OF ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Past

Future

From Our GSP

The start of a New Year will hopefully bring peace and prosperity to you, your family, and the entire world. This issue of The Tomahawk is a reflection on the past year and what we have accomplished as a brotherhood. I am very proud of the fraternity's and foundation's progress over the past year. In a difficult economic and social climate we continue to accomplish our mission to create and perpetuate brotherhood. Please take time to review the annual report and fraternity history articles in this issue. In addition, visit our website at www.alphasigmaphi.org. On the resources page you will find the first ever Grand Council Annual Report to the Membership. This report provides valuable insights into the issues facing the fraternity and the results we have achieved.

The foundation, through your generous financial support, continues to provide significant funding to the education programs of the Fraternity. Though the downturn in the financial markets has limited the amount to much less than in the past several years, the foundation continues to provide great stewardship and support to Alpha Sigma Phi. The fraternity has adjusted to the new economic reality and revamped our delivery system for our programs. We will impact over 300 young men this year through our Ralph F. Burns Leadership Institute and Academy of Leadership. In addition, over 200 undergraduates have participated in our recruitment symposiums. The impact of this new program is already being felt with an increase in the number of new members over the same period last year. Even in tough times, our fraternity continues to grow and prosper.

Our success is achieved entirely through the hard work and dedication of each brother to Alpha Sigma Phi. This dedication takes many forms: a financial gift to the foundation, hours given to our chapters by chapter advisors and dedicated alumni, and the hard work and dedication to our values by each of our undergraduate members. If we could get each member to donate their time or resources to our cause, we could accomplish even more! I encourage you to give back to Alpha Sigma Phi. As you can see, we are achieving great things and can use your support. Remember, the cause is hidden, the results well known.

Phi,

Search Begins For New CEO

INDIANAPOLIS – Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity Inc. has announced that Tom Hinkley, Indiana '84, will retire from his position as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Fraternity at the conclusion of his current contract.

Tom will continue to serve as President and CEO until a replacement is named. The Grand Council will begin the selection process in the coming months. A selection committee will be formed during the Grand Councils winter meeting in February.

To recommend a brother for CEO, request more information, or to apply for the position, please contact the committee via email at gsp@alphasigmaphi.org or candidates can submit their resume and letter of interest to:

Brother Hinkley lead the Fraternity for the past six years, and under his leadership we've added 14 chapters, introduced the Ralph F. Burns Leadership Institute, and thrived during exceptionally challenging financial times.

"Tom guided us well through these rough waters, and we thank him for his service, dedication, and brotherhood," said John Gibson, Indiana '85, Alpha Sigma Phi's Grand Senior President. "Thanks to Tom's leadership, the Fraternity is in an extremely strong position and poised for many future years of growth and success."

Tom's tenure as CEO was synonymous with commitment, service, and professionalism. We look forward to a continued relationship with Tom and to more opportunities for the brotherhood to benefit from his many leadership skills.

Seattle is a long way from Jacksonville - from one corner of the country to another; from the semi-muggy to the semi-nippy.

Yet, the long bonds of Brotherhood proved warm and close at hand.

Last autumn, my wife Lauren and I had the opportunity to visit with the Brothers of Mu Chapter at the University of Washington. Bob Strecker, Mu '78, the Grand Chapter Advisor, hosted, and introduced us to the magic of Brotherhood, alive and well in the Pacific Northwest.

The Chapter, which was founded in 1912, resides in its grand house along 19th Avenue, in the heart of the University's thriving Greek community tucked along side the campus. We were greeted by the Brothers with dinner and song and great conversation about the Chapter, its accomplishments and its challenges.

While the Brothers gathered for a mixer with a neighboring sorority, Bob took me to the basement to visit the Chapter room. There I was once again reminded of the truly indelible nature of Alpha Sigma Phi. Bob pointed out faces from 25-year-old composites of Brothers familiar to me from my visit to Mu as a young staff consultant in 1980. He spoke with pride of the accomplishments of many of those men, now successful in business, the military and in public service.

But what struck me were the images of Bob himself - former HM, former HSP - smiling the same smile I was now witnessing. His eyes and words were filled with deep passion for the Fraternity, then and now. Muffled laughter of young men and women drifted from the floor above us and for a brief moment we were both transported back to those exhilarating days of youth. And Bob desired for them all to experience the depth of Brotherhood, to live the ritual and to share in our lifetime bonds.

Many, many miles separate Mu from Alpha Sigma Phi's other Chapters on the West Coast. Many more miles separate them all from our traditional strength in the Midwest. But men like Bob Strecker, in quiet, deliberate ways melt time and distance. Our Brotherhood knows no limits.

And Alpha, Sigma and Phi, are kept alive and well for us to share.

History Becomes

The Most Significant Events in Alpha Sigma Phi History

Alpha Sigma Phi's Grand Historian, Robert Kutz, University of California, Berkeley '67, took time to discuss what he believes are the most significant events that have impacted our fraternity and who we are today.

Chronologically, Brother Kutz defines the following as organization-changing times:

December 6, 1845

We've all memorized this date. Three men at Yale created a fraternity based on morals and high values centered on the concept of Brotherhood. Louis Manigault, Horace Spangler Weiser and Stephen Ormsby Rhea – three freshmen – set in motion the beginning of a strong national organization.

"I don't think these men had the notion they would be responsible for creating a brotherhood of thousands, still entrenched in the ideals they set out to foster," said Brother Kutz. "It's interesting to imagine what it was like in their world at the time and realize how those standards have maintained our success over many years."

If you put yourself in their shoes on that day, you can gain a new appreciation for the magnitude of this event.

Year 1907

During this time, six Yale students revived the Alpha Chapter and were initiated by the sole surviving chapter (Delta at Marietta College), which began Alpha Sigma Phi's new existence as a true national fraternity. Two of the second founders added strength to the foundation and direction we maintain today: Wayne M. Musgrave, who was Grand Junior President and executive officer for a dozen years, and Edmund Waterbury, who revived and edited The Tomahawk for eight years.

"The value of becoming a national fraternity was expansion," says Kutz. "Even though we were older than many of the fraternal organizations of the time, with this new existence, we were able to better compete and build new chapters on campuses all over the country," he added.

Years 1936 – 1976

This was the Ralph Burns era, the man who guided Alpha Sigma Phi out of the hardship of the Great Depression and the operational disruption of the Second World War. Under his leadership, the bar was raised and we emerged as an organization revered for our tradition of high standards.

“Ralph Burns’ leadership exemplified the character of the fraternity. He instilled integrity, trustworthiness and honor into our existence. He was an inspirational leader who set the tone for our success,” said Kutz.

For those of us who experienced his charisma, it’s hard to imagine where we would be without his leadership. For all of us benefiting from his tenure, “we should be very thankful for his dedication and appreciative of his legacy,” added Brother Kutz.

Year 1946

This is the year Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Kappa Pi solidified into one organization.

Alpha Kappa Pi was well placed primarily in smaller colleges east of the Mississippi River and had a stronger presence in the south. The union helped rebuild the fraternity from the damaging effects of World War II.

“We lost many chapters with the war,” said Kutz. “Merging with Alpha Kappa Pi really strengthened our presence in the South and Northeast,” he added.

“With this new strength we were able to revive the chapters closed by war and build the fraternity to over 60 chapters by the early 1950s, up from the 17 active chapters we had at the close of hostilities in 1945.

Early 1990s

The Kleinoeder Bequest of $6 million to the Endowment Fund had a marked impact on Alpha Sigma Phi’s ability to further our commitment to education and leadership training.

“Over the years the Foundation made great strides, but it wasn’t until this tremendous shot in the arm were we able to use income from the endowment to hire resources for education and leadership programs such as the Academy of Leadership and the Ralph F. Burns Leadership Institute,” Kutz said. “It ultimately set us apart from other fraternities. This was a quantum leap for us,” said Kutz.

A lifetime of experiences, lessons and events shape the men we become. No matter how insignificant it might seem at the time, all our encounters – and our beliefs – impact us in some way.

The same is true for an organization. Over 158 years and 50,000 brothers have made their mark on Alpha Sigma Phi, charting the course for another century of existence. ★

Welcome Denis Beaudoin

The Alpha Sigma Phi Educational Foundation is pleased to announce that Brother Denis Beaudoin, Ohio Wesleyan '01, has joined the staff as the Director of Development. You may remember Denis as the Director of Alumni Relations with the Fraternity back in 2001-02. He returns to the organization after a stint as a consultant where he further honed his sales training, people development and project management skills. "We are excited to have Denis join our staff," said Ted Kocher, President of the Foundation. "He is very detailed oriented and brings a great deal of enthusiasm to our organization."

With prior careers in public safety, sales and human resource development Brother Beaudoin brings a wealth of experiences, knowledge and brotherhood to bear for the good of Alpha Sigma Phi Educational Foundation. He previously graduated from Truman University in Missouri (formerly Northeast Missouri State University) in 1987.

In his new position he will take the lead in project managing all annual giving and planned giving activities and campaigns. Along with Ted Kocher and Grace Cloud, he will round out the Educational Foundation staff. He can be reached at the Ralph F. Burns Alpha Sigma Phi Headquarters at 317.843.1911 or by e-mail at denis@alphasigmaphi.org. ★

Leadership and Education

A Look at What's New,
What's Happening and When

Leadership is a process, rather than a position.

If Alpha Sigma Phi is to consistently fulfill its mission – “To Better the Man” – we must foster leaders. “True leadership encompasses several experiences that ultimately build better men, better brotherhoods and a better society for self and others,” says Ed Lenane, SUNY Plattsburgh '88, Director of Leadership Development.

To that end, we have several programs planned for brotherhood leadership education in 2004.

Grand Chapter

The 2004 Grand Chapter will be held July 23rd - 25th in Columbus, Ohio.

The 2004 Grand Chapter will be hosted at the Adams Mark hotel in downtown Columbus, OH. During the Grand Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, delegates from Chapters, Colonies and Alumni Councils will serve on one of several convention committees and will debate and vote upon legislative issues of the fraternity. Opening Ceremonies of the Grand Chapter will take place on July 23rd and close on the morning of July 25th. The Celebration of Brotherhood Awards Banquet is scheduled for July 24th. More information will be posted soon on www.alphasigmaphi.org.

Academy of Leadership

Since 1993, Alpha Sigma Phi has shown its commitment to the development of leadership and integrity within our chapters, colonies and interest groups with the Academy of Leadership. During this program, attendees gather at the Ralph F. Burns Fraternity Headquarters for three days of intense personal development and leadership training. We believe that one key to a successful and enduring chapter lies in the leadership of its officers. Therefore, Alpha Sigma Phi has committed itself to ensuring that the undergraduate President is taught how to lead and guide their chapter with integrity and skill.

Four Academy of Leadership programs have taken place this year. Three programs are geared for chapter presidents and one for chapter advisors.

Ralph F. Burns Leadership Institute

The Ralph F. Burns Leadership Institute is a weekend experience designed to bring together the newest members of Alpha Sigma Phi in the Mystic Circle of brotherhood and explore the ideals and possibilities of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Participants of the Ralph F. Burns Leadership Institute share brotherhood that extends beyond their own chapters, challenge themselves and each other to delve into the core purpose of Alpha Sigma Phi, to prepare for the future by dreaming about the future of the Fraternity, and to create their personal legacy for the Fraternity.

Over 230 brothers attended one of the six regional Institutes hosted at YMCA or similar camps in January: Medford, NJ; King, NC; Hopwood, PA; Bellefontaine, OH; Seattle, WA; and Princeton, IN.

Recruitment Symposium

New this year, Alpha Sigma Phi implemented the Recruitment Symposium, which is a half-day regional workshop open to all brothers interested in creating and perpetuating brotherhood with values-centered prospects.

“The symposium has been well received,” says Ed Lenane. “Participants begin to understand the reason for their current recruitment challenges and learn a systematic approach to improve quality and quantity of membership.”

So far we've held six successful programs on campuses (Penn State University, Western Michigan, Purdue, Ohio State, University of Washington, and Virginia Tech). The programs have been a success, with over 250 brothers attending.

Membership Development Program

The Pinnacle Journey, the new Membership Development program of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, is scheduled to be introduced this summer at the 2004 Grand Chapter in Columbus, OH. This program will compliment our existing leadership development programs by providing a long-term strategy designed to ensure that Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity remains a vital and viable organization for years to come. “The Pinnacle Journey is an exciting membership development program that will help all members attain a greater understanding of our ritual, become a better Brother, and successfully meet the challenge of living our ritual everyday,” says Ed Lenane.

Alpha Sigma Phi invests in the future of our most valuable resource – that of a brother. Through the programs listed in this article, Alpha Sigma Phi instills the fundamental values of patriotism, scholarship, character, loyalty, and service. ★

When a brother passes on to the Omega Chapter, a piece of each one of us goes with him. This year, we lost Brother Guil Gerlach (Zeta '43), but his spirit lives on through his more than generous – million dollar – donation to our Educational Foundation.

Born August 23, 1924 in Indianapolis, IN, Gerlach graduated from Upper Arlington High School in Columbus, Ohio. He served in the U.S. Army for three years during Wise, along with Alpha Sigma Phi leadership were surprised about the size of Brother Gerlach's gift. No one knew how much the fraternity meant to him . . . and we may never know.

"We were notified in 1995 that Guil named us as beneficiary of a charitable remainder trust, but at the time he declined to approximate the gift," said Ted Kocher, President and CEO of Alpha Sigma Phi Educational Foundation. "I believe his gesture demonstrates equipment and other materials. So far, a portable LCD projector, screen, DVD-VHS combo player, 32" television with cart and many training videos have been purchased. "With the tight budgets of the past couple of years, it was not possible to secure these items and the Thurston's made it possible".

"This is a little way for us to remember Guil Gerlach and his special gift", Stan Thurston mentioned as one of his reasons for the gift.

A Million Reasons to Say Thank You

World War II, and then attended Ohio State University where he became a brother of the Zeta Chapter in 1943.

"Guil was a serious brother," said Al Wise, Baldwin-Wallace '43. "He was a very good student who never lived in the chapter house or took part in many social aspects of the chapter but always attended chapter meetings," he remembers.

After earning his bachelor's and master's degrees in chemical engineering, Guil moved to Chicago. He spent 31 years with Amoco Oil Company (now part of British Petroleum) and retired to Wickenburg, Arizona where he continued his lifelong passion for traveling. He was also an avid bridge player, participating often in his country club's social games.

Brother Wise says while Guil didn't attend many alumni functions, he always sent a personal note saying he couldn't make it. "He did make it to two of our mini-reunions with guys from the '40s," he added.

that brothers care about the Old Gal even if they can't remain as involved with their chapter as they may like to. This illustrates that we truly are brothers for life."

Surely the donation was Guil's way to show his dedication to the Old Gal. While we couldn't thank him for his generosity in life, we can honor the man we can be proud to call Brother.

The Guil Gerlach Training Room now has training equipment thanks to Stan and Dotty Thurston. After the Trustees decided to name the training room after Brother Gerlach, Stan and Dotty Thurston made a gift to round out the furnishing of the room with the latest audio and visual technology. This gift will enable the Old Gal to better train our brothers.

"Stan and Dotty are special people who truly love Alpha Sigma Phi," stated Ted Kocher, President of the Educational Foundation. They made this gift because of the need for training

"Though I never personally met Guil, he obviously cared deeply for our great fraternity."

If you would like to learn more about your planned giving options, please call Ted Kocher, President and CEO, at (317) 843-1911 or visit www.alphasigmaphi.org. ★

What Alpha Sigma Phi means to me

Do you mind if we ask you a personal question?

“What does Alpha Sigma Phi mean to you?” Every brother channels that question through his mind in a unique way. We asked a select group of Chapter Presidents what thoughts entered their hearts when they considered this question.

"Alpha Sigma Phi means brotherhood, trust, and loyalty to one another. There is something special about Alpha Sigma Phi that sets it apart from all the other fraternities. One thing that Alpha Sigma Phi has taught me is to never give up. We should stick together through thick and thin, have faith in our brothers, and work as a team."

Dana Watts
HSP- Beta Delta Chapter
Marshall University

"We are a family where each member is dedicated to helping his brothers succeed in facing all challenges in life. The concept of Alpha Sigma Phi also transfers that helpfulness and caring to the communities in which we live. A main ingredient to helping yourself is to help others. Alpha Sigma Phi relies on its members to teach responsibility, whether it be in the fraternity or in other aspects of life."

Dave Weibe
HSP- Beta Gamma Chapter
Bethany College

"My brothers are my bond, and this is a bond that can never be broken. When we wear our letters we uphold an image that is unlike any other fraternity. It's an image of leadership, patriotism, and integrity. To me Alpha Sigma Phi is something that is in my blood and will be with me forever."

Matt Cline
HSP- Epsilon Xi Chapter
McDaniel College

"Alpha Sigma Phi means always having a best friend, laughing till you can't breathe anymore, disagreeing with a brother, but still having respect for him. It means always having an ear to listen, someone there to pick you up when you fall, someone who will help you celebrate or help you grieve. Alpha Sigma Phi means lifelong friendships. Memories to last an eternity. Brotherhood that will last forever."

Brett Keohan
HSP- Delta Tau Chapter
Murray State University

"Alpha Sigma Phi is a lifelong brotherhood built on brotherly love, leadership, scholarship, and service through our sacred ritual to better the man."

Brian Hendricks
HSP- Delta Phi Chapter
Grand Valley State University

"Alpha Sigma Phi is the unit that binds a common identity together. Being an Alpha Sig means striving to be a leader and a role model to benefit the community."

Together, the brotherhood of Theta Chapter works to exemplify this goal by learning and growing from our college experience in order to develop into men of character. Day to day I try to work toward this goal recognizing that the purpose of Alpha Sigma Phi is to better the man."

Dan King
HSP- Theta Chapter
University of Michigan

"Alpha Sigma Phi means that I am part of something that few men have the opportunity to be a part of. The brotherhood that we enter when we are initiated into Alpha Sigma Phi is one that existed nearly 150 years before many of us were even born. Meeting brothers from other chapters across the country has shown me that I truly belong in this fraternity, and that I can count on any one of the men that I share this brotherhood with."

Evan Derr
HSP- Epsilon Theta Chapter
Otterbein College

"When I think of Alpha Sigma Phi, I think of brotherhood, leadership, and scholarship. Alpha Sigma Phi is everything I was looking for in a collegiate experience and will be a fraternity for me for life. Alpha Sigma Phi has taught me many things about life that I could not have gotten anywhere else."

I have many things to thank this fraternity for, but most importantly I have the lifelong friendships and bonds that I have created with men of many different walks of life and in many different regions of this country. Alpha Sigma Phi is a fraternity for men to better themselves and others all the while making their fraternal experience the best that it can be. In short, only one word comes to mind when I think of this fraternity: priceless."

Richard Jackson: Brotherhood Personified

Brother Richard "Dick" Jackson, Ohio Wesleyan '50, has left his mark on hundreds of young men who today, thanks to his service, have a home at Ohio Wesleyan University – Jackson's Alma Mater.

"It was in the early 1990s when a group of Ohio Wesleyan students decided they wanted to form their own fraternity. Many of the existing organizations mistreated women and abused alcohol, and there were not many options available representing the morals and standards they personally upheld," said Brother Jackson.

The group found Brother Jackson and together they set out to recharter the Alpha Sigma Phi Epsilon Chapter, which had dissolved in the early 1970s, a process that turned out to be a test of will and determination that would take years to finalize.

"After following the required procedures and applications, the university denied our request for affiliation," Dick said. "It wasn't until a fair-minded man became dean that we finally got the approval."

It also helped that the Epsilon Chapter had grown to become the largest fraternity on campus with the highest cumulative grade point average.

But this was years later. In the meantime, Alpha Sigma Phi's national leadership granted the chapter the charter, even without university acceptance.

Impressed with the caliber of young men in the Epsilon Chapter, Brother Jackson stayed on and served as Grand Chapter Advisor. In 2000 he stepped down and assumed the role of a general advisor and member of the Housing Corp.

He is humbled and proud that the Fraternity has honored him with membership in Delta Beta Xi and in 2002 with the Evan C. Varner Distinguished Service Award.

Brother Jackson says he has also felt honored to be associated with this group of outstanding young men. "I have said many times that I would be proud to have any of them as a son, although my wife reminded me I should change that to grandson."

In fact, he does have a grandson who is a brother: Brian Jackson, an Alpha Sig at Tri-State University.

In 1987, Brother Jackson retired as Senior Vice President of St. John's Regional Medical Center in Joplin, Missouri and returned home to Delaware. Dick and his wife, Janet, will spend this winter in Bradenton, Florida and then relocate to Durham, North Carolina.

"We're excited about this new stage of our lives," says Jackson. "The best is truly yet to come." ★

What is Loyalty?

What is Loyalty? Merriam Webster dictionary defines loyalty as, "The tie binding a person to something to which he is loyal." Loyalty is further defined as, "faithful to a cause, ideal, or custom." As a perpetual member of the brotherhood which is Alpha Sigma Phi we are committed to its values or "cause." There are several ways to show our "tie" or loyalty to Alpha Sigma Phi; one of which is through a gift to the annual Loyalty Fund.

By giving annually you reaffirm your "tie" to supporting Alpha Sigma Phi's "cause" of building leadership skills and brotherhood in today's young men!

Show your Loyalty. Don't wait. Make your gift to the Loyalty Fund TODAY.

Alpha Sigma Phi's Finest

Todd Harris

Todd Harris, Alpha Zeta '91, is a political consultant whose most recent project was working as a spokesperson for Arnold Schwarzenegger's campaign for California governor.

"At the time I was so engrossed in the business at hand that there was no time to think about how big, or little, the project you are working on might be," says Todd. "It wasn't until I got back home that I realized what had become quite a phenomenon."

Aside from being the most nationally – and internationally – recognized campaign of his career, Todd maintains that it wasn't so different than any other.

"It's great that he is a movie star, but my real respect for Arnold Schwarzenegger was as a candidate, and what he stood for. That was far more interesting to me than his super star status," said Todd.

Looking back on the two-month whirlwind campaign, Brother Harris has taken time to appreciate moments he'll never forget. Election day in particular, Todd was with Schwarzenegger and several friends, family members and campaign staffers.

"There was Arnold and Maria, Maria's parents Eunice and Sergeant Shriver, Jay Leno, Rob Lowe, Ivan Reitman and others," he remembers. "I leaned over to a friend of mine on the campaign and said, 'What on earth am I doing here?'"

Brother Harris graduated from UCLA with a degree in History. His first job out of college was as Alpha Sigma Phi's first director of expansion, a position which he says "finetuned my political and organizational skills."

Todd Harris (right) with Florida Governor Jeb Bush.

"I didn't realize it at the time, but my Alpha Sig experience prepared me for the work I do today," says Todd. "Building a new chapter, working with all levels of a university, the media, etc., is similar to working on a campaign. I am glad for that opportunity and highly recommend that undergraduate brothers consider working with the organization on the national level."

The very first chapter Brother Harris started was at Murray State. Although he has not been back to Murray in over 10 years, Todd is proud to know that it's still a strong chapter. "I think it would be great to go back and see how the chapter has progressed with my own eyes," said Todd.

After one and a half years with the fraternity, Todd hooked up with the California Republican Party. Doing everything from making photocopies to answering phones, he had the opportunity to use his writing and speaking skills to expand his duties, ultimately making a name for himself in the industry.

"There are so few people who do what I do that through networking and word of mouth, I've been lucky enough to build a fairly busy consulting career," Todd said.

Harris has also lived overseas advising the government of the Republic of Croatia on political communications and message development. He has done extensive political communications training and consulting in several nations including Cambodia, Bulgaria, Serbia, the Former Soviet Republic of Georgia, and the world's newest nation, the Democratic Republic of East Timor.

But he does make time for friends and family.

A few days after the California governor's race, Brother Harris hopped a plane to Maui for a fellow Alpha Sig brother's wedding. "We all graduated from UCLA over 10 years ago, and still all of the groomsmen and the best man were Alpha Sigs," he said. "That says a lot about how my undergrad experience continues to impact my life." ★

State of the Fraternity

By John B. Gibson, Jr., Grand Senior President

More than two hundred years have passed since Greek Letter organizations first appeared on America's college campuses. Their primary mission was to promote scholarship, service, and relationship development. And since 1845, chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity have endeavored to promote these same principles through academic achievement, community service, character and leadership development.

Much has changed in American society since the 19th century. For better or worse, we now live in a more secular, more fast-paced, more individually isolating world where many of the institutions people once relied upon to help them connect with their fellow citizens have faded in to the background or been cast upon the dust heap of progress. Our Fraternity, and the Greek system we operate within, has labored against these same tides and in too many cases barely remained afloat as a viable mechanism to support a healthy and happy undergraduate experience. More and more Greek systems are embattled by administrations that see nothing but liability in our Greek letters. Too many chapters close as they fail to recruit members who share our vision of Brotherhood. We can reverse this trend...we must if future generations are to enjoy the exhilaration and empowerment that comes from being part of the Alpha Sigma Phi society! That is the mission of your Grand Council.

But one thing has not changed in all these years; the value of good character and the awesome power for individual and social good that can be achieved when men of good character band together as brothers. That was the vision laid out by Louis Manigault and his fellow Yale mates on a cold December night in 1845, a vision that remains as applicable to each of us today as it was then. A vision captured in our ritual and mission ... to create and perpetuate brotherhood.

Throughout its history, Alpha Sigma Phi has been committed to helping its undergraduates, chapters, and alumni become successful in their quest to better the man. That commitment continues today as your Grand Council and headquarters staff embraces a new governance model designed to focus our efforts and sustain a governance/management environment conducive to progress. At the core of this new governance model is the definition of relationships... relationships between the Grand Council and our professional headquarters staff and between the Council and you, the fraternity's "owners." No less than a true paradigm shift, our evolving governance model will set us on a more powerful, more sensible, more responsible track.

We encourage your feedback as we work to ensure Alpha, Sigma and Phi will be there for generations to come. ★

State of the Foundation

By Stan Thurston, Chair, Educational Foundation Board of Trustees

It is difficult to believe that it was only four years ago this past June the Educational Foundation hired its first full-time president and staff totally dedicated to the work and mission of the Foundation. This move has made it possible to accomplish a great deal. I am pleased to summarize our activity in the following four areas of emphasis.

1. The primary function of the Foundation is to support the education and charitable endeavors of undergraduates through scholarships, leadership schools and other programs. A closely related responsibility of the Foundation is to protect our 501(c)3 tax-exempt status.

Our Grants Committee under the leadership of Bill Christ, Davis & Elkins '59 is continuing to execute and refine the somewhat formal process we as a board go through in awarding and administering educational grants. In order to fully comply with IRS regulations and to be good stewards for the Foundation, we carefully study and evaluate the educational purpose and budget of each grant request. For those grants that are subsequently approved, attention is given to funding of the actual expenditures as documented along with requiring a thoughtful analysis and evaluation of the results. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003 the Foundation granted a total of $361,526 to promote scholarship and leadership throughout Alpha Sigma Phi.

2. Another extremely important responsibility of the Foundation is to invest our assets wisely and insure our long-term survival by protecting our corpus. The Investment Committee under the leadership of Alan Breedlove, Penn State '77 has helped guide the Foundation through a very difficult investment period by following a sound, disciplined approach.

This included:

- a thorough review and update of the Foundation's Investment Policy Statement;
- identifying allocation targets among key asset classes (e.g., value stocks, growth stocks, and bonds);
- developing a rebalancing strategy to take advantage of market swings;
- identifying and hiring professional investment managers;
- and measuring the Foundation performance in relation to indices and investment manager peers.

While our investment returns have generally been negative over this difficult market period, we have clearly out-performed our peers and our 2003 performance thus far is strongly positive. The several years of down markets have also caused us to reduce the amount of our educational grants to the Fraternity as well as cut our own operating expenses while maintaining a constant, upbeat presence with you, our brothers. It is encouraging to participate in the current rebound by the financial markets but we remain prepared to make further funding and operating cuts if the markets begin to collapse again. It is our goal to bring greater stability to our annual funding of educational grants.

3. The engine that propels our charitable mission is our successful fund raising as this is truly the source of our educational grants. In recent years we have been able to raise approximately $200,000 from our annual Loyalty Fund campaign. During 2002-2003 we experienced a small decline in donors to 1,227 and a slight increase in the amount pledged to an average of $141 per donor. Going forward our goal is to re-energize the spirit of annual giving across a broader segment of our brotherhood.

Planned Giving results for the year were highly successful as we added nine brothers to the Manigault Society and realized three planned gifts totaling approximately $1,000,000. The three gifts were from Brothers Guil Gerlach, Ohio State '43; Ralph Brown, Lehigh '32; and Robert Kohman, Yale '40. We are also wrapping up the successful New Headquarters campaign that has resulted in a very practical and yet inspirational facility dedicated to Ralph Burns. It functions well for meetings, conferences and our official headquarters office. If you are in Indianapolis, please feel free to visit the new facility. You will be impressed with our Archives Room that proudly displays our heritage.

4. I will refer to our Foundation's fourth area of emphasis as Operations and Governance. First, our Audit Committee under the leadership of Luther Campbell, Pennsylvania '47 has increased the effectiveness and efficiency of our bookkeeping function and has raised the quality of our financial statements and audit. This was accomplished in part by addressing various valuation issues relating to donations of property, the carrying value of chapter endowment funds, tightening cash flow management and obtaining very attractive interim financing for the new headquarters project. Given the litigious environment today, we have also spent significant time better understanding the Foundation's potential liability exposure and pursuing ways to minimize it.

The Foundation has been truly blessed with committed and talented trustees and committee members. The business, professional and life experiences represented are exemplary. To maintain and build on this advantage there is an ongoing effort by the Board Development Committee under the leadership of Ric Middlekauff, Oregon State '61 to identify and recruit volunteers. In the past year we welcomed Ron Fischer, Indiana '69 to the board of trustees and saw the retirement and departure of John Kauffman, Purdue '43 and Norman Hadsell, Ohio Wesleyan '52. We wish them well and thank them for their many contributions over the years.

The current year will bring new challenges and changes. Under the very able leadership of our President, Ted Kocher, Findlay '92, the Foundation staff will contract to three full-time employees and one part-time bookkeeper. In addition to the Planned Giving and Loyalty Fund efforts, a new Chapter Endowment Fund Program will be created this year. Working in conjunction with local Alpha Sigma Phi chapters and housing groups, the Educational Foundation will make available certain capabilities relating to professional fund management and fund raising along with the possibility of gaining federal tax deductibility for qualified donors for supporting the educational and leadership needs of the local chapter. We are excited about the potential of this new program which is set up similarly as local Community Foundations and more details will be forthcoming.

In this time of world turmoil, it is now more important than ever that we either start or continue our Alpha Sigma Phi "spirit of giving" to ensure young men have a solid foundation upon which to build. Your act of giving makes a difference! The Foundation is committed to providing you comprehensive assistance with your gift vehicles such as cash, stocks, bonds, real estate, etc.

If you would like to learn more about joining the Manigault Society, have questions about Planned Giving options or have questions about the Loyalty Fund, please call Ted Kocher, President or Denis Beaudoin, Ohio Wesleyan '01, Director of Development at 317-843-1911 or visit www.alphasigmaphi.org. If you have questions about this article or anything about the Foundation, please call me, Stan Thurston, Iowa State '66 at 515-875-4680. ★

CHAPTER NEWS

Bentley College

The brothers of Epsilon Mu organized and hosted a charity event for underprivileged elementary school kids in the community. Each child got a big brother buddy to hang out with during their stay. They were taken to a Bentley College basketball game and afterwards, got to participate in a basketball camp for the kids. The brothers ended the event with a kids versus brothers basketball game. The event was a lot of fun and a huge success. The brothers of Epsilon Mu are growing and working to spread the ideals of Alpha Sigma Phi on our campus and to the community at large.

The Beta Gamma chapter rush party was a hit! We had the largest turnout than any other fraternity. The Ghost Trails function included ghost stories and it was a huge success with nearly 150 people showing up to listen. The brothers also held a coin drive for CCI and raised $300 in change.

Binghamton University

The Epsilon Nu chapter has taken an active role in Greek life on campus. The brothers put in a lot of effort recently to win the Greek Week and Greek God competitions. Our chapter welcomed back our alumni, including Phi Theta Colony, and we all worked together to establish the Epsilon Nu Alumni Association.

Elmhurst College

The Delta Chi chapter has recently initiated ten pledges into the fraternity. They are a great addition to the chapter and will contribute great things to the fraternity. We recently organized a Greek Community powder puff game on campus. All proceeds were donated to Canine Companions for Independence. Brother Richard Oliverio, Jr. received the Lincoln Laureate Award. This honor is given to one person from each college in Illinois for being at the top of their class in academia.

The brothers of Gamma Pi are looking forward to welcoming their pledge class into the house. We have been busy fundraising for local charities by working concessions at the Cleveland Browns games. Right now, we are currently planning our upcoming social events with our alumni and other Greek organizations.

The brothers at the Epsilon Lambda chapter have been keeping busy with local philanthropies including Habitat for Humanity, the AIDS Walk, the Breast Cancer Awareness Walk, local soup kitchens, campus clean ups, and an Alpha Sig Brother Auction. This semester's pledge class also collected over 100 cans to donate to the "Fill the Yale Bowl" event. A Black Lantern Procession has been planned for the Chapter and the area's Alumni for Founder's Day.

Phi chapter is ready to build on our Homecoming success and take it to the next level during Greek Week this spring. Our homecoming pairing with Delta Tau Delta fraternity and Kappa Delta sorority placed 3rd overall, 2nd in tournaments, and 3rd in lawn display. We also made second cuts in Yell Like Hell. Overall, it has been a great semester!

The Beta Epsilon Chapter has a strong and devoted pledge class coming in this semester. We have enjoyed many social functions that have helped our rushees get to know the brothers. Charity has been a huge success. The chapter raised enough money to donate to a needy family for their Christmas celebration. We hope to raise enough by the end of the year to donate food to a shelter in Bethlehem. We'd like to thank our alumni for generously donating new furniture and TV to the house.

Marshall University

The Beta Delta chapter started this semester off with a great rush. 15 great guys have pledged with Alpha Sigma Phi this year. The brothers are working hard to achieve our service and GPA goals and we have been busy working on our new house. There was a good turnout of Alumni at the Homecoming Dance last month, so thanks to all who showed up. Several of our brothers were shipped overseas. One brother donated a flag that was flown over Afghanistan this summer. We wish all of our brothers the best and pray for your safe return.

Murray State University

The brothers of Delta Tau received the first annual MSU President's Cup for academics and athletics and finished the semester with the highest GPA among the campus fraternities. The chapter is active in campus leadership with brothers holding the positions of President, Vice-President, and Treasurer of the Student Government Association. We have also enjoyed being involved in the Summer Orientation Program, First Year Leaders, and Realities on Campus. The brothers of Delta Tau are looking forward to another awesome semester.

The Alpha Rho chapter has recruited nine associate members this semester. All members have participated in leadership conferences, collected can tops for the Ronald McDonald House, gathered money for Multiple Sclerosis Society, and participated in a campus wide canned food drive for Thanksgiving. The brothers are currently in the process of running a used book drive for children in less fortunate countries.

It has been an amazing year for the Epsilon Chapter. We are celebrating our 140th anniversary of our founding and our 10th anniversary of our re-founding. The celebration was culminated with our annual Sig Bust event with 140 brothers, family, and friends attending. Our chapter is active in the campus community with brothers being involved in men's basketball, track, hockey, and swimming teams, student body president, and the director of a student run acapella music group. Our chapter is setting standards on campus by being award the Dean's award for chapter excellence on campus twice in the past three years.

The Delta Epsilon chapter has recently attended the Recruitment Symposium held at the Zeta chapter at The Ohio State University. We will be using all we learned with our consultant's advice to improve our recruitment process in the future. The chapter has been successful in fundraising and community service this semester. We were able to join the Findlay chapter at the Cleveland football game and work concessions. We also collected on a tribute dance and a basketball shootout. Our brothers put in approximately fifteen hours each on community activities.

The brothers at Delta Delta chapter are proud and honored to be receiving the Brotherhood Development Citation, the Philanthropy Citation, and the Service Citation from the Fraternity this year. The chapter also has two brothers on the Executive Board for the IFC and had the best grades on campus by beating the all men's average.

Submitted by Kevin Hall

Stevens Institute of Technology

The brothers of Alpha Tau have had a wonderful semester. Parents of the current brothers and pledges gathered at the chapter house for the second annual Parent's Day. The parents were able to learn more about the fraternity and its ideals and everyone left knowing why Alpha Sigma Phi was a great fraternity. The chapter would like to welcome and congratulate the newest members: John Hite, Gene Trog, Nick Ruffilo, and Tae Ha.

Submitted by William Merunka

Tri State University

The Beta Omicron chapter has the biggest pledge class in almost 30 years. Every one of the prospective brothers shows outstanding performance and potential. The group is also incredibly diverse, consisting of engineering majors, education majors, and business majors. Already several of the pledges have made plans to further improve the house, and all of them are anxious to become part of the best fraternity in the nation. These young men are the future of Alpha Sigma Phi and what a bright future it is.

The Delta Upsilon Chapter held it's first extremely successful philanthropy event run entirely by the Brotherhood this semester. The event was called Alpha Sig Dog Days and benefited the local Humane Society. The event was built upon the idea of a Pet-A-Thon that we learned about from other Chapters. The three day event consisted of the Pet-A-Thon, a Bachelor Auction, and a chili cook off. Overall, we raised more than $2000 for the Montgomery County Humane Society and we hope to repeat this every year!

OMEGA CHAPTER

(The TOMAHAWK does not assume responsibility for the accuracy of Omega listings. Information from various sources is printed as it is reported to the National Headquarters for record keeping purposes. Ongoing efforts to locate brothers without mailable addresses often reveal names of those who have entered Omega. Some listings therefore are of brothers who have been deceased for some time, but are included for informational purposes and in tribute.)
