The Mission of North Carolina State University

Alpha Sigma Phi Beta Zeta Colony

The brothers of the North Carolina State University Beta Zeta Colony of Alpha Sigma Phi exist to create and perpetuate brotherhood, now and in the future. Our fraternity's first priority is to uphold and promote the Code of Conduct and the Brotherhood Creed, as outlined in "To Better the Man."

We recognize we are our brother's keepers and strive everyday to better ourselves as brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi, students and outstanding members of the surrounding community. We will make every effort to recruit and retain brothers of high moral standards, who will take pride respect and pursue high standards as we all do at North Carolina State University.

We are committed to our school and community and we will do everything in our power to assist and serve both entities. We also believe in learning and preserving the traditions and rituals of Alpha Sigma Phi. It is our goal to develop leaders in the classroom, community, and workplace.

By striving to become one of the most revered fraternities in the country we will stand by our responsibilities and decisions. Decisions made to help the whole with little regard for ourselves. In doing this we will prove ourselves as gentlemen of high ethical and moral behavior. Our actions shall truly speak louder than words with our outstanding achievements in philanthropy, scholarship, and brotherhood.

History of North Carolina State University

North Carolina State University, more commonly known as N.C. State, was founded by the North Carolina General Assembly in 1887 as a land-grant college. With an enrollment of over 30,000 students, N.C. State is currently the largest university in North Carolina. The university is the primary technological school of the University of North Carolina school system that includes 16 universities throughout the state. While North Carolina State is historically acclaimed for schools in design, engineering, textiles, agriculture, and veterinary medicine, the school also offers over 100 Bachelor degrees in areas including business, education, forestry, and the humanities and social sciences. During reconstruction after President Lincoln passed the Morrill Land-Grant Act, Chapel Hill received the annual endowment to establish a college that would provide a "liberal and practical education." In the mid 1880s, a group of farmers and business leaders argued that the university was not meeting the mandates of the federal act. The North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts was established in 1887 with funding allocated by the North Carolina General Assembly. R. Stanhope Pullen gave land in Raleigh for the school to be established on and construction began with the transfer of the endowment to the new Raleigh location.

The college formally opened on October 3, 1889. Between this date and World War I, the college expanded with the agriculture of North Carolina. New extension programs allowed the college to directly benefit other North Carolinians. By 1918 the college had around 700 students and the name was changed to North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering. The Great Depression caused many stresses for the entire educational system and the State of North Carolina created the Consolidated University of North Carolina that combined State College with the University of Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Women's College at Greensboro. The North Carolina College of Agriculture and Engineering of the University of Chapel Hill remained a single entity until 1972 when the University of North Carolina system was created. Between the end of the Great Depression and the Second World War enrollment in fluctuated between 1,000 and 2,000 students. The G.I. Bill that was passed after World War II caused State to grow rapidly and the university expanded to accommodate over 5,000 students in 1947. In the following decade State College received national acclaim for various programs and also began enrolling African American students. Throughout the early 1960's the school was caught in a struggle between administrators and legislators surrounding the name. After attempts to call the college The University of North Carolina at Raleigh, the name became North Carolina State University at Raleigh in 1965. This name has remained since.

In 1966 enrollment was over 10,000 students and within the following decade the university was home to over 19,000 students. Much of the added enrollment was caused by the addition of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. Although North Carolina State is renowned for engineering, design, and textile programs the extension into humanities and social sciences was a successful step. The school continues to grow and in 1987 the university began calling the individual schools colleges and also received 700 acres to begin work on Centennial Campus that is currently finishing construction and accommodating the engineering departments.

Today N.C. State is one of the three anchors of the Research Triangle with UNC Chapel Hill and Duke University. The university now has over 30,000 students and 7,000 employees. With an $820 million budget and a $380 million endowment, North Carolina State continues to grow and develop to meet the needs of all students. This past year marked even more public acclaim for the university as both the Princeton Review and the U.S. News and World Report ranked the university 2nd in America's Best Value Colleges. The student newspaper is The Technician, and The Agromeck is the annual year-book. The former has allowed students a voice and connection since 1920. As a founding and lasting member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, N.C. State competes in 24 intercollegiate sports. The Wolfpack have won 8 national titles within these athletic events and welcome the new basketball coach, Sidney Lowe to Raleigh for the 2006-2007 season. Many great Americans have received powerful educations through the university including Vice Presidential Candidate and Senator John Edwards. Bill Cowher, the coach of the National Champion Pittsburgh Steelers also attended the university along with many other prominent individuals.

North Carolina State University Greek Life

North Carolina State University is composed of men's and women's fraternities. These organizations include North American Interfraternity Conference fraternities, National Panhellenic Conference sororities, National Pan-Hellenic Council fraternities and sororities, and Collaborative Greek Council fraternities and sororities. Each governing body has specific guidelines and requirements related to recruitment of new members. Each member organization has additional requirements of students seeking membership to their respective chapters.

Greek Life at North Carolina State University is an important part of the co-curricular experience at NC State. While enhancing your personal development by committing to ideals of scholarship, leadership, and service it also creates a respect for your individuality while being part of a brotherhood/sisterhood with individuals who share the same goals and values. Members of Greek life have built a commitment to the ritualistic values of their organizations, a commitment to service, an understanding of their responsibility for being a contributing member of the community, and to the personal and professional development of members. Fraternity men and Sorority women are involved in various campus organizations such as Student Government, sports clubs, and academic honor societies. Many these men and women hold leadership positions in these groups. Individual involvement is the key to fraternal success

Social

College life involves learning to live and work with others, respecting them as individuals, and making friendships that will last a lifetime. Greek life enhances the social experience in a relaxed atmosphere. This can be seen in events throughout the year such as mixers, band parties, and Greek Week.

Service

Service to our university, to our community, and society as a whole is a very important aspect of fraternal life. Fraternities and sororities strive to have members recognize their responsibility to help people in need. Chapters hold fundraisers for organizations such as Breast Cancer and Youth AIDS awareness. Greek Life also promotes philanthropic events to support those such as the Hurricane Katrina victims.

Scholarship

Academics are the reason you attend college and scholastic excellence is important to each Greek organization at North Carolina State University. The Interfraternity and PanHellenic Councils require a minimum GPA of 2.25 for current students. Every chapter on this campus has individual specific academic requirements on both a local and national level, which they are to uphold

History of Alpha Sigma Phi – Beta Zeta Chapter At North Carolina State University

On December 4th, 1920 eight men joined together to form Sigma Delta, a local fraternity, at this time it was impossible for them to truly realize the powerful influence their legacy would have on North Carolina State University and it's students. While living at 10 Enterprise Street, in the spring of 1926, these men petitioned Phi Pi Phi for a charter. Their wish was granted and on April 29th, 1927 when they became the Xi Chapter of Phi Pi Phi. The Xi chapter moved to 219 Forest Road in 1931. Unfortunately, during the Great Depression the Xi chapter of Phi Pi Phi closed due to low membership and financial difficulties.

Perhaps the true cornerstone of Beta Zeta Chapter history occurred in 1929 when Albert Bennett formed the Alpha Club another local fraternity at North Carolina State College. The Purpose of the Alpha Club was to seek a charter from Alpha Kappa Pi and their goal was reached on May 26th, 1930. Instantly the chapter was a success winning the IFC scholarship cup in 1933. However, in 1942 only six members returned to school in the fall of 1941 and not soon after Alpha Kappa Pi suspended operations early in World War II. Nonetheless, the paramount moment occurred when Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Kappa Pi decided to merge in 1946 and the Chapter at North Carolina State University was re-designated Beta Zeta of Alpha Sigma Phi. Three years Later, in 1949 an effort was made to begin the first true Beta Zeta Chapter with two men initiated, however the effort failed.

Once again in 1974 efforts began to revive Beta Zeta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi, this time the effort was prosperous under Gary Gourley an early leader of the group. On March 19th, 1976 the group of men was recognized as a colony of Alpha Sigma Phi. However, the day the men set out to achieve came on February 18th, 1978 when George Lord, E '61 and Gary Anderson, AN '73 presented them with the re-chartered Beta Zeta Chapter. In a strange twist of fate the chapter returned to 10 Enterprise Street, the former home of Xi chapter of Phi Pi Phi. There the Beta Zeta chapter named the newsletter, "The State of Beta Zeta". Also Jeff Hoffman, MAL '75; Wes Nobles, BZ '76; and Brian Lilly, B Z '78 won the F. F. Hargear Award, the largest contingent from any chapter. Hoffman went on to serve on the Fraternity staff and Editor of the "Tomahawk." Regrettably, after several years of sound operations the lack of progress toward an adequate sized chapter house began to take a toll on the strength of the organization and in 1988 the Charter was revoked.

In 2004 efforts were again taken to revive the "Old Gal" and On April 13th, 2005 the Group was recognized as a Beta Zeta colony of Alpha Sigma Phi. With such a rich history the men of the colony want to once and fore all establish a never ending circle of brotherhood on North Carolina State University campus with the Beta Zeta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi.

North Carolina State University
Alpha Sigma Phi Beta Zeta Colony
Short Term and Long Term Goals

Progress for Goal One: Academic Excellence

Beta Zeta colony has been actively pursuing academic excellence throughout our existence. We recognize that we have fallen short of our goal of rising above the all-male and all-student campus average of 2.9. This is unacceptable, and we have therefore developed the following academic initiatives to help our brothers achieve excellence in their specific majors. Be aware that NC State offers some of the most difficult academic majors in higher education, such as engineering, chemistry, math, and other sciences. Regardless, we have implemented the following plan for achievement:

Brotherhood Academic Initiative: No Sig Left Behind Program

For all brothers who fail to meet our minimum grade point average of a 2.5 (semester and/or cumulative), the following requirements exist:

- Each brother will meet individually with Dr. Jim Barker, professor of history and academic advisor for Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Zeta. Dr. Barker will work with each brother to craft a semester plan to increase his term GPA to at least a 2.5, but preferably higher.
- Each brother will meet with the Prudential Committee following his meeting with Dr. Barker. The committee will provide any support and encouragement to the brother that is physically possible, including, but not limited to: study help sessions, tutoring, assistance with time management skills, and class attendance tracking.
- Each brother will submit to his advisor (GCA and Academic Advisor) a copy of each of his syllabi, which outline dates for examinations and major papers. The student will then craft a schedule which tracks each of these course along with the respective advisor(s).
- Each brother will collect from his professors a monthly assessment of his own progress in the course, including a midterm evaluation. This progress sheet will be turned in to the Academic Advisor and the Scholarship chair no later than one week following the completion of each month (i.e., by the 5th of each month).
- For those brothers who fail to surpass the 2.5 grade point average during the completion of the semester, the chapter will meet to discuss his circumstances and future in the chapter.

Note that this initiative is intensive and involves each brother pulling his weight, and recognizing his own personal struggles. This, we feel, is the cornerstone of academic success and excellence.

Progress for Goal 2: Growth and Expansion in Membership Resources

We are aggressively recruiting on a regular basis to grow and develop quality members. At 37, we exceed all but 7 of the 20 active fraternities. Our goal is to continue to push these numbers, knowing that quality men are the expectation and the rule.

Recruitment and retention go hand in hand. In order to support quality recruitment, we have developed a sound set of recruitment activities, including participation in Fall Move-In, the Interfraternity Council's Fall Recruitment program, and quality Alpha Sigma Phi recruitment events, such as a Pig Pickin', Oyster Roast, Recruitment mixers with sororities on campus, and various athletic events. Our goal is to show these recruits that Alpha Sigma Phi provides a sound and meaningful experience for all men, and that, while we expect great things from each brother, we also recognize that fun is a major component in fraternity life. Please see the Recruitment Schedule for Fall, 2006 (below).

Progress for Goal 3: Brotherhood Services

During the 2005/2006 academic year, we have strengthened brotherhood relationships and communication. Through our Brotherhood Chair, we created and implemented three Brotherhood retreats, focusing on building relationships, developing expectations, and strengthening our understanding of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Our GCA, Barry Olson, implemented our Pledge Education program, focusing on the seven precepts of the Pledge Pin. The education program occurred throughout the spring semester, and helped us to better understand the inner workings of Alpha Sigma Phi, as well as to strengthen our own planning and development. The semester culminated with an examination, which tested our understanding of the Old Gal. To become more knowledgeable of all Alpha Sigma Phi teaching, history and rituals we as brother will do one on one and group sessions conducted by our brotherhood chair, historian and marshal before our chartering in the Fall. In addition to this all brothers are also expected to further their own understanding through informal, personal contact with area alumni. This will help us to better understand the origins of the Beta Zeta chapter at NC State, and the hidden teachings of Alpha Sigma Phi (as soon as we are allowed to learn them).

Progress for Goal 4: Developing Strong Organizational Administrative and Budgeting Practices

We have developed and implemented in-depth, comprehensive administrative procedures for managing our fraternity. We have written and implemented our first Constitution and By-Laws, which were unanimously passed in the Spring semester, 2006. We also developed, with the assistance of Alumni Richard Dyer, a complete budget for the academic year. This budget was patterned from budgets of chapters in North Carolina, as well as nationwide. Brother Dyer helped us to understand and create a sound savings plan for future program needs.

To successfully continue to establish strong organization administrative and budgeting practices each chairman will develop a complete set of committee manuals. These will use the resources provided us by the National Office, as these documents serve as a wonderful template for a successful manual, but each officer will address issues that have or have not worked for our chapter, this will provide future reference for all new officers.

Progress for Goal 5: Campus and Community Involvement

We have been active participants in the following volunteer programs: Adopt-A-Highway, The YMCA, The Orphans Rescue Project (fundraising efforts with other Greek fraternities and sororities), Packaging food for Hurricane relief and local families in need, and the Canned Food Drive during Greek Week. We recognize that this is an area in need of more participation and growth among all brothers, and have implemented participation requirements for each man during each semester (each man must complete 15 hours of service each semester MINIMUM).

Dear Grand Council of Alpha Sigma Phi:

It is a sincere pleasure to write on behalf of the men of Beta Zeta Colony of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity at NC State. I enthusiastically support their candidacy to become a full chartered member in the National Fraternity of Alpha Sigma Phi.

I was asked to join the colony as their academic advisor in November of 2005. I am responsible for supporting the brothers in their academic performance and in the maintenance of the NIC minimum of a 2.5 GPA for the colony.

There is a sincere desire among the brothers to succeed in their quest to become a chartered organization. Academically, some members have experienced difficulty with their cumulative averages, but they have also taken steps to combat this problem. After the constitution was ratified in February, the brothers instituted a mandatory study hall for those whose GPA fell between 2.5 and 2.8.

Additionally, in the fall of 2006, an academic initiative will be implemented to achieve higher averages. The "No Sig Left Behind" program involves individual counseling, meetings with the Prudential Committee, and assessments from professors. In this way, the brothers are actively seeking to achieve and maintain academic excellence, a basic tenet of the brotherhood.

I am impressed with the character and integrity of the members of Beta Zeta colony. They have taken the initiative to establish an organization dedicated to a strong brotherhood emphasizing the lasting commitments to education, charity, patriotism, and friendship. I ardently support and recommend the members of Beta Zeta Colony in their quest to become a chartered member of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Please feel free to contact me at your convenience.

Brothers:

The Beta Zeta Colony is now petitioning to re-charter at North Carolina State University (NCSU). I am confident that you will find the petition more than sufficient and whole heartedly support these men as they petition to bring Alpha Sigma Phi back to NCSU as a full-fledged Chapter.

I have worked with the men of the Beta Zeta Colony (and the Beta Zeta Interest Group before that) over the past few years with the goal of bringing Alpha Sigma Phi back to my alma mater. The Beta Zeta Colony has come so far, so fast, I am truly amazed. When I first met the men, there were about a dozen. The Interest Group had no formal officers, no organized meetings, no structured rush, no checking account, no budget, no established dues, etc. In short, very little structure – but the men had a strong desire to bring back Alpha Sigma Phi to NCSU – just like the Phoenix. Today, there have been 2 formal elections of officers, there are 37 men in the Colony, $1,073.26 in savings, formal budgets, formal dues, formal recruitment, etc. Bottom line, these men are a fully functioning fraternity and are more than ready to become a full Chapter. I have come to personally know all of the officers and many of the men in the Colony. Each of these men exhibits what it truly means to be a brother in Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity.

It is important to note that we are in the process of building a strong alumni organization to support the Chapter as well. We have established an Alumni Chapter Council, held many alumni social activities, established regular communications with area alumni, etc. I am confident that as the men of Beta Zeta continue to succeed, excitement within the alumni ranks will continue to grow and we will be able to create a strong alumni organization which will be in an even better position to support the Chapter.

It is especially important for me personally to see the Old Gal fully back on campus. I was the last Vice President of Beta Zeta Chapter before we closed the doors almost 20 years ago. I sincerely hope that you approve the petition to bring the Beta Zeta Chapter back to NCSU.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss any aspects of this letter, please feel free to call me on my cell phone, 919.414.8462.

Richard C. Dyer
Beta Zeta 1986

Dear Grand Chapter Council,

My name is Tyson Fink and I am currently a senior at NC State and I have been involved with Alpha Sigma Phi since the very beginning. Our colony is sending in our petition and our president has asked me to write a letter to explain why my GPA is not up to the standard, as well as my plans to raise my GPA, and most importantly why it means so much to me to be a founding father of Alpha Sigma Phi – Beta Zeta at North Carolina State University.

My GPA is currently a 2.13 but I am working diligently on bringing it up to and surpassing a 2.3. Unfortunately, my last semester at NC State does not truly reflect me as a student and it brought my GPA down to an unacceptable level. I vowed to correct this mistake and I began reviving it by making a B on my first summer class. Also, I plan on continuing this success into the fall semester. I will use the resources that our Colony has set up, such as study sessions and peer help, to help me raise my GPA in the future. I feel that being a part of the fraternity will help bring my GPA up as I continue my academic career. Again I know that my GPA is unacceptable but it is very important to me to be a brother of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Becoming a founding father is imperative to me. Everything the colony has been involved in I have always given everything I have, which I believe has helped allow Beta Zeta colony to grow and become the organization that it is today. I was one of the original brothers to contact Alpha Sigma Phi about reviving the “old gal” at NC State and have been actively involved from that point on. This I believe has helped allow us to reach the size and success we are now. Over the past three years we as a group have went through some struggles and hardships which made some members give up hope and leave our group. However, I have been here for our entire tenure and I would hate to miss out on becoming a fully initiated member and founding father because of one bad semester and my GPA not being up to par at the moment.

Throughout the years I have actively participated in many events with Alpha Sigma Phi such as: aggressively recruiting during all of the recruitment periods as well as recruiting throughout the school year as it is a goal which we must pursue throughout the year and not for just a few weeks at the beginning of each semester; playing on all of our intramural teams, participating in Greek Week including the ultimate frisbee team that made it to the final game, attending all of the retreats we have had, and also attending colony sponsored service activities. I have spent almost every one of my days in college since we started Alpha Sigma Phi with my brothers. I can honestly say I know every single member in the Fraternity personally because I feel like I helped recruit them all from the newest to the oldest member. Every one of these men is not only my best friend, but also my brother and I want the opportunity to be there with them during the initiation ceremony and for life. I hope you take everything I have said into consideration when looking at me and making the decision whether or not you will allow me to be a brother. I have had the best years of my life with Alpha Sigma Phi and I do not want it to stop and I will continue to do everything in my power to better myself, my brothers, Alpha Sigma Phi, and the communities we come in contact with.

Sincerely,
Tyson Fink

Dear Brothers,

It is with great pleasure and adoration that I write this letter of support for the men of the Beta Zeta Colony at North Carolina State University as they petition to become a chartered organization. Having seen their growth and development over the course of three years, I can honestly say that they are a most deserved group of men.

I first met with Tim Anzenberger, one of the founding fathers, back in January, 2003. He informed me that a small group of men had been searching for the right fraternity. After visiting many of the existing chapters on campus, the men found themselves still looking for a fraternal home that matched their values. They searched through other fraternity's web pages and materials, and came across Alpha Sigma Phi. After meeting with him for over an hour, I saw the spark and the excitement contained within his eye, and began working with the group to become an interest group of Alpha Sigma Phi. After much ebb and flow over the next year, we found ourselves poised to become a colony, and on April 23, 2005, their dream became a reality. 25 men signed their name and began the process of moving towards chapter status.

Over their relatively short existence, I have watched this group of men become leaders on our campus. Their involvement in the Inter Fraternity Council, as well as their participation in Homecoming and Greek Week has been glorious. To finally see our men become agents of change and goodwill has been refreshing, to say the least. They have also been good citizens, as they have become a participant in the North Carolina "Adopt-A-Highway" program, and have been working on building partnerships with the YMCA and other civic organizations in the state.

Their most impressive feat has been their connection with our Beta Zeta alumni who saw the chapter close in 1987. The men of the colony understand that it is important to understand the past and to avoid the mistakes made previously if they expect to be a successful chapter. The alumni brothers of Beta Zeta have moved from skeptical to optimistic, and it is in no small part because of the sound leadership and progress that they are seeing from the colony. I have personally witnessed the development of an Alumni Liaison position within the colony, and regular contact with alumni and officers, including our recruitment chair, president, and treasurer. The input, guidance, and support from our alumni brethren in Raleigh and beyond has been impressive. The alumni now regularly host dinners, social events, and golf weekends, spotlighting the hard work of our undergraduate brothers, and offering them all the support, encouragement, and advice they can muster.

As an organization, Alpha Sigma Phi at North Carolina State has become an established part of the Greek fabric. The men are active and current with IFC. They maintain organizational status through the Student Organization Resource Center on campus. They have a strong budget and collections program, and they maintain savings and checking accounts off campus at Wachovia Bank. We have a Tax Identification number, which gives us full status through the federal government. In summary, they function as all other fraternities do on campus, and as all student organizations do as well.

You will see that academic issues have plagued the colony. Our overall GPA, according to our Greek Life department, hovers around a 2.5 collectively. I can assure you that this has been a major issue of discussion over the course of the year. We have had to let some men go because of their failure to focus on academics, and we certainly have a good distance to travel to be at the top of NC State's Greek system. I have helped the men craft a program that they are calling "No Sig Left Behind" that will focus on academic enrichment. With the help of Dr. Jim Barker, our Academic Advisor, we are committed to helping raise the grades of each man, and will continually monitor their progress.

"To Better The Man" is our open motto. The men of Beta Zeta colony have proven themselves worthy to become a chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi. Their sound fiscal management, their commitment to the development of a strong and inclusive brotherhood, their continued focus on recruitment and retention, and their integrity make them a shining example of what Alpha Sigma Phi can do for young men of today. I have been fortunate to help resurrect Beta Zeta at North Carolina State University, and give the men my full recommendation for chapter status, and I hope you will see to it to do the same. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me via email at barry_olson@ncsu.edu, or by phone at (919) 513-0754. Thank you for your time and consideration of the men of Beta Zeta.

Fraternally,

I spent the spring semester of 2006 doing a co-op with a company within my major. The position was with Cisco Systems in technical assistance to large corporate customers. The co-op program is a three semester rotation through a company which allows students to gain experience and knowledge through on the job training. This is an accredited program through the university and I am still considered a full time student during my employment. I am currently attending summer classes so that I can graduate on time. Also my gpa up to the spring semester is a 3.58 if any other info is needed just contact me.

Thanks

Dear Grand Chapter Council

This letter is in support of the men who fell just below the suggested GPA for initiation. Haddon Manly Clark IV, Christopher Taylor Jackson, and Tyson Dean Fink are all brothers that I have close personal relationships with and understand each of their personal situations which they had the chance to elaborate on in regards to their recent academic performance.

Each of these men brings great things to the organization, and has had a tremendous impact on making Beta Zeta what it is today. In the case of Haddon Manly Clark IV and Christopher Taylor Jackson, I see the future of this organization and leadership qualities in both men. As freshman, the college experience was new to them as it was to us all, mistakes were made and actions have been taken ensuring their future academic success. Both of these men have expressed to me how much Alpha Sigma Phi means to each of them, but I knew that without them having to mention it. I see it daily as they strive to live their lives through the five virtues which the "Old Gal" teaches us.

Tyson Dean Fink is a man known by all, who constantly puts others before himself. He is revered with the utmost respect and continues to be a cornerstone of our organization. He, just as the other men, lives his life as close to the five virtues as one possibly can. Beta Zeta would not be where it is today without men like Tyson Dean Fink, who has put his all into everything we do, whether it is his attendance record at meetings and ritual, or his always optimistic presence at all events formal and informal including Greek Week, Intramurals, Recruitment events, and Brotherhood Retreats.

These men have struggled in their recent academic performance but after speaking with all men individually, we have set up academic plans with each of them and our faculty advisor. I know we will see positive changes in regards to their GPA, and a continued leadership through active participation within the fraternity. All of the men have already taken actions in the right direction to regain a stronghold on their performance in the classroom through summer classes and freshman retakes along with their individualized plans for performance this upcoming academic term.

I personally feel that these men are vital assets to our organization and are prepared as all the men are to take the next step in our journey towards full enlightenment of the hidden teachings and knowledge of the full meaning of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Beta Zeta at North Carolina State University would not be where it is today without men like Tyson Dean Fink and will not be where it needs to be in the upcoming years without young leadership seen through Haddon Manly Clark IV and Christopher Taylor Jackson. These men have laid a foundation and will continue to do so for Alpha Sigma Phi to assure its presence on our campus for years to come.

I look forward to entering the Mystic Circle with these men and hope that you will take this letter as well as those from the men into consideration when making your decision. I know all of these men are looking forward to becoming a part of something much larger than we can imagine right now and I can assure you that they will continue to live their lives through the five virtues as they do now and will continue to be their brother's keeper. Thank you all for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Matthew D. Stone
Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Zeta President

Dear National Headquarters,

I am aware that my cumulative GPA does not meet the requirements for Nationals. However, while my GPA is just below a 2.3, a 2.232, it is because I was about to receive a low grade in a math class so I had to fail the class to qualify for a freshman retake on that one class. I will be retaking this class in the following semester. While this one grade has seemed to have dropped my GPA considerably, I will have to say that without that class this past semester my GPA would be a 2.567. I know with the help from my brothers I will make a tremendous improvement in this class. I feel that I have earned my spot for initiation of being a Founding Father of Alpha Sigma Phi – Beta Zeta Chapter here at North Carolina State University. I attended everything for the fraternity possible. During Greek Week I participated in events such as basketball to represent our fraternity. I have really been lucky to find a fraternity such as this and have the brothers that I do. I see our fraternity doing many things at N.C. State and I want to be part of them and showing how proud I am to be in this fraternity. I understand all the requirements needed to go through initiations for our charter. I hope you understand my situation and will allow me to partake in something that I will always remember.

I just finished my freshman year at North Carolina State and already want to play a significant role in the fraternity and the inner workings of Alpha Sigma Phi. Thank you for your time and I hope that you understand my situation and will allow me to act in the initiation process.

Sincerely,
Christopher Taylor Jackson

Grand Council,

In my brother bio it states that I withdrew from my classes this fall semester, and being the colony's vice president I thought it would be appropriate to explain why this occurred. The fall semester was a very difficult time for me for two main reasons; first, I was having trouble being active in the day and tired very easily which affected my studies greatly. Earlier this summer I found out that I have sleep apnea and I am in the process of remedying the situation with either surgery or a CPAP. Along with the sleeping problem, the second reason is much more personal, my grandfather whom I was very close to passed away in early February from Brain Cancer. He was only diagnosed with it in January and it came very sudden to my whole family. My family is a very tight family and this affected us all greatly. On February 4th we were told by his doctors that he only had a few hours to live, so I drove to Binghamton, NY to see him. However, he did not pass away on the fourth and it was just a waiting game, until the 9th of February. Being that he lived in New York and we were told he could pass at anytime my family decided to stay until his funeral, meaning I missed about a week and half of school. After I returned to the pressures of school and with both of these factors affecting me significantly, I now know that I went in to a state of depression however, I still attended the majority of my classes. I did not withdraw from classes until after the semester had finished and realized that grades indeed had suffered badly. I have and am received counseling for the depression and I feel that I am back to the person that I was before all this had occurred, which is very active and fun loving.

I do not want to make this all a downer to read, so on a positive note one of the best things that came out of this is the bond that I share with the brothers of the Alpha Sigma Phi - Beta Zeta Colony. The support that I received from them was amazing, when I returned to school there was a card waiting for me that everyone had signed and along with the fact of knowing that I could talk to anyone of them for a shoulder to lean on. I know that through this experience, and the many others that we have shared, this group of guys will bring back the Beta Zeta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi strong on the North Carolina State Campus for many years to come.

Sincerely,
George E Wood Jr.

Dear Alpha Sigma Phi,

This letter is written in regards to my current grade point average, and why it does not meet the 2.3 cumulative grade point that is required by Alpha Sigma Phi. My first semester at NC State was academically excellent; I had roughly a 3.0 GPA and received 16 credit hours. However my second semester was a struggle due to the intense class selection I chose to take on. Fortunately, since I am a freshman, I have the option of retaking two of these classes. The two classes I plan to retake will replace the old grades which will therefore bring my GPA up substantially.

In an effort to raise my GPA I am currently taking classes at a technical college near my house over the summer. I have recently come to realize that only the credits transfer to NC State University. Unfortunately, this will not be able to bring up my GPA as I was hoping for.

My Fall semester is planned out in a way to which I will succeed. Not only am I taking classes all related to my major, but the classes are at times that work well for my schedule. My GPA will be brought up significantly by my freshmen retakes and my next semester grades.

Sincerely,
Haddon Manly Clark IV

Dear men of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity,

The men of the Beta Zeta Colony at North Carolina State University have asked me to write a letter of support as they petition to become a chartered organization. I am happy to do so.

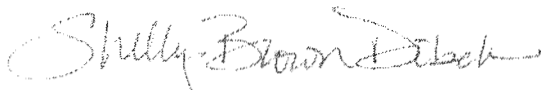

Growth of this chapter has been slow, but steady. I have been impressed with the men's persistence. Where others might have abandoned their efforts months ago, this group of men has remained committed providing opportunities for men to become better men. The group has recently gained recognition from the Interfraternity Council, and now qualifies for recognition by the Department of Greek Life, in accordance with our Department Recognition Guidelines. Although recognition has just recently become "official," the men have been participating in such activities as the Greek Leaders Retreat, IFC meetings, Greek Week, and Risk Management Training throughout their time at NC State.

Academic performance has remained a struggle for this group. I had hoped to see a more improved performance for Spring 2006 (although I am pleased that they are finally above the NIC suggested minimum of 2.50). Please note that the Department made an error when the original grade reports from Spring 2006 were calculated. The chapter completed paperwork to remove one of the members from the chapter roster before the end of spring semester. The Department overlooked this request as it was on the back of another form. His academic performance was quite low; so once recalculated, their GPA improved. We apologize for the error. Updated information is below:

	Number	GPA
BROTHER	25	2.49645
NEW MEMBERS	12	2.68726
TOTAL	37	2.51464

I look forward to seeing what things this chapter can accomplish in the upcoming years, and to welcoming them as a full member of the Greek Community. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me via email at shelly_dobek@ncsu.edu, or by phone at (919) 513-2910. Thank you for your time and consideration of the men of Beta Zeta.

To the Grand Council of Alpha Sigma Phi,

As the Interfraternity Council President at North Carolina State University it is with great pleasure that I recommend the Beta Zeta Colony of Alpha Sigma Phi at NC State become a full chartered member in the National Fraternity of Alpha Sigma Phi. Over the past year as Interfraternity Council President and my previous position as IFC V.P. of Public Relations the men of the Alpha Sigma Phi colony at NC State have shown the true quality of their chapter's character. In the short time they have been at NC State they have already made great positive impact on our campus.

The colony Brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi have been strongly involved in helping develop and better both the IFC and Greek community at NC State. In particular your men have been strong proponents and leaders in creating and implementing the All Greek Council on campus. The All Greek Council has the ambitious goal of truly unifying our divided Greek community in the hopes of enhancing both the Greek experience and the collective Greek power and prestige our community is lacking on campus. Alpha Sigma Phi as only a colony member of IFC and one of the youngest members of our Greek community has been one of the greatest catalyst in the endeavor to better our entire Greek community. The Brothers have sacrificed a significant amount of their time attending weekly meetings, researching other campuses, and leading committees while building this All Greek Council. As stated earlier this endeavor is no small task and embodies the entire spectrum of the Greek community at NC State.

The Alpha Sigma Phi colony has also been a great foundation for the Interfraternity Council to rely on while rebuilding our Fraternity community for a more successful 21st century future. IFC has and is going through dynamic changes to rebuild our credibility and tradition on campus and the Brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi have been a positive ally in that cause. I know that when it comes to being stewards of our IFC community the collective future of our Fraternities are in good hands with the Brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi. They are always prone to help out IFC in whatever fashion with a full-hearted devotion to ensuring the best for IFC that provides an irreplaceable resource any council president would be thankful to have in his arsenal. All though not full IFC members yet the Beta Zeta Colony of Alpha Sigma Phi act and benefit the Council as good as any full member of our Council.

The foresight, maturity, and dedication of your Brothers to help our IFC and Greek community has been truly remarkable for such a young group. It is without a doubt that the NC State Greek community and greater university community will greatly benefit from the permanent fixture of your Brothers on this campus as I am sure your national Fraternity will benefit from this group of men. I am already glad and proud to refer to your men as my fellow IFC Fraternity Brothers at NC State. I am completely positive that you will be just as proud and happy to refer to your men at NC State as full pledged Brothers in Alpha Sigma Phi. The only area in which your men can improve upon is in their academics, but with a core of such quality men I am confident they will build as great success academically as they have done in other aspects. Again it is with my full recommendation and personal belief that your men at NC State are worthy of full chartered membership in Alpha Sigma Phi. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further questions about the great colony of Alpha Sigma Phi you have at North Carolina State University.

Alpha Sigma Phi used to be a Brotherhood that added the final polish to a man. Today's undergraduates don't have the benefit of value-setting and skills development that used to come from family, church, community, and school. So now we must provide a lot more than polish. The challenge and need is great. But we know from over 136 years of experience that the program Alpha Sigma Phi offers is sound, that it meets the ideals of our country.

Purpose

The purpose of this newsletter is to provide parents, alumni, fraternity headquarters, and all other parties information about the progress of Alpha Sigma Phi at North Carolina State University. This newsletter will keep everyone up to date with what Alpha Sigma Phi is doing. As the fraternity moves closer and closer to a charter, it is imperative that as a fraternity we become more organized and more visible at the university and in the community. This newsletter will serve as a means of correspondence between the brothers and those who have an interest in seeing this fraternity thrive and prosper at North Carolina State University for many years to come.

New Officers

After holding elections in January, Alpha Sigma Phi elected its officers that will hold their positions until the next election in November, 2006. As we get closer to getting a charter, we have added offices that were previously not held by anyone, and brothers have stepped up and taken larger roles in the fraternity.

Summary of the Constitution

*Alpha Sigma Phi's new Constitution is a big step in the right

Ratified on February xx, 2006, our constitution is a step in the right direction. It has answers for almost all foreseeable questions, problems, and issues. The constitution includes Alpha Sigma Phi's missions in brotherhood, service and philanthropy, education and scholarship, and membership. Article IV in the first section describes the roles officers play and how to fill vacant positions. Later articles of the constitution address issues such as dissolution of the fraternity, non-discrimination, and amending the constitution.

The real "meat and potatoes" of the constitution is found in the by-laws. Article I of the by-laws addresses membership issues. It requires members be full time students and states the process of voting in new members. It also discusses probation, pledgeship, and alumni status. Article II describes the role of all officers and what will be expected from them. This section helps new officers get involved quickly and helps members figure out which office they could best fill, and it also sets requirements for members filling positions on the prudential committee or the judicial board. Article III of the by-laws describes the requirements and responsibilities for the fraternity's eight committees. These committees include recruitment, service, philanthropy, social, brotherhood, public relations, scholarship, and the alumni/editor committee. Some roles many committees have in common include:

1. Do not tolerate any form of hazing.
2. Do not permit any activity or event that could possibly endanger a person's health or well-being.
3. Be subjected to rules set up by the National Fraternity, Inter Fraternity Council, and North Carolina State University.

Article IV describes the functions and actions of the judicial board. The judicial board may amend the constitution with the approval from the prudential committee and the general assembly. Also the judicial board is to interpret and uphold the constitution and its by-laws. The trial process is set forth in detail. The appeal process is also described. The judicial board will also enforce attendance policies set forth in Article V, which focuses on meetings. Article V also describes the attendance policy, which includes the repercussions for absenteeism. It also addresses attendance to rituals and ceremonies as well as the procedure Alpha Sigma Phi's meetings will follow. Lastly, Article V sets forth an attendance policy for the prudential committee. Article VI is all about voting. It describes the different kinds of voting to be used and when to use each one. It establishes the process for voting in new brothers. All issues related to voting are addressed in Article VI.

Constitution (continued)

Article VII is about elections. It sets the date for officer elections. It also gives the process to be used for nominations and requires officers to have a grade point average of 2.55 or greater. Article VIII describes how the finances of Alpha Sigma Phi are to be handled. It describes the payment of dues. This article also sets forth a system of internal controls. This system is designed to prevent any potential corruption. Article IX is about the impeachment process. It details the steps that must be taken in order to remove an officer from his office. It also addresses filling positions that have become vacant due to impeachment or resignation. Article X sets forth academic guidelines for the fraternity to follow. It sets a minimum grade point average and describes actions taken if a brother cannot fulfill his academic requirements. Article XI requires all members to perform a minimum of fifteen service hours per semester.

Past Events

On Saturday March 18, Alpha Sigma Phi had a successful service event. Twenty brothers and select alumni helped with the Adopt a Highway project.

On Wednesday night, March 22, Alpha Sigma Phi held its first mixer with the ladies from Zeta Tau Alpha. The theme of the night was "White Trash Bash." Everyone dressed up in the most "country" clothes they had. While no awards were formally given out, brothers JD Poetsch and Mike Machovec both receive special mentions for their attire.

On March 24-26, Alpha Sigma Phi took a brotherhood retreat down to Carolina Beach to campout for the weekend. Brothers camped out on the beach.
