie is a private first class with the 89th Infantry band somewhere in France.

Robert N. Herr is now in the Philippines. So is Lt. Donald C. McIntosh. Andrew B. Wold is with the Merchant Marine service and is at present at sea. Ward F. Junkermier, a first lieutenant with the Army in Europe, writes, "I am looking forward to the alumni meetings in the post-war period."

Mrs. Clifford W. Rudeen writes, "Cliff is a navigator officer on the USS Antietam and writes, 'I received the news-letter from Alpha Sigma Phi and it was really a dandy—had quotations from all the boys and it made it seem like a good old bull session at the house.' Brother Rudeen is an ensign in the Navy and referred, of course, to the Mu Chapter newsletter which is being sent to all the alumni.

We have heard from Alf Norland's mother that he is now overseas.

Col. Virgil L. Anderson died on December 13, 1944, in the Army Hospital at Palm Springs, Calif., as a result of wounds and fever contracted in the South Pacific area. He had been flown from the hospital in Biak a week before he passed away. Brother Anderson had been in the Southwest Pacific for 33 months and while there he received the Silver Star for gallantry in action at Humboldt Bay, the Bronze Star for meritorious service at Biak, and the Purple Heart. He is survived by his wife and daughter who are living in Los Angeles.

CALIFORNIA

Alumni Secretary—Thomas J. Ledwich
Tribune Tower, Oakland, Calif.

John D. Foster, Tomahawk correspondent for the environs of Berkeley, has sent us news of Arthur Harris who is now a lieutenant in the Navy and who was an officer aboard the ship that escorted the late President Roosevelt to Malta and carried King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia. (An article in a recent issue of Life magazine carried the story of that part of the trip.) Brother Harris' ship was the first American war vessel ever to enter the pilgrim port of Mecca and he tells how the native pilot was bursting with pride at being the first to bring a United States ship into the harbor.

Also from Brother Foster's news service comes the story of the marriage of the former Miss Vivian June Saph to Pfc. Robert R. Dabble in Flora, Miss. Lt. Robert Wildman was best man. Brother Dabble will be remembered for his basketball playing at Berkeley High and the University of California.

John Foster would like to have a mailing address for Elwood Wellman Wright who was last heard from at Treasure Island where he was a radio technician.

Lt. Paul W. Brice Jr. is now stationed with the Air Force at Victorville, Calif. Lt. George E. Smith Jr. is now in the Navy and can receive mail at his home address at 347 Athol Avenue, Oakland, Calif. Lt. Warren E. Vogel is at present somewhere in Germany. Lee K. Gerber is with a mountain division in Italy.

R. Allen Watkins, long absent from this column, has now turned up again. He is still in Honolulu where he is busy running the Watkins Printery and serving as president of the local and state Junior Chamber of Commerce. Brother Watkins plans to be in the states late in June so we are looking forward to a visit from him.

S/Sgt. John F. Doane is at the Salinas Army Air Base in Salinas, Calif.

It is with deep regret that we pass on the news received from Col. John Harry Pi '19, that Capt. Angus D. Teskey was lost over a year ago on a flight between Australia and New Guinea.

Ens. David V. Bell, with a Scouting Squadron in the Pacific, writes, "It is certainly good to know that you are planning a reactivation program, and I know that it will be very successful. According to my present plans, which of course are indefinite, I hope to return to California and Nu. But if this doesn't work out, I will want to take part in alumni activities. So, keep up the good work and we will again have a fine active organization after this thing is all over. . . Things are pretty nice here now, and there are many places where conditions are much worse, places from which some of our brothers will never return."

Capt. Stephen J. Rogers has been promoted to major and assigned as adjutant general of the Third Infantry Division of the Seventh Army with General Patch. Brother Rogers, who served with "San Francisco's Own" 30th Infantry Regiment through the campaigns of Africa, Italy, Sicily, Anzio beach and France, wears the Purple Heart for wounds received in Italy and a bronze star citation for services in the drive on Belfort.

Pfc. Clifford F. Elwood was killed in action on April 23, 1945, in Germany. Brother Elwood was sent overseas in November 1944, landing in southern France, to join General Patch's Seventh Army. He operated a walkie-talkie on the combat front as the Seventh moved north through the Rhone valley of France and into Germany.

Lt. Cmdr. Donald Thorburn '23 has written "No Tumult, No Shouting," the story of a PBY, with his wife, Lois, who is on the staff of The New Yorker.

Alumni Secretary—Richard Bracher
3671 Huntington Ave., St. Louis Park, Minn.

The mother of George W. Rogers writes to say that Brother Rogers is a lieutenant with the Army and has been overseas for the past two years. We have just heard that Thomas M. Thompson has been overseas 17 months.

The Hennepin County (Minn.) Bar Journal printed a letter received from Capt. James L. Krusemark of which we reprint part here with their permission:

"January 31, 1945

"Dear Bert:

"... Have now been snared by the army to practise law in a sense and thus am doing it in Holland. Never expected to some day be in a legal game in Holland, but such is the case.

"Have been over quite a bit of France and some parts of Belgium. Naturally, the spot of spots is Paris, and I have been there a couple of times, but the stays were unfortunately short. When the shindig is over I hope to get a leave and really cover it. I did get up the Eiffel Tower and the beauty of the city just about takes your breath away. To those who are free and single the same can be said of the mademoiselles.

"Have been away longer than I originally expected but hope to stay until the thing is over and if I should come in past the Statue of Liberty I shall be well reminded of the story of the colored soldier who said from the deck of a returning troop ship, 'Old gal, if ya eveh see me agin, you all will have to tu'n around.'

"My work is interesting, my quarters are pretty good and the food is not to be complained about. Then again I have been in the home of a Dutch family who happen to be farmers with a group of about seven kids who can milk the cows and they make a few pies with cream. Milk reminds me of a drug store on the corner of Hennepin and Ninth where malted milks are eaten with a spoon. That's the bar I'll hang on when I get home—and forget about any cognac, vin rouge or champagne." Brother Krusemark is with the Headquarters of a tactical air command post.

Pfc. Robert Reynolds wrote from Madigan General Hospital in Tacoma, Wash., where he is recovering from wounds received in Germany. He writes, "I was with the Timberwolf Division in Germany as an infantry rifleman and was injured on November 11. My arm was badly shattered near the shoulder, but as far as I know there is no permanent injury. I was awarded the Bronze Star for heroic achievement in action in Holland on October 30, 1944." Welcome home, Bob!

Upsilon PENN STATE

Alumni Secretary—D. Putney
134 23rd St., Camp Hill, Pa.

Les Hetenyi, one of the temporarily lost Upsilon brothers, has come back to our notice. He is now at Ann Arbor where he is doing graduate work following a tour of duty with the Air Corps. Les has met William Medicus from the Ohio Wesleyan chapter who is also doing graduate work at Michigan after a period of time in the service. Brother Hetenyi can be addressed at 730 S. State, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Pvt. Joe Cimino has honored the national office with one of the strangest pin-up requests ever received—he wanted a picture of the chapter house at State College. Brother Cimino is sitting in the jungles of New Guinea so we sent him a snow scene of Upsilon which should make him feel better.

The father of John T. Trimble writes that Brother Trimble has been in the service for the past two years and overseas for six months.

John W. Nicklas writes that his brother William is now a lieutenant and is overseas. John can be reached at 1913 Mulberry St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Lt. Col. W. B. Freeland, recent affiliate from Phi Pi Phi is now overseas. Edward S. Peetz has been making regular trips back and forth across the Atlantic. He recently completed his eighth trip. The father of Gerald Russell informs us that Brother Russell is a sergeant with an engineer regiment in Luxembourg.

Frank J. Dawson, who practised dentistry in New York for some time, has been overseas with the Army since the fall of 1943. He is now a major stationed at an evacuation hospital in Germany.

Lt. Karl S. Clinkinbeard is still in the Army overseas. Lt. (jg) Thomas Barber is in the Pacific on submarine duty. Mail will be forwarded from his home in Twin Falls, Idaho. Send it to Box 608.

The mother of William E. Kramer writes to say that Bill is in the Navy, serving on shore duty on Saipan. He receives his Tomahawks regularly and would no doubt like to hear from Psi brothers. Mail can be sent to his home, 415 E. 9th St., Pittsburg, Calif., where it will be forwarded to him.

Lt. Donald Vallancourt, last heard from in the Aleutians, is now at Fort Belvoir, Va., waiting to be transferred to the NACA Laboratories at Langley Field where he will return to his civilian status. Brother Vaillancourt was out of the states 32 months and seems to be happy about his change of locale.

C. E. Lothgren is an ensign stationed at the Naval Air Material Center in Philadelphia. Robert M. Sturgess is still reported as being in England. Dick Innes is overseas with the infantry, presumably in Europe.

Mr. Hugh Post, father of Richard B., tells us that Dick, who is a storekeeper first class, has been overseas since January of 1943 and, since June, 1944, has been in Bordeaux, France.

Herbert A. Lubke, lost for a long time in our files, writes now from Des Moines where he is connected with the Solar Aircraft Company.

Don Stutsman, has been stationed in Chicago with the Coast Guard on a crash boat, working with the practice carriers Wolverine and Sable, since Sept. 1943. He has been quite fortunate in being able to get home quite often. However, he has had the misfortune to be involved in a bad auto accident. He and three other cars got mixed up on an icy hill last November and ended up straddling a fence post. After being in a hospital in Iowa City for three weeks, he was taken to the U. S. Marine Hospital in Chicago where he has been since with the exception of a twenty-day convalescent leave. He says his back is very slow in recovering and he is afraid he will be discharged. However, he plans on going back to Washington, Iowa, and taking over active management of his 300-acre turkey ranch. P. S. Don's Father needed a new car anyway.

Brother Stutsman tells me that Fred Mumm dropped in the hospital to see him the other day. Brother Mumm is an Army Lieutenant with Montgomery Ward and Co.

Brother Charlie Paul is an Army lieutenant in transport command in California. After a recent leave with home folks he returned to his duties in California. Brother Negus is working for the National Gas Pipe Line.

The latest report has Al Coupee, that great quarterback on the 1939 Iron Man team, stationed at the Sub-Marine school in New London.

It might be of interest to a number of brothers to know that Ken Pettit, a former Alpha Sig pledge, who never quite found the time to be initiated, was struck by a propeller in the States and was seriously injured, after serving some time in the South Pacific. Ken was another member of that famous Iron Man team of 1939. At latest report, he is still in the Great Lakes Naval Hospital.

Alumni Secretary—Stuart Pomroy
Syracuse, N. Y.

News from Alpha Epsilon will be on the up-grade from now on! The chapter will re-open officially on September 1 when it will move back into its house at 202 Walnut Place which has been occupied during the past two and one-half years by co-eds, Army engineers and private householders.

On April 29 the chapter initiated six men: Charles Remy from Hudson, N. Y.; Hugo White from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., an ex Navy man; Robert Straus from Buffalo, N. Y.; John Trach from Purling, N. Y., George Vasilion from Brooklyn and Helmer Kiljander, a Finnish boy who has just gone into the Army. Pete O'Hara, Ed Hrabchack and Ralph Burns came up from New York to help with the initiation which was held in a University living center and went off very well.

Great encouragement has come from George Van Derven, Bob Franger, Nelson Dolson, Mal Taylor and many others who have either been here in person or written to us. Now that the defeat of Germany is a reality we hope to have some of the old actives back with us for next term. To begin the term we already have six pledges.

We have fellows with us now that are vitally interested in the chapter and the fraternity and the future of the Ol' Gal here on the Hill looks pretty rosy.

Hector DeJoseph, in the Navy, is at present in the Pacific on board an LST. Dr. Herbert Diaso is serving with the medical corps of the Army and is overseas.

Cece Gamwell, an ensign on board an LST in the Pacific writes, "I'm certainly looking forward to the end of this thing so I can get to Alpha Epsilon and enjoy the rest of my college days." This alumni note, being written in the midst of the V-E Day paper shower here in New York, makes it seem as though Cece won't have too long to wait.

Lt. John D. McCarthy, who was reported missing over Germany in the last issue of the Tomahawk, has now been reported killed in action. Don was lost on his first combat mission, flying a P-47.

The sad news has also come of the death of Lt. William C. Carlson who was killed on April 11, 1945, in air action over England.

Alpha Zeta

U. C. L. A.

Alumni Secretary—H. L. Mitchell

816 E St. (114), Washington 2, D. C.

After prolonged and almost stubborn silence from the West Coast, there comes now a rich harvest of news of Alpha Zeta personalities.

Heading the list is a correction of the report given in an earlier Tomahawk of the death of Brother Bill Leonard after having met one Jap Zero too many. A quick check with the Navy's Bureau of Personnel, at the instigation of Henry Dewinter, showed that Bill, now a Lt. Cmdr., is very much alive and was—at the last reportable position—working off a Norfolk-based carrier. Welcome back, Bill!

Verne MacCauley, now a Lt. Col., is back from three years (plus) in the Pacific. In on the battle of Java, he found a place on the General Staff in Australia, and now—with his wife and daughter—is at the Las Vegas (Nev.) Army Air Base Gunnery School.

Bob Morgan sweated out his grade-time and is now a captain and helping Maj. Ed Fritz, run the Port of Embarkation at San Francisco.

Bill Parker, likewise a captain, returned from the South Pacific for reassignment at the Santa Ana Army Air Base. Some of the brothers still around Los Angeles felt mildly injured at what they termed "his guts" in bringing back a dozen cartons of cigarettes and nonchalantly offering "an imported one!"

Dan Johnson, tired of Anti-aircraft, moved in on the Military Police and last reported in from the region around New Caledonia, a 1st. Lt.

George Jefferson has been holing out with the Engineers in Alaska. He paid a quick visit back to town, recently.

Bob Thomas' turn finally came, with the usual greetings from the President, and after careful classification at Fort McArthur as an A-1 accountant he thought he was headed for the Finance Department. Remember those drives Patton's tankmen made across Germany? Well, Bob was one of the drivers. C'est la guerre!

Wherever there are little backwashes of service troops the men stationed with the outfit get to applying some fancy names to tie the war in with their region of operations—like Tail Gunner on the 8th Avenue Subway for the New Yorkers, or "Potomac River Commandos" for the Washingtonians and inhabitants of the Pentagon. Hank Dewinter's crew refuses to be outdone, and reports that the "Battle of Sixth and Main Streets," sometimes termed the "Zoot Suit War" has definitely been marked as a Theater of Operations, though no stars or ribbons have yet been set aside for those who participated in it.

Brother Dewinter may be some time in getting around to forgiving us if we tell all we know, but there are one or two little things that might interest you and not get us in too deeply with him. For instance, Sgt. Dewinter has spent more than two-and-a-half years in the Army, and has managed to get all of one day of basic training; that's something for the books. Stationed in Los Angeles, he spent most of his time on the cadet board, moved into the headquarters of the Los Angeles WAC recruiting outfit, ran the gauntlet of a measles epidemic there, saw WAC recruiting efforts dwindle, is now waiting for a new assignment.

Hal Zanzot, similarly a sergeant, is another of the fortunates stationed in Los Angeles.

Report is that an Army Engineer detachment, which occupied the Chapter House during UCLA's short-lived ASTP program, practiced some of its homework on the building. A "4-F dogooder and study harder tong" has leased the premises now, digging up the rent at stated intervals and keeping the Old Squire from waving the mortgage at the Chapter Corporation. Board bigwig Frank Kislingbury hints that the get-to-gethers of the Board are far between these days, what with the remoteness of a good many of its erstwhile members, the gasoline situation, "and the scarcity of an excuse that doesn't have mothholes."

None of that has prevented expansion of another sort, however: Frank and the Mrs. are proud parents of a hitherto unreported (to us) son, Roger, of a year's creeping and crawling. The Carroll Manley's acquired an heir—a son—last July. And the Dunc Hutton's have a baby girl, as of last January.

Lt. Roscoe F. Good Jr., USMCR, one of the last H. A. E.'s from Alpha Zeta, sent good wishes to all Alpha Sigs and asks that they write him in care of his wife at 15428 Sherman Way, Van Nuys, Calif.

Lt. (jg) Edwin B. Tyler is now in the Marshall Islands. Lt. Robert E. Jones, whose home is in Beverly Hills, is now with a bombing group in Italy. Harry B. Hansen, Jr., is a corporal in France.

Walter F. Teubner, seaman first class, is with the Navy in the Pacific. The mother of Jack Wetherby writes that he is now overseas.

Charles H. Karl QM 1-c writes, "As you will note from my address, I am not one of your fortunate people in the states. On the contrary I am half a world away from you, and I am sure both the enemy and myself wish I were back there." Brother Karl is with the Pacific fleet.

Robert A. Harvey is now a major in the Army. Henry A. Dewenter is a sergeant in the Army stationed in Los Angeles.

With great sadness we report the death of John I. Douglas, son of Charles Gordon Douglas, Beta '12 and Nu '15, and brother of Gordon S. Douglas. Pfc. Douglas was killed in action in Germany early in the Battle for the Saar on March 2, 1945, and had been overseas since September, 1944, where he was stationed in England, France and Italy before being transferred to the Seventh Army back in France.

The father of Gordon Murray tells us that Brother Murray is as a paratrooper somewhere in Europe.

Lt. James E. Mitchell, stationed at Randolph Field, Texas, sends news of the following brothers: Johnny Ryland, recovered from wounds received in the early Pacific campaigns and now a major, is stationed in Hawaii with the Marines. Capt. J. A. Viger is back in the states instructing after a tour of duty in the European theater. Capt. Frank Lindholm is now somewhere in France. Gene Winchester, a captain with the Marine Air Corps, is flying somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. Jackson L. Leggett, with the Navy, is also in Hawaii.

As of June, when the Navy's V-12 program ended at UCLA, there was one remaining Alpha Zeta, a pledge whose name unhappily didn't trickle as far as Washington. V-E Day has come and gone. V-J Day is somewhere around the corner. When S Day (S for "Scram," as in demobilization) finally arrives, Alpha Zeta will be right in there with General Motors, figuring how to reconvert—

Rushing---Fraternity Life-Blood

Many of our brothers are in the armed forces, many will be called this year. Fraternity affiliation offers the opportunity to develop real leadership which is needed today. As alumni on the home front, it is our responsibility to suggest likely fraternity material to our undergraduate brothers. Clip the blank below and let's keep the life-blood of Alpha Sigma Phi flowing. Mail it to the national headquarters direct, or to a chapter.

RENDER YOUR FRATERNITY THIS SERVICE

Fill in the blank below with the names and addresses of young men, preferably of your acquaintance, whom you know to be desirable Alpha Sigma Phi material and who are attending or entering an Alpha Sigma Phi college, not necessarily your own. Mail it to the Executive Secretary, Ralph F. Burns, 42 Broadway, N. Y. C., or direct to the chapter concerned.

Phi Pi Phi Life Subscriptions

According to the agreement reached at the time of the merger of Phi Pi Phi with Alpha Sigma Phi in 1939, the date of August 1944 was set as the time limit until which life members of Phi Pi Phi could receive a life subscription to the Tomahawk of Alpha Sigma Phi. Therefore, we urge all members of Alpha Sigma Phi to request all Phi Pi Phi members, not already initiated into Alpha Sigma Phi, to make known to national headquarters their desire to become affiliated so that they may receive a life subscription to the magazine of Alpha Sigma Phi. Up to the present time there have been a total of 136 life members of Phi Pi Phi who have affiliated with Alpha Sigma Phi. Under the agreement at the time of the merger 114 more life members of Phi Pi Phi will receive life subscriptions to the Tomahawk of Alpha Sigma Phi if they are initiated prior to August 1944. After August 1944 this will not be available to them.

Membership in Alpha Sigma is a privilege for all members of Phi Pi Phi.

We request former Phi Pi Phi's to fill out the blank below with the names of any life members of Phi Pi Phi whose addresses they believe to be accurate. We plan to contact by mail all such members in the near future, and, though we have addresses for most life members, the files are not up to date and we would appreciate whatever help you can give us. Names and addresses of non-life members will also be appreciated.

Alpha Sigma Phi

A fraternity is not a house or a lodge but rather an experience, a growth, a traveling with friends who soon become brothers upon whom one can with confidence rely, something precious and worth while, something to be shared with others, something to be preserved for those who will come after us.

I give you, my fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi.

WILBUR H. CRAMBLET,
Grand Senior President.
