HOT OFF THE PRESS!!

Very soon, chapters will be receiving their copy of the 1986 edition of The Alumni Directory of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. The directory was published by Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company in White Plains, N. Y. after the extensive process of locating and updating the addresses of thousands of Alpha Sigs. One of the great benefits of this publication has been the relocation of many brothers who until recently had to be labeled as "lost." The current addresses of all Alpha Sig brothers have been printed in a handsome blue hardbound edition and offered to the alumni so they can keep up with their contemporaries. To make finding someone easier, brothers are listed alphabetically by chapter, geographically by state and also with an alphabetical index.

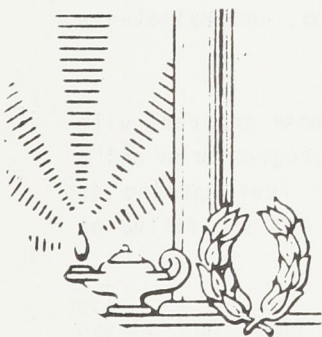

Chapters are encouraged to use the directory to help augment their alumni relations program: The geographical listing is especially helpful in locating alumni in close proximity to chapters to help with special projects, locating an advisor or having a brother come over to the house to speak on his career. Executive Director Rob Sheehan has stated, "We're very excited about this new edition of the directory, and are hopeful it will tighten those bonds of brotherhood throughout America."

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED FOR TO BETTER THE MAN

Currently, a revision of To Better The Man is in the works, and scheduled for completion at the first of the new year. A major part of the revision is to update many of the photographs throughout the manual. If your chapter has some excellent photos (preferably black and white) send them to the National Headquarters, 24 West William Street, Delaware, OH 43015 by November 10, 1986.

The types of photographs that will be used are close-ups of brothers (group shots don't reproduce well) wearing letters. Settings that are needed include: brothers studying, participating in service projects, intramurals and social activities. The best photos of social activities are those that do not depict brothers consuming alcohol, or appearing intoxicated. If you'd like to see you and the brothers of your chapter in the new edition of To Better The Man drop some photographs in the mail today!

WINTER AND SPRING OPPORTUNITIES IN NATIONAL PARKS AND FORESTS

For 30 years the Student Conservation Association (SCA) has been offering college students, recent graduates and other persons 18 years old or older the opportunity, through a conservation program involving actual field experience, to develop job skills, gain work experience and cultivate professional contacts in the resource management field.

Through the SCA's Park, Forest & Resource Assistant (PFRA) Program, selected volunteers work independently or assist conservation professionals with such tasks as wildlife surveys, natural history interpretation, backcountry and wilderness patrol, and biological or archaeological research. In return for their efforts, volunteers develop skills and gain experience that often enhance their college education and give them an edge in seeking paid employment with these resource management agencies.

The SCA is presently accepting requests for applications and listings for the 150 positions to be offered during the 1987 winter and spring season. Volunteers this winter and spring will serve in such areas as: Virgin Islands National Park in the Virgin Islands; San Francisco Bay National Wildlife Refuge in California; Everglades National Park in Florida; Yuma District of the Bureau of Land Management in Arizona, Idaho Panhandle National forest in Idaho, and Haleakala National Park in Hawaii.

While carrying out their assignments, selected volunteers to these programs will receive a travel grant for round trip transportation to their program area and a weekly stipend to help offset food and basic living expenses. Free housing is provided by the hosting agency at or near the work site. Positions are filled on a competitive basis.

Positions begin at varying dates throughout the winter and spring. Any person that is interested in participating or learning more about the program should send a postcard requesting "more information" or an "application and listing of the winter/spring Park, Forest & Resource Assistant Positions" to: Student Conservation Association, PO Box 550C, Charlestown, NH 03603, or telephone the SCA at (603) 826-5206/5471.

ZEUS TAKES HARVARD CAMPUS BY STORM

At Harvard College, where fraternities are banned and the Massachusetts state drinking age of 21 is strictly enforced at campus parties, it can be difficult to lure would-be dancers out of their beer-supplied rooms on the weekends.

In the spring, one group of roommates sick of collegiate complacency decided, that what students needed was a place to dance on a regular basis. Before long, Club Zeus opened in a dormitory basement to a packed house of nearly 200 people.

Named after Randy "Mr. Zeus" Weiner, the manager of the operation, Club Zeus was open every Saturday night for students who liked to dance but, because of the drinking age, couldn't take advantage of any of Boston's many night spots.

Weiner and roommate Matthew Annenberg, both from New York City, tried to give the club an aura similar to several famous discos in New York known for, among other things, constantly changing decor. Two other roommates were called on to help implement their plans: one, a popular campus DJ, played progressive dance music and another, a freelance fashion photographer, adorned the interior with pictures from his impressive portfolio.

"The only thing that differentiates us from an authentic club is that we serve no alcohol," explains Weiner. "Club Zeus is the Lite beer of discos: tastes great, but less filling."

Although the immediate future of Club Zeus is uncertain, it is an idea whose time has definitely come at Harvard. Comments David Goldberg, a frequent patron, "Like Harvard itself, the hardest part about Club Zeus is getting in."

Career Line

ASKING THE RIGHT QUESTIONS

Most often, when one is preparing for a job interview, most of the preparation revolves around "What will I be asked, and what are the best answers?" Nonetheless, one should also be prepared to ask some questions of the interviewer as well. The following is a list of ten questions suggested by Business Week Careers as helpful to someone interviewing for a job."

10 QUESTIONS TO ASK

- How would you describe a typical day on the job?
- When was my predecessor promoted?
- What kind of training can I expect in the first three months?
- What specific skills or experience would help someone do well in this job?
- Do most managers have advanced degrees? If so, which ones?
- When will the first job performance evaluation take place?
- To whom would I report?
- Will I have a chance to meet people who would be my co-workers?
- Would I be assigned to a specific department, or rotate throughout the organization?
- Does the company anticipate changing the current structure soon?

BETA CHI CHAPTER, AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

BX

The chapter has been diligently working on accomplishing its goals for the 1986-87 academic year. The first goal was to pledge twenty men; on September 22, 1986, the goal was accomplished by pledging twenty-one to the seven points. Next on the list have been projects to improve alumni relations and to utilize the resources of alumni experience in chapter operations. Finally, efforts are underway to restore the house to its original condition when it was built 22 years ago.

GAMMA DELTA CHAPTER, DAVIS & ELKINS COLLEGE

ΓΔ

The brothers of Gamma Delta participated in the 50th Forest Festival of West Virginia held the first week in October. The brothers assisted the Forest Festival Committee by selling souvenirs. The Forest Festival against the spectacular backdrop of the mountain foliage also awarded the chapter the opportunity to visit with the many alumni who returned for the annual festival.

The chapter also reports improvements to the Hall and its grants including painting, new furniture, and some new landscaping near the patio. The Brothers are very active on campus with Jim Pusch serving as manager of the student pub, involved with the campus radio station as well as the varsity soccer, golf, and cross country teams.

GAMMA CHI CHAPTER, INDIANA UNIVERSITY

ΓΧ

The summer and a great deal of alumni support have resulted in several renovations to the Gamma Chi chapter house. The house library and TV rooms were refurbished with new furniture, paint and carpeting. The TV room also received a new large screen television - for free - when Max Barger won a Max Headroom look-a-like contest at the Bloomington Mall. The outside of the chapter house also received a facelift with new landscaping.

To get the year off to the best start possible, the 'H' officers held a retreat to evaluate problems, concerns and the strengths of the chapter and then developed their plan of action for the semester. The meeting was concluded with pizza - always a special way to show appreciation to hard working officers.
